5 U. S. SAILORS SHOT AS CHINESE BURN MISSIONS

Red Republic Set Up as Army Loots.

BULLETIN.

SHANGHAI, July 30.—(AP)—Five American sailors were wounded when communists attacked the American gunboat Palos today while the vessel was approaching Changsha. The battle lasted about an hour. About fifty Reds were killed and many more wounded. The communists fired on the gunboat in a narrow section of the river near the northern environs of Changsha. The Palos used her machine guns and three inch rifles at close range, finally silencing the communist fire.

SHANGHAI, July 30.—Communists are in absolute control of Changsha, capital of Hunan province, after a reign of terror that has included torture, death, looting, burning, and destruction of native and foreign properties. A soviet republic has been proclaimed by the Red invaders, who have set about organizing a soviet administration within Changsha.

The destruction of this city of 80,000, a commercial, political, and educational metropolis, began yesterday morning, when government troops refused to defend the city, withdrawing to the east without firing a shot. The occupation was followed by looting and burning of ten government buildings.

Foreign Property Destroyed.

Between forty and fifty foreign properties were destroyed, including the Japanese consulate, the Japanese hospital, and several American missionary churches and residences.

The offices of the Standard and Texas Oil companies were looted, but not burned. The American Yale-in-China university is believed to have escaped destruction. Most of the foreign consulates have been wrecked.

More than 200 foreigners, twenty of them Americans, at the summer resort at Kuling, near Kiukiang, are in grave danger as a result of the communist advance.

American Refuses to Leave.

Four foreigners remain in Changsha. One of them is an American missionary, the Rev. Allen Cameron, who has refused to leave. An American missionary worker, Miss Rugg, is isolated in an adjoining village.

The position of foreigners remaining in the danger zone was further imperiled when American, British, and Japanese gunboats were compelled to withdraw, due to the rapid decline of the water level in the Siang river. The gunboats churned down the river picking up refugees who deserted their possessions to save their lives.

Wealthy Residents Tortured.

A report from Changsha said that the communists tortured to death all wealthy persons who were unable to make their escape.

The burning and looting was carried on in a systematic manner. The city was divided into 50 wards, each administered by a communist leader with a group of riflemen. All power was centered in a supreme soviet committee. Gangs of communists, headed by squads of Red troops, surrounded buildings marked off by the supreme command for depredation.

Orators proclaimed the communist purpose "to distribute the surplus wealth," and selected followers entered the buildings and transported furniture and valuables to the street, where they were auctioned off.

Crowds Invited to Loot.

The proceeds were pocketed, after which the coolies and town riffraff were invited to enter and complete the looting. After this the places were burned and the crowd moved on to the next building scheduled for destruction.

Shortly following the occupation of the city the communists placarded the walls of buildings with offers of rewards of $300 for information as to the whereabouts of foreigners, wealthy Chinese, officials, and members of the staffs of foreign firms. Another proclamation demanded that the merchants raise $1,000,000, to be paid following the completion of the destruction of foreign property; otherwise, the entire city would be burned.

The merchants remaining in the city sent frantic appeals for military assistance, but Gen. Ho Chien, commander of the provincial troops, has disappeared. The communists announced they would behead him should he fall into their hands. There is no word as to the whereabouts of the

SAYS FOSTER IS MAN WHO FLED LINGLE SLAYING

Policeman Witness Points to Him.

A dramatic scene, in which a policeman witness positively identified Frank Foster, gangster under indictment for the murder of Alfred J. Lingle, reporter for THE TRIBUNE, as the man who fled from the scene of the killing, was enacted yesterday in the court of Judge Daniel P. Trude.

Foster was before the court on a motion of his attorneys to obtain his release on bail. Judge Trude continued the case to Sept. 9, declaring that if the state is not ready to go to trial on that date he would release Foster in $25,000 bail.

During the day also the county grand jury was winding up its review of progress made in the Lingle investigation. The jurors heard Charles F. Rathbun, member of THE TRIBUNE law firm and assistant state's attorney in charge of the murder inquiry, and Pat Roche, chief investigator for State's Attorney Swanson. It is expected the jury today will make a statement of its findings.

Policeman Points Out Foster.

The witness who named Foster in connection with the Lingle murder is Policeman Anthony Ruthy, who was directing traffic at Michigan boulevard and Randolph street on June 9 when Lingle was shot to death in the Illinois Central pedestrian subway under the boulevard.

Ruthy appeared to have dealt a blow to the defense by picking out Foster and naming him as the fugitive who is believed to have been the slayer or at least a principal in the plot. When the defense attorneys, Emmett Byrne and Harold Levy, sought to inflict a doubt in Ruthy's mind, he only became the more certain, and finally said he was positive.

Prosecutor Rathbun and Assistant State's Attorney James E. McShane, who conducted the state's end in resisting the motion for bail for Foster, declined to comment on Ruthy's identification of the indicted gunman.

Other Witnesses' Testimony.

Other witnesses have been about unanimous in declaring that the man who fled from the scene of the shooting and was pursued by Ruthy, had blond hair. Foster's hair is black. All the witnesses agreed that the fleeing person did not wear a hat and that his hair was plainly visible.

Policeman Ruthy was at his traffic post when the supposed slayer ran into Michigan boulevard from the subway. As the fugitive hesitated at the southeast corner witnesses called to Ruthy to head him off. The man ran across Randolph street and then across Michigan avenue. Ruthy called out, "Stop that man," and started after him.

The fugitive ran west in Randolph street halfway to Wabash avenue, where he darted into an alley which goes north a half block and turns west into Wabash avenue. He followed the alley, ran across Wabash avenue, and was lost in the shopping crowds. Ruthy said at the inquest that he did not shoot the man because he had no idea a murder had been committed and also because he feared he might wound a pedestrian.

Trial Ordered on Sept. 9.

Before Ruthy was called to the stand yesterday by the defense as their own witness Judge Trude had set Sept. 9 as the date for Foster's trial.

After Ruthy's testimony it was pointed out to the court that murder is not a bailable offense, where the proof is evident or presumption great, and that the defendant's own witness had sworn that Foster fled from the murder scene.

Judge Trude still insisted that if the state is not ready to go to trial with Foster's case on Sept. 9, he would release the gunman on a $25,000 bond. Under the law a defendant is entitled to a trial within three months after making his first demand.

The hearing bristled with acrid remarks exchanged between opposing counsel. At one time Prosecutor Rathbun exclaimed:

"Why all this solicitude for a gangster who hasn't done an honest day's work for the last three years?"

The Questioning of Ruthy.

The questioning of Ruthy, which afforded the high point in the hearing, was conducted by Attorney Levy, who had subpoenaed the policeman as a defense witness. After preliminary questions Ruthy described the man he pursued as 5 feet 10 inches tall, black

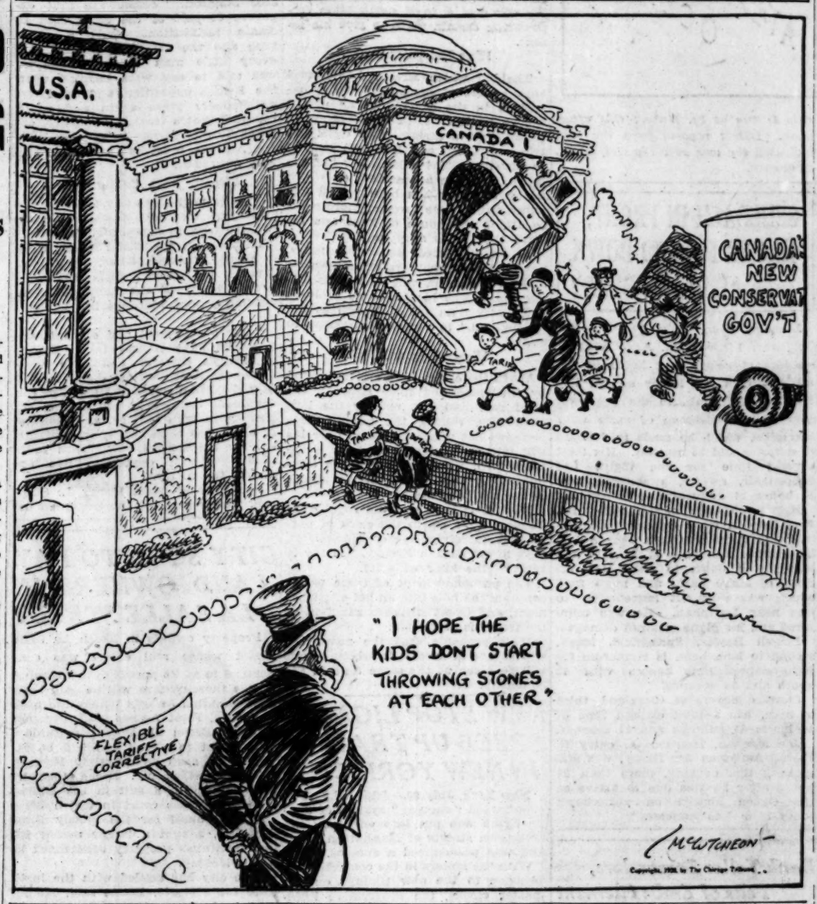
NEIGHBORS LIVING IN GLASS HOUSES



5,000 BATTLE FOR U. S. JOBS AS CHARWOMEN

Washington, D. C., July 30.—(AP)—Five thousand women, many of whom had remained in line all night, today stormed the office of the civil service commission to apply for 200 positions as charwomen in government buildings.

The line began forming at 8 o'clock last night and by midnight had increased to several hundred. Most of the early job-hunters stayed awake all night while the others slept on nearby grassy plots.

Only 1,000 application blanks were distributed and in the scurry for them several hundred women not in line attempted to "crash the gate." Police were forced to struggle with them before restoring order.

There was a silver lining, however, for some of the unsuccessful applicants. A number of Washington matrons, attracted to the scene, took advantage of the opportunity to hire cooks and maids.

BAYARD TO SEEK SENATE POST AS WET CANDIDATE

Wilmington, Del., July 30.—[Special.]—Former United States Senator Thomas Francis Bayard announced here today that he will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for senator on a wet platform. The party convention will be held in September.

Mr. Bayard declared that his platform will favor repeal of the eighteenth amendment and of the recently enacted tariff law.

A native son of Delaware, Mr. Bayard was the fifth member of his family to be a United States senator. He was first elected in 1922 for the balance of an unexpired term and re-elected in 1923, serving until March 4, 1929. For ten years he was chairman of the Democratic state central committee.

Stabbed to Death in Row Over Scratched Fender

Edward Sullivan, 26 years old, 8025 Ridgeway avenue, was stabbed in the lungs last evening by a stranger at Homan avenue and 31st street following an argument over a scratched fender. Sullivan died on the way to the St. Anthony hospital. The stranger escaped. Their two cars had sideswiped and it was during an excited controversy as to who was to blame that the stranger drew a knife and lunged at Sullivan.

It's 95 in Los Angeles and No Relief in Sight

Los Angeles, Cal., July 30.—[Special.]—Heat and an excessive humidity staggered Los Angeles business today. Climbing to 95 at 10 o'clock this morning, the heat wave subsided somewhat at noon, then jumped back. United States Weather Forecaster Mersy prophesied a week of continuous hot days and nights. Heat marks in nearby localities exceeded 100 degrees.

Mailman Ends 125,000 Miles on Beat Today

John H. Burger, 65 years old next October, for 41 years a mail carrier who has walked an estimated 125,460 miles to carry mail, will put on his gray uniform for the last time today. Along with 28 other veterans of the Chicago postoffice he will sling the leather bag over his shoulder and make the last four rounds of his city hall and county building beat which he has covered for 30 years.

And when John Burger has paid his farewell to the city hall and after Postmaster Arthur C. Lueder and other officials make public recognition of the 29 veterans' service at noon in the rotunda of the Federal building, he will go home to plan with his wife for that trip to California which they have talked about for years.

Fears He'll Be Lonely.

"Maybe I'll get lonesome," said the veteran, "for the noise of the loop and the political life of the city hall. I'm afraid I'll miss it all after so many years."

Among the 29 veterans are six others whose terms of service range from 35 to 40 years. Fred A. Goman, 1473 West 71st place, has spent 25 of his 37 years' service in La Salle street carrying mail to the great financial houses, watching the skyscrapers rise in the district.

Stephen J. Williams, 819 South Lyman avenue, Oak Park, a carrier for 40 years, has spent 20 years of that time traveling a beat on Adams street west to the river, carrying mail to the wholesale houses. He expects to travel in the west on his retirement.

Will Be Violin Teacher.

Jacob Koertgen, 2104 Berwyn avenue, has spent his 40 years in the service traveling Wabash avenue in the loop. He will teach violin and continue in the Cope Harvey orchestra.

Carl Klose, 3939 Wrightwood avenue, 39 years a carrier, has carried mail to La Salle street banks and steel companies. Paul C. Stammer, an employé for 38 years, served much of that time as a night distributor.

Max Wertheimer, 1905 Byron street, estimated that in 35 years he had worn out 125 pairs of shoes traveling his route in the loop. His pedometer indicated he had traveled 14 miles a day.

The estimated combined mileage of the seven veterans of the loop during their service is 875,000 miles. The average day's walk is between 8 and 10 miles. The other 22 veterans to receive recognition today are from outlying districts.

CHINESE SLAIN, ONE WOUNDED; FEAR 'TONG WAR'

New York, July 31.—[Special.]—A general order was broadcast to police of the five boroughs early this morning calling on them to exercise vigilance on all places where Chinese congregate, as the authorities were apprehensive of a general "tong war."

The order followed two shootings in Chinatown, in which a Chinese was killed and another Chinese probably fatally wounded.

Ling Nop, 56, grocer at 4 Mott street, was the first victim. He was slain as he chatted with friends in his shop. A block away a patrolman saw a Chinese running and arrested him. He said he was Jarg Tuck, 28.

Later, two sightseers, C. T. Melander, a statistician of Chicago, who is staying at the Newark Athletic club, and Miss Marie Stone of Chattanooga, Tenn., entered the curio shop of the Kwongsun Chong company and bought a package of candles.

As the clerk began to wrap them a Chinese came in, drew a pistol from his sleeve, and started to fire at the clerk. The clerk dropped behind the counter unharmed. Two other men in the shop fired ten shots into the gunman.

They were captured by police.

Kill Chinaman With Hatchet.

Boston, Mass., July 30.—(AP)—Tong warfare broke out in Boston's Chinatown tonight with the Chinese reverting to their old means of killing, the hatchet. An unidentified Chinese was found slain with a hatchet. He also had been shot.

PROVISO HIGH TRUSTEES CUT 1929 TAX LEVY

The trustees of the Proviso Township High school district, No. 20, yesterday notified County Clerk Sweitzer that they had cut their 1929 tax levy from $1,000,000 to $515,000, thereby effecting a saving of nearly 50 per cent in taxes for taxpayers of the district. Because of the increased valuations made under the reassessment, the trustees reported, they found they could issue more bonds and that therefore the levy could be reduced. Mr. Sweitzer declared the school trustees had set a good example for all taxing bodies. He expressed the hope that other country town officials would follow the same procedure.

Girl Stabbed on Street by Mystery Assailant

Miss Fern Lamoipe, 18 years old, 528 Garfield avenue, was stabbed in the back by an unidentified man late last night in Garfield avenue near Halsted street. The young woman was walking toward her home after an evening spent with two girl friends, when her assailant, whom she described as a short man of dark visage, slipped up behind her and struck her with a knife. Miss Lamoine's wound was dressed at St. Joseph's hospital. The Hudson avenue police said they believed she had been the victim of a moron.

2 Killed as German Bus Plunges in River; 36 Rescued

BERLIN, July 30.—(AP)—Two persons were killed and 36 rescued today when a motor bus plunged into the Ilm river, from a bridge between Erfurt and Weimar. The rescues were made by four members of the Maccabean Sports club of Tel Aviv, Palestine.

Keep Pay Up, Is Advice of Business Men

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—Twelve telegrams from industrial leaders, in which they view wage and salary reductions with disfavor and as tending to augment the economic depression, will appear tomorrow in an article by Roy Dickinson, published in Printers' Ink.

Mr. Dickinson wrote to twenty-five large employers to get their opinions. Of the twelve thus far received, only one answer even intimated wage reductions were possible. The other eleven said the best way to dissolve the business depression is to maintain high wages as a means of providing purchasing power.

"Ten years ago," Dickinson writes, "when I was a member of President Harding's unemployment conference, run by Herbert Hoover, I wrote a minority report against wage cuts. I could get only one of the fifty members to sign it—the late Samuel Gompers. Then it was almost an axiom that wage cuts would bring back normal times.

New Point of View Now.

"Today a new point of view prevails. Maintaining purchasing power at the source is the most important job in the country today, for wages buy more shoes and automobiles than dividends."

In his reply J. A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation, recalled the manner in which he had previously expressed his opinion.

"I heard a steel man say the other day—in fact, more than one recently—that wages should come down," said Mr. Farrell. "I said: 'Oh, no, wages in the steel industry are not coming down; you can make up your mind to that fact. If you are going out to sell your goods and eliminate your profit, and expect to get it out of the men in the mills, you are greatly mistaken.'"

Gist of Replies Given.

GEORGE F. JOHNSON, president, Endicott-Johnson corporation—Reducing income of labor is not a remedy for business depression; it is a direct and contributing cause.

R. S. SHAINWALD, president, Paraffine Companies, Inc.—The Paraffine Companies, Inc., believes such reduction can and should be avoided.

C. R. PALMER, president, Cluett, Peabody & Co.—In my opinion, a general reduction of wages and salaries at this time is entirely unwarranted.

W. A. SHEAFFER, president, W. A. Sheafer Pen company—I believe it would be a serious mistake to reduce wages.

A. R. ERSKINE, president, Studebaker company—Have not even considered reducing wages or salaries.

CHARLES R. HOOK, president, American Rolling Mill company—Wage reductions would, in our opinion, retard and not stimulate business.

A. C. LORING, president, Pillsbury Flour Mills company—The new spirit in industry starts a virtuous, and not a vicious, circle in motion.

HERBERT V. KOHLER, executive vice president, Kohler company—Kohler company is maintaining its organization and its wage scale.

HOWARD COONLEY, president, Walworth company—The Walworth company has no thought of reducing salaries or wages.

HAROLD C. KEITH, president, George E. Keith company—While our company has made no reduction . . . and contemplates none, yet . . . conditions might force such changes at a later time.

SPANS ATLANTIC SAFELY; FLYING FAST TO GOAL

Picks St. Lawrence Route to Airport.

BULLETIN.

ST. HUBERT AIRPORT, July 31.—(AP)—At 12:25 a. m., eastern standard time, this morning the R-100 wirelessed the government officials here that she had passed over the Canadian Pacific steamer Duchess of York in the Gulf of St. Lawrence and was about 750 miles from Montreal. The message stated the air liner had averaged 50 knots for four hours and also stated her speed when the message was sent was 70 knots.

The excellent progress confirmed the opinion held here that the ship would reach Montreal this afternoon.

ST. HUBERT AIRPORT, Quebec, July 30.—[Special.]—While Montreal made ready to welcome the officers and crew of the British dirigible R-100, expected at St. Hubert airport tomorrow afternoon, the giant air liner plowed onward tonight through the Newfoundland fog toward land and journey's end.

Messages received from the ship, one sent at 1 p. m., Chicago daylight saving time, another at 5 p. m., and a third at 6:16 p. m. indicated that she had slowed down to almost nothing from the sixty mile an hour pace she had been maintaining earlier in the day.

Forced to Battle Fog.

The 1 o'clock message gave her position as 250 miles from Belle Isle, at the northern tip of Newfoundland. She expected then to be over land by dusk. At 5 o'clock, however, the airship reported she was still 100 miles northeast of Belle Isle.

The 6:16 o'clock message showed the airship had made only 22 miles in an hour and 16 minutes. This message said:

"At 23:16 G. M. T. [6:16 eastern standard time] bearing from Belle Isle, 72 degrees from Point Resolution, 144.5 degrees E., and at 23:25 G. M. T. [6:25 eastern standard time] 73 miles from Belle Isle."

Nothing was said in the latter message about fog, but in the afternoon her commander had reported he was flying above the fog at 1,500 feet. It was believed that as the R-100 neared the coast the fog bank rose higher to hamper her, as it has so many airplanes whose pilots have gone astray in what has been called the "graveyard of the Atlantic."

Over Desolate Coast.

At 10:45 p. m., when the R-100 had been aloft 48 hours, experts estimated that she was flying over Belle Isle straits toward the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The airship itself was silent.

The coast line of Belle Isle strait is desolate and unsettled, and authorities at the airport said it would not be strange if the ship were not sighted until daybreak, when she should be somewhere in the vicinity of Anticosti Island, in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Montreal not Worried.

The supposed decrease in the speed of the R-100 between 1 and 6 p. m. was not regarded as significant by experts at the field. They pointed out that she might have slowed down while getting bearings in order not to go off her course. In all probability, they said, she was again speeding through the night at anywhere from 60 to 80 miles an hour, a speed which would bring her to port ahead of the estimated time of her arrival, which is between 2 and 3 p. m. tomorrow.

Flare lights burned all night at St. Hubert, marking the boundaries of the airport, and a powerful searchlight swept the sky on the lookout for the great bulk of the R-100, although every one there said it was physically impossible for the ship to arrive for another 20 hours or so.

Airship's Messages Brief.

Throughout the flight the commanding officer of the world's largest airship has been chary of words in his official bulletins and the 1 o'clock message was no exception. It said:

"Report, 1 p. m. eastern standard time, 250 miles east of Belle Isle. Making 60 knots since noon. Flying above the clouds at 1,500 feet. Expect to make land at 6 p. m. eastern standard time."

Although this was the only official bulletin from the R-100 received until nightfall, the airship had been in communication during the day with ships at sea and the ministry of marine at Ottawa.

Earlier in the day, a burst of speed

by the R-100 made good the loss of time incurred by her long detour around the Scottish and Irish coasts at the outset of her trans-Atlantic flight yesterday morning.

In the morning her course was altered slightly on three occasions in order that she best might be made of fluctuating winds, and for six hours, which ended at 7 a. m., Chicago time, she averaged seventy-eight miles an hour with the help of a thirty mile an hour wind.

Later in the afternoon she was reported passing out of a great high pressure area, which for 1,000 miles had given her fine, though cold weather, and was entering a new depression on storm area. The course of the airship in the morning showed her navigator had reckoned from his weather chart to have a stiff southeasterly breeze later in the day.

As the airship approached the western edge of the high pressure area, she gradually worked her way some distance south of the great circle.

Mighty Welcome Awaits R-100.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., July 30.—Canada is all set to give a mighty welcome to the R-100, which is due to reach Montreal before dark tomorrow evening. St. Hubert airport, eleven miles outside of Montreal, which will be the official home in the new world for the dirigible during its two weeks' stay, is all prepared, and thousands of Montrealers, as well as numerous visitors from other cities, are looking forward to seeing the huge airship before they retire Thursday night.

Special tracks and sidings have been built by the Canadian National railways to transport visitors from Montreal to the airport. Motoring to the airport has its difficulties and expenses, autos having to cross over the two toll bridges to the south shore and proceed along narrow roads with parking conveniences none too ample.

600 Soldiers on Duty.

Thousands are expected to visit the airport daily and 600 men from the Canadian militia have been assigned for duty at St. Hubert to control the crowds and vehicle traffic. A small tent city has gone up in the last two days in one corner of the air field to accommodate the soldiers.

An advance of twelve men from England is here to handle the dirigible on its arrival. It is calculated that a dozen men will be sufficient to moor the ship to the tower built especially for the R-100. This is strikingly different from the requirements of the Graf Zeppelin at Lakehurst, when more than 300 men were required.

When within a short distance of the tower, the R-100 will drop a cable from her nose. This will be linked with the end of another extending from the top of the mast, whose winding gear will then be set in motion. The airship will be drawn slowly in until her steel nose fits into the cone on top of the tower.

R-100 OVER "ATLANTIC GRAVEYARD"

Map shows route to be followed by British dirigible R-100 up the St. Lawrence river direct to St. Hubert air field, just outside Montreal. The airship is due at St. Hubert this afternoon. Latest reports from the ship indicated she was over the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

3 NEW DOCTORS ARE CHOSEN FOR S. R. McCORMICK

Santa Barbara, Cal., July 30.—[Special.]—Carrying out an agreement reached by the opposing factions on the Stanley R. McCormick board of personal guardianship, the two medical members of the board of guardians today presented a petition to Superior Judge William Dehy recommending a board of three experts to become permanent physicians in charge of McCormick's mental treatment.

The physicians recommended are Drs. Milton B. Lennon, W. W. Boardman and Robert Richards. The petition advising their employment was presented by Dr. William Ophuls, dean of Stanford university medical school, and Dr. Langley Porter.

His report today carries the previously guaranteed concurrence of Mrs. Katherine Dexter McCormick, wife of the ailing man; Harold F. McCormick, a brother, and Mrs. Emmons Blaine, a sister.

The petition recommends the three physicians may be paid at the rate of $25 an hour each, but may not receive in excess of $15,000 a year.

AIRPORT WORK AWAITS MAYOR'S O.K. ON LEASE

$413,000 Is Available for Improvements.

The work of improving and expanding the Municipal airport at 63d street and Cicero avenue will begin as soon as Mayor Thompson signs the air port lease which was approved by the city council Tuesday night, according to Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe and Walter W. Wright, city director of parks, recreation and aviation.

It was believed the mayor was awaiting the decision of Corporation Counsel Ettelson, who is now reviewing the terms of the city's lease of 588 acres of school land, which includes the present airport and an additional tract adjoining the field.

$413,000 for Improvements.

A total of $413,000, part of the money made available for airport use through the April bond issue, has been released for the improvement work. The remainder of the $450,000 bond issue will be reserved for future improvement work, Commissioner Wolfe stated. The money will be expended as follows, he said:

Extension of southeast runway	$40,000
First unit of Administration building	75,000
Taxi runways	95,000
Drainage	70,000
Grading	85,000
Additional lighting	20,000
Sewers	28,000

To Improve Old Field.

These improvements will be made to the 240 acres which were held by the city under a previous short term lease and to 40 acres adjoining the present field at the corner of 63d street and Cicero avenue. No provision has been made for the improvement of the 300 acres in the north half of the tract. Commissioner Wolfe said this would require a bond issue of $1,000,000 and that this could not be submitted to the voters before November.

Mr. Wright said that if the work is started immediately it may be completed by Jan. 1. Land will be made available for 12 new hangars for air transport companies who plan to expand terminal facilities here, Mr. Wright stated. The new administration building will be erected at 63d street and Cicero avenue, he said.

Berlin-Chicago Plane Held Up in Orkneys by Weather

GEHLBACH IN FRONT, HAMER FORCED DOWN, IN AIRPLANE DERBY

Lincoln, Neb., July 30.—(AP)—Lee Gehlbach, Little Rock, Ark., retained his lead of nearly four hours in the all American Air Derby on the hop from Ogden, Utah, to the overnight stop here, a distance of more than 900 miles, which he made in 6 hours 45 minutes and 25 seconds. His total elapsed time for the flight Lee Schoenhair, referee, announced, was 38 hours 14 minutes and 35 seconds.

Herman Hamer of La Salle, Ill., first flyer to leave Ogden this morning, was the victim of a broken fuel line within 100 miles of Lincoln and was forced down to await the arrival of spare parts and more fuel, which was sent out immediately to him near Doniphan. He was uninjured and his plane was not damaged.

Lowell Bayles, Springfield, Mass., second to land here, is runner-up for total elapsed time honors with 42 hours and 28 seconds.

Charles Meyers of Cleveland, third in here, has a total elapsed time of 44 hours 45 minutes and 21 seconds.

Joe Meehan, Ironton, O., entry in the all-American Air Derby, was still missing this evening, more than 24 hours after he was due to arrive at the Ogden airport on yesterday's jump from Los Angeles.

Bank Teller Surrenders, Tells of Embezzlement

Mario Pellegrini, 45 years old, 1115 South Marshfield avenue, gave himself up last night at the detective bureau where he is being held for embezzlement from the First Italian State bank where he had been employed as a teller. Pellegrini told Chief of Detectives John Norton how, in the last year and a half, he had taken $4,700 to send to his wife and three children to Italy and to pay the expenses of an illness. The bank is protected by insurance.

KING'S PROXY TO RATIFY NAVY PACT IN QUAINT RITE

Peers to Signify Ruler's Assent in Old French.

LONDON, July 30.—(AP)—The treaty bill giving effect so far as Great Britain is concerned to the London naval pact will pass its final stage probably on Friday when it will be given royal assent under procedure instituted during the reign of Henry VIII.

Although the royal assent signifies the king's approval of the naval bill, King George will not himself sign it. He will sign a royal commission empowering certain peers to give his assent.

King Delegates Peers.

The bill which already has passed both houses of parliament, today remained in the custody of an official known as the "clerk of parliament" pending royal assent. The clerk has two copies, one of which will be sent to the king. The ruler, after inspecting it, will sign a document on which a slip of paper has been pasted and which cauthorizes three or more peers to attend the house of lords and declare the king's agreement.

At an appointed time these peers, having donned their traditional scarlet and ermine robes, will take seats facing the throne in the house of lords and instruct an official known as the "black rod," to summon commons to attend.

Wears Wig and Hat.

When the commoners arrive, headed by the mace and their speaker, the chief commissioner, usually the lord chancellor, raising the quaint three cornered hat which he wears over his wig informs commons that, in obedience with royal command, the commissioners declare the king's assent to the bill, and the bill is read.

With it is read also the royal commission, after which the clerk of parliament addressing the commissioners, says in old Roman French, "le roy le veult" [the king wills it].

The pronouncement of these words converts the bills into an act of parliament, and Great Britain's sanction of the treaty is completed.

It is probable that the naval bill will be one of several to which assent will be given at the same time in the ceremony.

NEW STOP LIGHTS SPEED UP TRAFFIC IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—The coördinated "stagger" system of traffic lights was put into effect on the crosstown streets of Manhattan today and was pronounced a success.

With the motors in the control tower adjusted to the new timings on the master clocks, the progressive lighting control began at 7 a. m. and at the close of the day operators of surface cars, buses, and taxicabs joined with police officials in asserting that the new system had provided increased speed and more efficient manipulation of crosstown traffic. The lights permit an uninterrupted flow of traffic when cars move at uniform speeds.

Police Commissioner Mulrooney, who had observers stationed in many parts of the city, reported gains in speed from 15 to 50 per cent.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 30.—[Special.]—The alacrity with which the British parliament ratified the navy limitation treaty with virtually no opposition, as soon as the United States senate approved it, demonstrates to the satisfaction of Senator Hiram W. Johnson [Rep., Cal.] that the British were only too eager all along to seal a bargain perpetuating their control of the seas.

The senator, who was the leader of the opposition to the treaty, expressed this view upon learning that the house of lords last night completed the approval of the pact by parliament.

"Immediately after the senate's action on the London treaty," said Senator Johnson, "comes the first exposure of part of the bunk used to obtain ratification. Only a short time ago the state department and every little man echoing what he was told to say were harping upon the British opposition, and the internationalistic press again and again repeated that a treaty so violently opposed by like parties in Great Britain and America must be an inspired and holy document.

Bunk, Says Californian.

"There never was any truth in the statement that like parties in each country were in opposition. The British admiralty, the official British body in charge of naval affairs, has always favored the treaty. The American general board of the navy by overwhelming preponderance has opposed it.

"Our government and our internationalists have embraced the British admiralty's demand and have repudiated the American naval advice. But now the hollonwness and sham of the argument concerning the similar opposition in both nations, so elaborately made, has been clearly demonstrated, for the British parliament, practically without oppostion, has approved the treaty."

Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, who negotiated the treaty on behalf of the United States, contended from the first that the pact represented sacrifices of sea power on the part of all the signatories in the interest of reducing armament all around. He asserted that the opposition in each country affected arose from those militarists who were unwilling to consent to mutual sacrifices. On one occasion he paralleled quotations from the criticism of the treaty by Senators Johnson and Frederick Hale [Rep Me.], with quotations from similar criticism by Winston Churchill and Admirals Beatty and Jellicoe in England.

Japan's "O. K." Assured.

With America and Great Britain approving the treaty it will come into force for the three leading naval powers as soon as Japan shall ratify it. The pact is now awaiting action by the privy council in Tokio. There is some opposition to the agreement on the part of officers in the Japanese admiralty on the ground that it does not sufficiently safeguard the national defense of Japan. Dispatches from Tokio state, however, that there is no doubt of eventual ratification.

The state department has been advised that negotiations of a naval agreement between France and Italy are progressing favorably as the result of the undertaking of the two countries to suspend current construction of warships. If they should succeed in agreeing on terms acceptable to Great Britain, and thereby become parties to that part of the treaty limiting auxiliary tonnage, the escalator clause would become virtually a dead letter.

What Escalator Clause Is.

The escalator clause provides that any signatory, if menaced by the building program of another power, shall be at liberty to exceed the tonnage limitations imposed by the treaty upon giving due notice to the other signatories of the class of ships to be built. Thereupon the other signatories would be free to build proportionally in excess of the treaty limitation in the same category.

This provision was inserted for the protection of Great Britain against a possible menace by France. It was attacked by the treaty opposition as a loophole through which any nation could escape the limitation at will, thereby making the treaty a limitation agreement in name only.

CITY SOON TO PAY LAND OWNERS IN LA SALLE STREET

Property owners in North La Salle street whose real estate was condemned to make possible the widening of the thoroughfare will be paid their condemnation awards within the next few days, First Assistant Corporation Counsel Breen announced yesterday.

Payment to all owners will be resumed as soon as Attorney Howard Bishop notifies Mr. Breen that he has withdrawn a suit in the United States Supreme court in which Bishop, as counsel for the Moody Bible institute, sought a larger award for the institute's property condemned in the widening.

The city has settled with the institute for $350,000, Breen said, adding that he had been informed by Bishop that the federal suit probably would be withdrawn today.

Harvard Man Gets British Votes for World Court Seat

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

GENEVA, July 30.—Chances of Dr. Roscoe Pound, Harvard law dean, of being elected to the September world court were considered increased here when the nominations were received from the British and Australian groups, and both included his name. The fact that both groups nominated the same list is causing speculation whether all the British have agreed on a common slate.

"Drunkenness Is a Disease and I Can Cure It"
—Leslie E. Keeley, M. D., LL. D.

THE EDITOR of a powerful Chicago Newspaper before his death, challenged this statement of Dr. Keeley that "Drunkenness is a disease and I can cure it." He defied Dr. Keeley to cure the men whom he would send to the Institute. The results were so convincing that, through his great newspaper, he was personally responsible for thousands of men and women taking The Keeley Treatment for Liquor.

GENTLEMEN, NOT GUNMEN, AS DRY AGENTS, IS PLAN

Woodcock Plans School to Teach Them.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 30.—[Special.]—Prohibition Director Amos W. W. Woodcock today proclaimed his intention of training dry law agents in the future "to act always as gentlemen" and to resort to the use of firearms only for self-defense.

The newly appointed head of the prohibition bureau forth his policies in a 3,000 word statement which be laid before the twenty-four administrators and special agents from each of the country's enforcement districts. President Hoover and Attorney General Mitchell were understood to have approved the statement.

Mr. Woodcock revealed a plan for the establishment of schools to train agents in methods of gathering evidence, in knowledge of the law, and in habits of discipline.

Outline of Course.

"They (the schools) are intended to bring home that integrity and intelligence are the qualities we wish in agents," he declared. "They are intended to train the agents to act always as gentlemen, to use their brains rather than their brawn in discharging their duties. They will not use weapons except for defense.

"They are expected to aid in building up of an esprit de corps by showing the agents that the business of detecting crime is a profession in itself in which a person may take pride. These schools are the medium through which I hope to impress upon the agents my fundamental policy that this law must be enforced fairly, honestly, earnestly and lawfully."

Two Day Dry Conference.

Today's conference of Mr. Woodcock with his administrators and agents was the first of two sessions viewed as the actual debut of the reorganized dry law enforcement bureaus. Tomorrow Dr. James M. Doran, director of the new bureau of industrial alcohol, will confer with his administrators. Most of the Woodcock group will also attend.

J. F. J. Herbert, Chicago administrator, and one of those at the Woodcock conference, declared that the director's policies will be put into full force in his district immediately. He added that "we expect to follow them in spirit as well as letter."

Four major points were emphasized in the Woodcock statement aside from the proposal to maintain high personal standards for agents. These were: [1] Establishment of a system of daily reports to Washington by deputy administrators; [2] scientific research into such problems as drunkenness statistics, alcoholism deaths, and hop and corn sugar production; [3] efforts to obtain more state aid in dry law enforcement; [4] efforts to secure more uniform sentences for violators; and [5] concentration upon the commercial liquor traffic rather than upon "pitiful, picayunish, noncommercial cases."

Discusses Policy.

Discussing the latter policy, Mr. Woodcock declared that his objective is against the sale, the commercial manufacture and transportation of liquor, and that he will not have dry agents following the course of least resistance and wasting their time upon the smaller offenders.

Strict discipline, semi-military in character, will be invoked from top to bottom in the prohibition bureau, Mr. Woodcock said. His statement emphasized the necessity for obedience to orders and frequently was punctuated by military terms.

"I want the investigators to be the best trained body of detectives in the world. I have placed the standard as high as is possible and will not be satisfied until that standard is reached. I think much of the criticism of prohibition in the United States is due to blunders and misconduct of agents and investigators, and that this in turn may be traced to a wrong system in selection and to lack of training after appointment.

"The method of selection has now, I am happy to say, been fixed by law; that is, through the civil service commission. I propose to follow the civil service rules, not only in letter, but in spirit."

School Opens in September.

On Sept. 1, Mr. Woodcock said, twenty-four instructors will open his training school for agents in Washington. They will give a one month's course and two of the graduates will be sent to each administrative circuit to conduct two weeks' courses for agents and investigators. The work of each man will be graded and recorded.

Under a daily report system, which is an innovation, each deputy will send each day to Washington a report on the arrests and progress of court cases in his district, thus giving the director speedy information as to what is going on in the field.

A more difficult task, the director continued, will be the work of the division of the research and public instruction which has been established, because "the aim of our bureau is not the number of people sentenced for violating the law, but a decrease in the consumption of intoxicating liquor."

"Plans to Get Information.

By compiling statistics on drunkenness arrests, deaths from alcoholism, hops and corn sugar, he said, the division will be able to give the bureau and the public reliable information.

"I think there has been much misstatement regarding the enforcement of prohibition, largely because there have not been facts developed by scientific research. This division ought to be not only an intelligent guide as to our own results, but also most helpful in allowing public opinion to form itself intelligently regarding the true effect of prohibition in the United States."

Asks State Assistance.

In advocating more state coöperation in enforcement, Director Woodcock explained that he only was carrying on the policy of his predecessors. He declared that "it is obvious that state aid is necessary to complete success," adding that he proposed to make the federal service so effective and honest that their help will be sought by state authorities.

Discussing his hope of securing more uniformity in sentences for prohibition law violations, Mr. Woodcock pointed out that his bureau could not have direct control of court proceedings but that it would do everything possible to eliminate the present "tremendous lack of uniformity." If all violators pay the same penalty for the same offense, he said, public understanding of and respect for the law should be promoted.

CAROL ORDERS ANTI-SEMITIC RIOTS PUT DOWN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUCHAREST, July 30.—King Carol today became so dissatisfied with the government's failure to suppress anti-Semitic riots, which are now rampant all over Rumania, that his harsh words to Juliu Maniu today resulted in the premier's offer to resign.

Carol refused to consider the resignation, but ordered Premier Maniu to get busy and lock up the anti-Jewish rioters, most of whom are Nationalist students under the leadership of Prof. Alexander Cuza.

The premier called in Vakda Vojvod, minister of the interior, and told him that Carol apparently meant business, so tonight Vojvod summoned the Jewish deputies and assured them that the anti-Semitic outbreaks in the future will be sternly repressed and that the government will make good the damages to their properties during the recent riots.

$75,000 MORAN STILL RAIDED BY U. S. AGENTS

Prohibition agents early yesterday raided a huge distillery in an old grain elevator at 1911 North Laramie avenue. A 1,250 gallon recooking plant and a double still used for making moonshine alcohol, with a capacity of 2,000 gallons, were found. The still was owned by Bugs Moran interests, according to the federal agents.

Besides the main building there were three others housing the apparatus, and tins of alcohol were conveyed to a loading platform in one of them by means of an escalator. Electric blowing apparatus propelled the alcohol fumes high into the air. Assistant Administrator George H. Hurlburt valued the plant at $75,000.

The raiders destroyed 45,000 gallons of mash, 200 gallons of recooked alcohol, and 2,500 gallons of the crude product. Three tons of corn sugar was seized.

SEIZE CITY SCOW AT A CITY WHARF UNLOADING RUM

All This in Shadow of the Brooklyn Bridge.

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—Six customs men, with eyes and ears alert for the slightest sign of anything out of the ordinary, cruised under Brooklyn bridge in the black hour just before the break of dawn today and drifted down upon a hundred rum runners swarming over a municipal pier on the East river and unloading a thousand cases of liquor from a municipal refuse barge into two five ton trucks.

Within the next fifteen minutes there was a sharp but bloodless attack from the customs men that drove a score of rum runners into the river and others into flight through the shadows, and ended in the capture of twenty-two men, 1,000 cases of liquor, the two trucks, and the city owned barge.

Two City Employés.

Two of the rum runners are city employés—civil service men who have been employed by the department of street cleaning for the last ten years. One was the captain and the other the mate of Barge E, the unusual vehicle that rum runners far off shore chose to bring in their supplies.

Now the city is in the peculiar position of having one of its garbage barges seized by the federal government and held as the appurtenance of a rum runner, but Sanitation Commissioner Charles Hand has already undertaken to get the barge back.

The customs patrol 546, with Inspector John Beach and five federal men on board, was cruising up the East river early this morning when Inspector Beach noticed shadowy forms moving on the municipal pierhead. A garbage scow was tied up there, and two large trucks that might have been mistaken for street cleaning trucks in the darkness were backed up at the end of the pier.

Decides to Investigate.

It seemed far fetched to think that a garbage scow was bringing in liquor or contraband of any kind, but Beach decided to investigate.

Drawing closer, Beach saw boxes being carried out of the hold of the scow and stowed in the trucks.

"Liquor!" he said, and instructed his men to surround the pier as well as six men could possibly surround a hundred men on a large and unlighted pier.

Beach himself took up his station just at the mouth of the pier.

He drew his pistol and fired one shot. It was a signal, and his five companions closed in from all sides.

Shots were fired, but the customs men enjoyed the same advantage that the darkness gave the rum runners, and no one was hit.

They could not hem in the whole crowd, but they closed in when the number had been reduced somewhat, and finally managed to disarm and tie up twenty-two men.

Get $1,500,000 Liquor.

Fifteen prohibition agents raided the North American Brewery and Palm Garden café in Brooklyn tonight in what was described as the "biggest raid in prohibition history" and seized equipment, beer, whisky and alcohol valued at more than $1,500,000. Joe Wolf, bartender in the café, and a man described as George Lutz, secretary to the brewery owner, were arrested.

The fifteen agents were equipped with an obulliometor, a machine that tests the alcoholic content of beer. The test showed, according to the raiders, that the beer was approximately 4.96 per cent alcohol.

Robber Wounded, Captured as He Runs from Store

A minute after he had robbed James V. Sedlack, a grocer, 3500 West 22d street, of $44.35 yesterday Michael Pinta, 21 year old, 1858 West 18th street, was shot in the knee and captured by Policeman Edward Cagney of the Marquette station. Cagney saw him running from the store and, when he refused to halt, opened fire.

SECRET DIVORCE SOUGHT BY WIFE OF $800,000 HEIR

Mrs. Carol W. Alton Charges Desertion.

The hearing of a secret divorce suit brought by Mrs. Abigail Campbell Alton, 2440 Lake View avenue, against Carol Wilson Alton, grandson of the late Milton H. Wilson, one of the founders of Wilson Brothers, manufacturers of men's furnishings, was revealed yesterday. The divorce decree has been drawn up and will become final when signed by Circuit Judge Thomas J. Lynch.

Mrs. Alton's suit was heard by Judge Lynch last Thursday. In her bill, charging desertion, Alton is named as "William C. Alton." He did not contest the suit and was not present in court but was represented by Attorney David Jetzinger.

Couple Have Three Children.

Mrs. Alton is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alexander A. Campbell of New York. She made her debut in December of 1913. She was married to Alton on Feb. 25, 1916, at the Biltmore hotel, New York. They have three children, Carol Jr., 13 years old; Douglas, 9, and Richard, 7. The Altons formerly lived at 1217 Michigan avenue, Evanston.

Alton, who is manager of Wilson Brothers, was made the beneficiary of an $800,000 trust fund created by his grandfather, who died in February, 1929. Mr. Wilson left $8,000,000 to Northwestern university of which he was a trustee for many years.

Mrs. Alton Charges Desertion.

Mrs. Alton was represented by Attorney John M. Zane. She testified her husband refused to live with her, as man and wife, shortly after the birth of their youngest son, in July, 1923. Although separated, the couple continued to live in the same house, she said, until January, 1929, when he left her.

Her testimony was supported by Miss Emma Tyler Dafter of the Evanston hotel and Mrs. William Drexel, 931 Michigan avenue, Evanston. Miss Dafter said she had spoken to Alton six years ago about his life with Mrs. Alton.

"He said he did not care to live with his wife," said Miss Dafter. "He spoke nice of her—about her bringing up the children and housekeeping and everything. I tried to persuade him to return to her, but he refused."

Wife to Get Children.

According to the decree, Mrs. Alton will receive $600 a month for her support, and will be given the custody of the children. Alton also is to pay for the education and support of the children, who are attending preparatory school in the east.

The decree specifies that the three boys shall attend Princeton university and spend the summer vacations at the Culver Military academy camp until such a time as Alton decides they shall work during the summer.

COAST GUARDS SAIL NEW BOAT FROM EAST COAST

Capt. Albert S. Brown of the South Chicago coast guard branch arrived early yesterday at his home station with a new 36 foot service boat, which he and a crew of two men brought to Chicago by water from Baltimore. Capt. Brown left Baltimore on July 1, his route including the Chesapeake and Delaware river, the Hudson river, the Erie canal, and the great lakes.

Comrade of Slain Holdup Men Arrested; Confesses

Lester Gascon, 24 years old, third of the trio which on Saturday night tried to hold up Anthony Sodo's roadhouse in Thornton township, south of Chicago, was arrested last night in his home at 11034 Edgebrooke avenue. Sodo killed Gascon's two companions, Alexander Zill, 10731 South Wabash avenue, and Milton Simon, 11548 South State street. Gascon, whose capture was brought about by Sergt. John Orgel of the county highway police and Detectives John Golden, William Smith, and Thomas Ryan, confessed, the police said.

EX-DRY AGENT HELD AS HEAD OF MURDER BAND

Columbia, S. C., July 30.—(AP)—As a result of the killing last week of State Senator E. J. Dennis in Berkeley county, Glenn L. McKnight, former Berkeley bootlegger and later a federal dry agent, was arrested in a Charleston hospital today after he had been named by W. L. Thornley as the instigator of the slaying to which Thornley confessed.

Over the protest of McKnight's physician, who said his patient was in no condition to stand the trip, the governor, John C. Richards, ordered McKnight brought to the state prison for safe keeping. He started from Charleston in an ambulance tonight under heavy guard.

Three other Berkeley county men, said by Gov. Richards to have been implicated in Thornley's confession, were lodged in state prison today. They are Fred Artis, Clarence Woodward, a former deputy sheriff, and Curtiss Thornley, brother of the assassin. McKnight branded Thornley's confession implicating him as "a lie," while he lay in the hospital.

Senator Dennis was shot down on a street on Moncks Corner, the county seat, last Thursday. He died the next day. He was the fourth recent victim of ambush in Berkeley county, scene of bitter political and liquor feuds in recent years.

McKnight was the last previous victim, having been shot down in the yard of his Moncks Corner home two months ago and critically wounded.

Thornley was arrested immediately after the shooting of Dennis.

Ingenuity

In ancient mythology two men were granted as much land as they could encompass within the skin of a bull. The one was satisfied with his literal portion; the other cut his hide into strips and thus encircled a great deal more. The long history of Harmon may be written in terms of "strip" returns for investors of every size. Land is the basis of all wealth.

haired, and weighing about 160 pounds. Then Mr. Levy asked:

Q.—Have you seen that man since? A.—I have seen the man that resembles him since.

Q.—Where is that man? A.—Sitting there [indicating].

Q.—Frank Foster, is that right? A.—Right.

Levy appeared confounded at the statements of Ruthy, and Foster, whose face during the entire hearing was dark with scornful scowls, turned angrily upon his accuser. Mr. Levy went on:

Q.—Stand up, Frank. Come over here. [To Ruthy] Take a good look at him. A.—I did not see his face.

Did Not See Fugitive's Face.

Q.—You did not see his face at any time, is that right? A.—Just the back.

Q.—Just the back and the side of the man's face? A.—I had a glance when I was standing directing the traffic going by. I knew it was brown.

Q.—You cannot say as you sit here that this is positively the man that you saw running away, can you?

THE WITNESS—[To Foster] Turn around, please.

MR. LEVY—Turn around, Frank.

THE WITNESS—Well, that fellow has the build.

Q.—Just answer the question, please. Can you say positively now that this is the man that you saw running away? A.—[To Foster]—Please turn around.

Rival Attorneys Clash.

MR. LEVY—Let him take a good look at you. He has been looking at you for an hour.

MR. McSHANE—He is your witness, isn't he?

MR. LEVY—Sure, he is my witness.

MR. McSHANE—Don't you want him to look at him?

THE COURT—Which position do you want him in?

THE WITNESS—I want to see his back.

Foster turned, still scowling, into the position indicated by the policeman, and then Ruthy said:

"Yes, that is the fellow I chased."

MR. LEVY—Are you positive of that? A.—Yes, I am pretty sure; I am positive.

Asked to Describe Prisoner.

Ruthy then was asked to give a description of Foster as the defendant stood before him. He said he judged him to be 5 feet 9 inches tall, and weighing about 155 pounds. The prison records show Foster to be 5 feet 8 inches tall, and to weigh 137 pounds. The questioning proceeded:

Q.—When was the first time you were shown Frank Foster? A.—The first time I was shown Frank Foster?

Q.—Yes. A.—Right in here, the first time I ever saw that man.

MR. McSHANE: Now, I move, if the court please, that the motion for bail be denied. Their witness has identified the defendant.

MR. BYRNE: By his back.

MR. McSHANE: That is all right, and there is an identification coupled with the other proof.

THE COURT: I will let the date stand. Demand is made for trial, and the case is continued to the 9th of September.

Tells of Additional Proofs.

Earlier in the hearing, when Judge Trude asked Mr. McShane if the state had further evidence against Foster, the prosecutor replied he had additional proofs, but that he could relate them only in the private chambers of the judge.

"To say them in open court would hinder our case," Mr. McShane said.

"Have you any information to show this defendant's guilt or probable cause for this indictment?" Judge Trude pursued.

"I have reason to believe that he is guilty," Mr. McShane said. "I quote his flight from this city, his prearranged alibi—that he was in jail in New Mexico—and several things I could tell you privately. We are not on a fishing expedition. If I said some of the things I know in open court it would ruin the case."

In a motion for bail the burden is upon the defense to prove that the proof is not evident, and the presumption not great, and so the defense attorneys previously had called to the stand the two witnesses who had testified for the state before the grand jury.

The first was Coroner Bundesen, who said the weapon used to kill Lingle was in a safe in his office. He declared that he had learned that the weapon was sold by the Colt Firearms company to Peter Von Frantzius, sport goods and firearms dealer.

Von Frantzius Takes Stand.

The next witness was Von Frantzius, who is alleged to have stated before the grand jury that he sold the revolver to Foster.

Von Frantzius was asked, "Did you sell the gun to Foster"

He replied, "I refuse to answer on the grounds that I might incriminate myself."

Objections were made, but the judge ruled that Von Frantzius could not be forced to answer.

"Von Frantzius did not tell the grand jury that he sold the revolver to Foster," Attorney Byrne shouted. "I defy Attorney Rathbun to produce one witness who can prove any of the charges made."

Describes Visit to Gun Seller.

Edward A. Evans, private detective, then was placed on the stand by the defense. He testified that he and Attorney Levy had visited Von Frantzius at the latter's home.

"Von Frantzius said that he sold the gun to a short thick-set man named 'Dave,'" Evans testified. "Von Frantzius said that the man ordered six guns. He repeated that he never sold any to Foster."

Attorney Levy then said: "See, no one can identify Foster as having anything to do with this case. Not even the policeman on the corner, who we will call next."

Then Ruthy was placed on the stand, with the dramatic result already related.

CONFESSED CAPTIVE HELD FOR MURDER AND FOUR ROBBERIES

The first of a series of judicial proceedings was begun yesterday against Richard Sullivan, 38 years old, 4317 Greenwood avenue, who confessed to more than fifty robberies and one murder—the first murder to take place in Chicago after Acting Police Commissioner John H. Alcock took charge of the department. He was held to the grand jury in bonds of $200,000 on four robbery charges and a coroner's mittimus held him for murder without bail.

The murder victim was Chris Patras, restaurant owner at 2752½ North Clark street. Sullivan was arrested by Sergts. Charles Reynolds, Frank Donoghue, and Charles Anderson of the coroner's office, who captured him as he slept with a revolver beneath his pillow. They obtained a clew to his identity through the killing of his accomplice, William Barnes, 6034 Kenwood avenue, who was shot as he attempted to rob a radio store at 1935 West 35th street on the night of June 30.

YOUTH, 19, SLAIN IN STREET; ALKY FEUD IS BLAMED

Second Killing of Its Kind in Day.

August Pusateri Jr., 19 years old, 1209 Fry street, who posed as a fruit and vegetable peddler while delivering corn sugar to a group of alky cookers, according to the police, was shot to death last evening in front of his father's home at 2343 West Ohio street. It was the second killing ascribed to alky feuds in twenty-four hours.

Pusateri was climbing into his automobile when two men ran up and emptied automatics at him. The assassination was witnessed by the father and two sisters, Marianna and Josephine, whom the victim was about to take for a ride.

Capt. Charles McCurn of the West Chicago avenue station said that Pusateri was involved in various minor hoodlum activities. He was known as the driver of an automobile in which Dr. Frank L. Nathanson, 3846 West Madison street, was kidnaped last June.

Pusateri's father ran after the killers, but they escaped. Pusateri's wife was not along. She is an expectant mother.

Dominick Falbuto, 30 years old, 917 South Claremont avenue, was the earlier victim of the alky vengeance. His body was found early yesterday in an onion patch near Church road and Grand avenue, riddled by bullets and hacked with a knife. Lieut. George Kummerow of the Elmwood Park police said he believed Falbuto was an alky cooker from Racine who had attempted to invade more profitable Chicago territory.

Hold Four Ralph Capone Workers to Grand Jury

Four employés of the Montmartre and the Cotton club, Ralph Capone's Cicero cabarets, were held to the federal grand jury by United States Commissioner Walker yesterday in bonds of $1,000 on charges of violating the liquor laws. The defendants are Ted Mooney of the Montmartre and Harry McRae, Joseph J. Murphy, and Henry Giromphy of the Cotton club.

LINK BUCKLEY'S DEATH TO THREAT AGAINST CRIME

Bare His Plans for Vice Crusade.

Detroit, Mich., July 30.—(AP)—The theory that Radio Announcer Gerald (Jerry) Buckley was slain because of his promise to expose law violators in the suburb of Hamtramck formed the basis of a new police investigation tonight.

Ever since early last Wednesday morning, when three gunmen fired eleven bullets into Buckley's body as he sat in the lobby of the La Salle hotel, friends of the announcer have maintained that he was killed because of his avowed enmity for the underworld.

Based on Buckley's Threat.

The new theory of Buckley's assassination was based on the radio announcer's statement that he would take up the Hamtramck situation in the near future. Hamtramck, completely surrounded by Detroit, has reproduced in miniature the political and criminal upheavals of the metropolis.

At the time of the recall of Mayor Charles Bowles, a similar movement was afoot in Hamtramck against Mayor Rudolph C. Tenerowicz. It is claimed that Hamtramck gangsters, impressed with the success of the Detroit recall, in which Buckley was active, killed the announcer to prevent him casting his lot with the movement in the suburb.

Offer $13,500 for Slayers.

Meanwhile the reward for the capture and conviction of Buckley's slayers reached $13,500. Those offering the reward include the city of Detroit, an afternoon newspaper, Wayne county, and a private citizen.

Police Commissioner Thomas C. Wilcox today issued a reiteration of his statement that Detroit was destined for an epochal clean-up. He said that his men were continuing their raids against blind pigs, gambling places, and disorderly houses so as to cut off the revenue of racketeers and gangsters and make it impossible for them to hire gunmen for more killings.

ENDS LIFE IN HOME.

Andrew Cahill, 60 years old, committed suicide yesterday by inhaling gas from the kitchen range in his home at 2953 West 39th street. He was despondent over lack of employment, it was said.

POLICE WOUND ONE, CAPTURE TWO IN CHASE

CRIMINAL COURT.

John Loehe and Edward Ruppel, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years each in the penitentiary by Judge D. J. Normoyle.

Carmi Gentile, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge Peter Schwaba.

Major Burnell, forgery, sentenced to 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary by Judge E. I. Frankhauser.

Detectives Joseph Keating and William Nihill of the state's attorney's office yesterday captured two suspects at 22d street and Union avenue after a chase in which one of the prisoners was wounded by a police bullet. A third fugitive escaped.

The two men taken into custody gave their names as William Brilliant, 33 years old, 4429 West Monroe street, and Frank Walsh, 30 years old, 1500 West 79th street. Brilliant was taken to the Bridewell hospital after the bullet wound in his left leg was treated. The detectives were en route to the Criminal courts building when they encountered the three in an auto. When Detective Keating commanded them to pull up to the curb they jumped from their machine and ran.

In the flight one of the suspects is said by the police to have thrown a loaded revolver into the street.

RUMOR MAYOR MAY VETO NEW TELEPHONE GRANT

Not Satisfied with City's Benefits, Report.

Mayor Thompson may veto the 28 year telephone franchise, it was reported yesterday, on the ground that it does not yield sufficient benefits to the city. The measure was adopted by the council late Tuesday by a vote of 37 to 9, but the small minority fought passage for seven hours of sulphurous wrangling.

"The mayor," said one of his closest advisors yesterday, "wants to be perfectly sure that this franchise will not deprive the city of any important rights."

"Will he sign it soon?" this advisor was asked, and the answer was, "not soon, if ever!"

See Hint of Attitude.

One city hall interpreter read into a remark of the mayor's Tuesday night an indication of his present reported attitude. This remark followed a motion to adjourn, sponsored by an objector to the franchise. A voice from the floor protested that the council couldn't adjourn until it had passed the tax levy ordinance which will bring funds into the treasury and assure salary payments.

"You'd better adopt that," interrupted the mayor, "or you're going to get into trouble."

Since the phone franchise would, if signed, bring about $3,000,000 into the city treasury in the form of accumulated back payments, the interpreter chose to believe that the mayor meant that he would veto the phone franchise and leave the tax levy ordinance to provide ready cash.

Expects to Leave Soon.

The mayor is expected to leave for the summer home he has leased on the Massachusetts coast within the next few weeks, possibly next week. Mrs. Thompson is already there. The law gives him until the next council meeting to sign the ordinance before it can become a law without his signature and the aldermen on Tuesday adjourned until Nov. 5.

Proponents of the franchise stated in the blustery council meeting Tuesday that the measure might bring in as much as $100,000,000 in rentals alone during its duration. This was based on the 3 per cent of the company's gross receipts.

Dispute Relocation Cost.

On the other hand, the objectors claimed that the company does not clearly assume the burden of paying the cost of the relocation of its equipment in the new subway.

Meanwhile Deputy City Controller Victor S. Petterson believes that he will have anticipation warrants authorized by the tax levy ordinance ready for sale by the first of the week, if not sooner. Mayor Thompson promptly signed this measure immediately after its night passage. This gives the controller about $8,500,000 in warrants to sell and after that, unless the phone franchise is signed, the city will have to depend upon the sale of the working capital bond fund of $12,500,000 authorized at the special session of the legislature.

SCHOOLS WILL SELL MORE WARRANTS TO MEET OVERDUE BILLS

A further sale of tax anticipation warrants to provide funds for overdue bills and for supplies was authorized by the board of education yesterday. The amount was left to the discretion of President Myers, although it was believed that approximately $2,000,000 would be needed.

New bids for the construction of Lane Technical High school, Addison street and Western avenue, showing a saving of $377,886 over previous rejected bids, were presented. If the bids are approved by the building and grounds committee contracts will be awarded next week. The cost of the building is estimated at $5,000,000.

The total of the previous low bids was $5,326,303, while the revised bids total $4,955,417. The cost per cubic foot under the previous bids was 42.72 cents, with an average cost of 40 cents for the last 100 buildings erected. Under the revised bids the cost will be 39.75 cents.

TELEPHONE COLLECTOR ROBBED.

George Bouchard, 4324 McLean street, a collector for the Illinois Bell Telephone company, was robbed of $200, mostly in nickels, by an armed man yesterday at Belmont and Kostner avenues.

PLAN TO PLACE TEACHERS NEAR TO THEIR HOMES

A survey of all teaching assignments with a view to increasing efficiency of school staffs by appointing teachers to schools adjacent to their home neighborhoods was voted by the board of education yesterday. At the present time, it was pointed out by President Myers, many teachers are forced to travel such a distance to reach their schools that they arrive tired from their journey and from insufficient sleep and are unable to give sufficient attention to the students.

POLICEMAN HELD AS KIDNAPER OF 2 YOUNG WOMEN

Two young women yesterday gave the Rogers Park police an hysterical account of being forced to leave their rooms at the Berniss hotel, 1414 Pratt boulevard, and of being imprisoned for several hours in a house at 8003 Colfax avenue.

The women are Mrs. Dorothy Doyle and Mrs. Epha Davis. The two men who kidnaped them, it is charged, were Policeman Albert Doyle of the south park police, estranged husband of Mrs. Doyle, and John Hughes, 1301 East 73d street.

Late Tuesday night, upon returning to the hotel from a swim, the two women said they were met by Doyle and Hughes. Doyle displayed a revolver and forced the two women, together with Andrew Blackman, the hotel clerk, to step into an automobile. Blackman was pushed out of the car a mile away.

The women said they were forced to go to Doyle's home, where he cursed them and threatened to shoot his wife. Finally the men fell asleep and the women notified the police, who arrested both men.

They will be arraigned today, charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

MINNEAPOLIS CHICAGO ST. PAUL

FORM BUILDING GROUP TO CARRY ON HOOVER IDEA

National Council Created at Meeting Here.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

A permanent national conference on construction, representing the various branches of the building industry and allied agencies of finance, was created in Chicago yesterday at an informal meeting presided over by Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the national building survey conference which was called at the sugegstion of President Hoover after the market crash last fall.

This new conference is a development of the Hoover program which is intended to be of lasting benefit and to bring the 67 branches of the industry into line so they can function more promptly than they have been able to do in the present depression. Mr. Barnes, who is also chairman of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce of the United States, was named as head of the committee which was empowered to complete the arrangements for the organization of the conference.

Leaders of Building Attend.

Twenty leaders in building and finance attended the meeting, which was held at the Chicago Athletic association. Secretary of Commerce Lamont, who was expected to preside and to be named chairman of the new conference, was not able to be present and Mr. Barnes took his place. Others in attendance were:

John Blodgett, Grand Rapids, former president National Lumber Manufacturers' association.

F. Stuart Fitzpatrick, manager of civic development department of Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

A. E. Horst, Philadelphia, president Associated General Contractors of America.

James L. Madden, New York, third vice president Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

Leonard P. Reaume, Detroit, president of National Association of Real Estate Boards.

E. J. Russell, St. Louis, vice president American Institute of Architects.

James S. Taylor, chief, division of building and housing, department of commerce.

W. M. Wood, Decatur, Ill., former president American Institute of Steel Construction.

A. A. Zinn, Kansas City, president of the Morigage Bankers' association.

A statement of the results of the conference was made as follows:

"The meeting was held for the purpose of reviewing the principal intergroup problems of the construction industry and to determine the practicability of developing a continuing organization to assist in the solution of such problems.

Consider Many Problems.

"Aspects of realty finance, including problems of legislation, appraisals of porperty, methods of home financing and credit practices were discussed. Possible means of securing greater stabilization of the construction industry, a number of aspects of taxation and practical methods of introducing economies in the building and financing of residences and income properties, were considered."

After telling of the decision to create a new conference, the statement continues:

"The conference will be for the purpose of reviewing the outstanding common problems of the business and other interests identified with such construction to determine upon a program of activities, including actual studies of such problems, and agree upon recommendations looking toward the solution of the problem."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 30.—Three successive heat waves, relieved only by scattered local showers, have brought about a situation "extremely bad" for immature crops in the central states, the department of agriculture weather bureau reported in its weekly bulletin today.

Described by Chairman Alexander Legge of the federal farm board as the worst general drought in thirty years, the unusual summer weather had done serious damage especially to the corn crop, the official report showed, and the prospect is that only widespread rain can give the corn states permanent relief.

Showers Bring Some Relief.

"The weather of the week brought some temporary relief through local showers to a few sections of the country, but, in general, drought conditions were not only unrelieved on anything like a permanent basis, but were actually intensified over large areas by the abnormally high temperatures," the bulletin stated.

Illinois has been one of the states hardest hit by the drought, "with loss already very serious," the bulletin stated. Reports from Illinois and the surrounding states follow:

Illinois Hard Hit.

Illinois—Pastures burned brown; no feed. Corn deterioration progressively worse north to south; crops firing; many reports of tassels burned white; conditions worse on uplands; losses very serious and each hot, dry day increases damage.

Indiana—Corn improved in moist area, but decided deterioration elsewhere, though rains very soon will save much; however, most in extreme southwest past recovery. Finishing oat harvest in extreme north; thrashing to southward. Winter wheat thrashing progressing; bulk done in south.

Iowa—Further deterioration of corn in south and west; well into critical tasseling and silking stages; many top leaves and tassels scorched white and much firing at bottom; many fields three-fourths silked and silks seriously injured; yield reduction so far probably between that of 1901 and 1911, with heaviest damage in the southwest. Harvest finished; thrashing far advanced in south.

Michigan—Showers Saturday relieved drought temporarily in south and central where corn generally holding own, but badly injured in some localities; tasseling in central. Beans badly damaged and also sugar beets in some localities; more rain much needed. Oat harvest progressing in central and wheat thrashing general.

Conditions in Wisconsin.

Wisconsin—Drought broken in most localities. Some corn leveled, but all growing crops greatly benefited and reviving rapidly since recent rains. Harvesting small grains well advanced; thrashing begun. Pastures short and brown in places; some livestock being fed. Corn growing nicely; some silking and earing.

BY PAUL POTTER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Bloomington, Ill., July 30.—[Special.]—Illinois agriculture has turned from politician to weather man with urgent pleas for "farm relief." A combination of heat and drought which experienced corn growers say is the worst in at least seventeen years is adding daily to the toll of crop damage in almost every section of the state—just how much of a toll no one seems able to estimate.

In a tour of typical corn fields from Winnebago south of Taylorville there are but one in five fields examined showing the plants impervious to the lack of moisture. These are either in localities having recent light rains or on land well fertilized and cultivated, with strains of corn able to withstand drought or planted extremely early in the spring.

This cross section through the heart of the nation's corn belt shows progressively worse conditions from north to south. The situation is augmented in most fields by irregularity in maturity of plants, said by specialists to be due largely to varying strength of seed planted this spring.

200 Million Bushels Short.

An earlier estimate published in THE TRIBUNE of at least 200 million bushels reduction in the 1930 crop from that reported by the federal government July 1 seems conservative in the light of this survey.

Federal crop statisticians at Springfield, while recognizing that the recent record heat has come in a critical period of corn crop development, were inclined today to feel that most farmers were overestimating local damage. Reports of losses of 25 to 60 per cent of their corn were given THE TRIBUNE in McLean and surrounding counties by farmers and elevator men.

Out on one of the historic Funk farms near here, James Holbert, federal corn specialist, has over a hundred varieties of corn from typical sections of the corn belt and very few of them have come through the abnormally low moisture period unscathed.

Pollination May Fail.

Holbert points out that the danger lies in seeing that the corn fields are pollinated, a situation he has never encountered in the fifteen years the government and the University of Illinois have been making corn experiments here. Tassels are being scorched in fields where the stalks look green and strong, while silks, which must be pollinated from the tassels to form ears, fail to appear because of the plant's dry condition, or come too late, or emerge to find no pollen available. He describes the situation as serious, but would not presume an estimate of the damage. Other experienced observers believe that general rains of more than an inch would still bring a crop as large as last year's.

Small grains not in the shock or being thrashed throughout Illinois are yielding normally, with wheat and oats of fine quality, reports indicate.

START DEFENSE TODAY IN PLEA TO OUST MAGUIRE

Jarecki Admonishes Case for Losing Time.

Special Assistant State's Attorney Charles Center Case yesterday completed his presentation of evidence before County Judge Jarecki on his petition to oust Fred V. Maguire as chairman of the board of election commissioners. The defense, which has been allowed one week in which to present its case, will begin introduction of evidence today.

At the opening of the hearing Attorney John F. Tyrell, representing the Republican county central committee, moved that a paragraph of the petition be stricken. The paragraph accuses Maguire of appointing as election judges and clerks, "assassins, hoodlums, bootleggers, bombers, gangsters, robbers, election law violators," and other criminals.

Asks Charge Be Stricken.

Attorney Tyrell stated that in three weeks of testimony covering 2,000 pages no charges have been proved against the men and women listed in the petition. He pointed out that all except 61 out of 826 police cards bearing the same names as those of election officials have been ruled out by the court. The 61 are being held for further investigation. The judge took the motion under advisement.

Following the testimony of a colored woman, who had been arrested for contributing to the delinquency of a child, the judge admonished Case for wasting time.

"I wish you would tell me before Friday what you intend to prove," the judge said. "I anticipated that you were going to tell me that there is a lot of evidence that you have not had time to produce, that's why I limited your time to Friday."

Case dismissed a number of witnesses.

Tells of Changed Ballots.

Richard L. Schindler, 4122 Lake Park avenue, an employé of the Chicago Law and Order league, was Case's last witness. He testified that during the last judicial election Democratic workers in the 34th precinct of the 1st ward forced assistance on voters and marked ballots for them. He said that Judge Jarecki had been double crossed in the 7th precinct of the 1st ward, declaring that 70 ballots marked for the judge were remarked for Joseph A. Savage, his opponent in 1926.

On cross examination Attorney Albert Fink, representing Maguire, produced records of the election—which showed that Judge Jarecki had received 278 votes, agrain Savage's 60 in the precinct. Also under cross examination Schindler denied that he had said in a conversation that "Judge Jarecki would whitewash the case to protect his appointee, Maguire."

Schindler declared that the purpose of the league was "to make a heaven on earth," and that he did not work for money, "but through a sense of duty." He said that he did not know that his reports on election frauds were used by the league in letters asking donations.

SENTENCED UNDER DYER ACT.

Detroit, Mich., July 30.—(AP)—Richard Fayto, Peoria, Ill., was sentenced today to four and one-half years in the federal penitentiary upon his conviction for driving a stolen automobile from Peoria to Jonesville, Mich. He was arrested there March 22.

Friday, August 1

The Santa Fe and Fred Harvey desire to show you the successful result of several years' experimenting with the problem of keeping the air cool in dining, club and sleeping cars.

Never before has this costly refinement been placed on transcontinental trains. There is no draft—just washed, cooled air brought in overhead, keeping the temperature about 75 degrees Fahrenheit.

The first of these "cooled air diners" will be operated on the CHIEF—fastest and most exclusive train to Southern California.

Truly, the Santa Fe is the "cool summer way" and the "Chief" railway.

Your last chance to visit Arlington for a year—don't miss this opportunity of seeing the mighty climax to a record-breaking season at this famous racing shrine

SATURDAY marks the final day of a 30-day racing meet that will go down as the most successful and sensational horse-racing competition of all times. More people visited Arlington during this month of racing than have ever attended a similar meet in America—record-making purses were given away, a total of $650,000—$200,000 more than at any other track in a like period—the most distinguished thoroughbreds from the famous Eastern stables came to Chicago for the first time in twenty-five years.

As a fitting climax to the season of thrills and records, Arlington offers the Post and Paddock Stakes as a feature for Saturday—Getaway day. The purse for this race will gross nearly $30,000—the richest 2-year-old special of Spring and Summer racing.

Every 2-year-old in America is eligible for this race for the first time in the history of Western racing. Potential starters are Siskin, winner of the Agua Caliente Futurity and the Hyde Park Stakes; Betty Derr, winner of the Debutante renewals at Churchill Downs and Washington Park and a Clipsetta at Latonia; Don Leon, which has just scored in a Cincinnati Trophy; Back Log, winner of the Harold at Latonia; Happy Scot, winner of the Pimlico Nursery. Also B'ar Hunter, Insco, Priory, Pittsburgher, Valedictory, Don Alvaro, Bathorse, Chicago Girl, Outbound, Mad Career, Laddie, Outburst, First Vote.

The winner of the Post and Paddock may be the contending horse for the 2-year-old championship with Harry Payne Whitney's Equipoise in the Saratoga Special.

In addition to the Post and Paddock, there will be the Arlington Matron, a dash of one mile for mares 3 years old and over, and five other exciting races. The Matron has a probable value of $10,000 and will draw such thoroughbreds as Snowflake, Lady Broadcast, Easter Stockings, Nellie Curtis, Alcibiades, Valenciennes, Pansy Walker.

Don't miss this last chance for a year to see this famous racing shrine conducted on a non-profit policy by leading citizens of Chicago—sport for sport's sake only. Spend a most enjoyable afternoon—full of thrills, color and glamour.

FORD AND EDISON GIVE THEIR VIEWS ON U. S. BUSINESS

Both Think Outlook Is Bright.

West Orange, N. J., July 30.—[Special.]—Henry Ford, 67 years old today, sat on the fence here this morning talking for an hour about life and business. Thomas E. Edison, host of forty-nine boys competing for the Edison scholarship this year, sat at an old oak desk in his West Grange laboratory and did the same thing.

"Business will be all right," Mr. Ford said, "as soon as the leaders sense what the public needs and gives it to them cheap."

"What does the public need, Mr. Ford?"

"Well, in my particular case," replied Mr. Ford, "it's motor cars, and the agents have started to call for them now."

Mr. Ford would not be specific about other needs except for the suggestion that not one person in ten, he believed, had a bathtub in this country.

Says Human Needs Unlimited.

"The people can use many more things," he said. "There is no limit to the human needs. It took a long time for the people to get interested in the stock market and then for the market to crash, and I suppose it will take a long time to get over that entirely, but, still, people are getting valuable experience now.

"You notice everybody is anxious to get busy. That's one of the healthiest signs. They wonder why they can't do something. Eventually they will think right and find a way.

"Perhaps the bankers have too much control today. We have always managed to keep our business independent of the bankers. Also, I think one trouble is that people start in industries on too big a scale." Mr. Ford gently uncrossed his legs, looked up from the ground, and said that only last night he had been making some notes on a possible new industry.

Considers Water With Kick.

"I was thinking," he said, "that there might be a new water produced which would do good and have a kick in it. I believe there might be a great industry in that. There are many places in this country where the water is bad."

"But how about the kick?" a reporter asked.

"Just get dry enough and good, pure water has plenty of kick," said Mr. Ford, looking extremely sober.

Mr. Edison's ideas were expressed in reply to a questionnaire.

"Do you feel that the country is suffering from business depression?" he was asked.

"No, the workers are scared and will not buy," said Mr. Edison.

"What is the future of the unemployment situation?"

"We are bound to have these depressions no matter how perfect our financial standing is. Men are natural born gamblers and will always overdo things."

"Do you believe that public consumption will be able indefinitely to absorb the continually increasing output of mass production?"

"Of course, the market is limited for the farmers to the size of the consumer's stomach," was Mr. Edison's only reply.

Says Machines Increase Leisure.

He said that the machine age would increase the individual's leisure and opportunity for full development.

"Is the individual likely to use this leisure wisely?"

"Yes, if he shuns whisky."

He considered the economic and moral freedom of women good for them and for the race.

"They have started enforcing the law," he said regarding prohibition. "And if decently enforced it will be of enormous benefit."

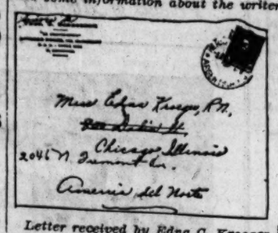
GEN. H. A. WHEELER CELEBRATES HIS 80TH BIRTHDAY

Officers of the 132d infantry, headed by Col. Fred Rand, last night helped Brig. Gen. Harris A. Wheeler, former commander of the old Second infantry, Illinois National Guard, to celebrate his 80th birthday at his home at 1741 West Monroe street. Veterans of the old Second infantry, which became the 132d during the World war, also took part. These included Brig. Gen. James E. Stuart, another former commander of the old Second infantry.

Brig. Gen. Wheeler, a veteran of the Civil war, reorganized the Second infantry as a unit of the Illinois National Guard in 1884 and served as its commander until 1890. Several of the men who had served under him attended his birthday celebration.

INTERESTING LETTERS

If you have received a letter from an interesting or little known place send the envelope to The Tribune, stating name of place where it was mailed and some information about the writer of the letter.



Letter received by Edna C. Kroeger, Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, Ill.

"I received this letter recently from Mrs. Theodore Schroeder," Miss Kroeger writes. "She and her husband went to Argentina about two years ago as missionaries, and are located in the northern part of the country in the province of Entre Rios. They are living directly in the primeval forests, if sufficient part of which was cleared of the palm trees to enable them to build a little mud house.

"Their roads consist of paths which are so muddy at times that it takes seven horses to pull a wagon through. The mud is sometimes so deep that it covers the wagon box. The letter was postmarked at Hernandarias, but their nearest town is Alcarez Norte, eighteen miles distant from their camp."

The territory in which the Schroeders work is called Entre Rios, or "between rivers," because of the fact that it lies between two rivers, the Uruguay on the east and the Parana on the west. The entire province has an area of approximately 30,000 square miles. The large forest of Monteil in the north of Entre Rios occupies nearly a fifth of its entire area.

The fertile soil makes this an important agricultural sector of Argentina, producing wheat, barley, corn, and fruit. The principal industry of the province, however, is the raising of stock, and there is a considerable import trade in live cattle, horses, hides and tinned beef. Railroads and the two rivers afford excellent shipping facilities.

REVEAL PASCHEN AS JOB SPONSOR OF JOHN P. REED

Wolfe Tells of Plea for Place.

Building Commissioner Paschen was revealed yesterday as political sponsor of John P. Reed, deputy chief police operator. Reed, an ex-lawyer and former member of the pension board, was mentioned in a pension scandal five years ago and was said to have charged police widows exorbitant fees for obtaining pensions for them.

It was learned from Richard W. Wolfe, commissioner of public works, that Paschen was Reed's sponsor when the latter was placed on the payroll of the city water office on Feb. 24. There Reed was made a temporary senior clerk, a position paying $2,120 yearly, and served until July 7, when Acting Police Commissioner Alcock ordered Chief Police Operator Burton E. Thompson to place Reed as chief deputy on a 60 day temporary appointment. His present job pays $2,600 annually.

Recently Mr. Paschen was asked about reports that he was Reed's sponsor. "There's a man by the name of Reed living in my ward," was the reply. Reed's address in the water office files was given as 6556 Glenwood avenue, which is in Paschen's ward, the 49th.

Mr. Paschen made a non-commital reply when asked directly if he got Reed a place on the payroll.

Previously it had been reported that First Assistant Corporation Counsel James W. Breen was responsible for Reed's appointment as operator. This Breen denied, saying, "I haven't done a favor for that man since I've been back in the hall."

WOMAN'S BODY IDENTIFIED.

The body of a young woman taken from the north branch of the river at Fullerton avenue yesterday was identified as that of Miss Mary Krochman, 32 years old, 2237 North Leavitt street, by her father, Joseph. He told the police she was mentally unbalanced.

BACKYARD ZOO GETS ON NERVES OF NEIGHBORS

A family menagerie of 200 guinea pigs, 30 rabbits, 30 chickens, four goats, four dogs, and quite a few pigeons constitutes a public nuisance, Deputy Health Commissioner Koehler decided yesterday. Three neighbors of Joseph Heinrich, 7251 South Campbell avenue, charged yesterday that Heinrich keeps this zoo on a 75 foot unfenced lot and that he has, in addition, 10 children.

"For instance, the goats—" said Policeman L. A. Schilling, 7256 South Campbell avenue, one of the neighbors, "the —— things fairly overrun the neighborhood. I found one of them in my basement one night, and the dog pound authorities wouldn't come and take it because they didn't have any hay there to feed it."

Dr. Koehler directed a health inspector to investigate and swear out a warrant for Heinrich's arrest.

HOSPITAL SUED FOR $100,000 IN BABY SHUFFLE

Mrs. Watkins' Complaint Charges Negligence.

A suit for $100,000 damages was filed in Superior court yesterday against the Englewood Hospital association by Mrs. Margaret Watkins, 1619 West 82d street, mother of one of two babies in the Bamberger-Watkins baby mixup.

The hospital and its employes are charged with negligence in giving her the baby that, she contends, rightfully belong to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bamberger of 5523 South Paulina street, and in giving them her child. The baby taken by Mrs. Watkins was tagged "Bamberger," while the one they Bambergers received was tagged "Watkins."

A bill in equity to establish identity was filed in the Circuit court on Tuesday in behalf of the baby Mrs. Watkins now has. Attorneys Barratt O'Hara and Ronald C. Oldham filed both suits.

Lawyer Issues Statement.

Mr. O'Hara in a statement yesterday said that whether Mrs. Watkins' baby is legitimate or illegitimate, or whether or not she was properly wed to William Watkins, had no bearing on her suit against the hospital.

Watkins' first wife, Mrs. Anna Van Stan Watkins, Philedalphia cabaret entertainer, who has charged that he did not divorce her, yesterday said that if she was w.. ed she would come to Chicago to aid the hospital authorities if he sued them for damages, according to Philadelphia dispatches.

Attorney O'Hara said Mr. and Mrs. Watkins had told him that they were married legally on June 29, 1929, and that he believed them.

Mrs. Watkins, after she and her husband had discussed the case in Mr. O'Hara's office at 100 North La Salle street, departed for Braceville to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stahle. She took the baby who, her complaint charges, really belongs to the Bambergers.

Sends Picture to Aid Inquiry.

A picture of Mr. Watkins when he was 4 weeks old was received yesterday from his mother, Mrs. Evan Watkins, of Conshohocken, Pa. Mr. Watkins' mother says the picture of her son as a baby resembles the published photographs of the "Bamberger baby." Mr. Watkins agreed with her, but his wife thought the picture resembled the baby she now has, she said.

A massmeeting of "mothers, prospective mothers and prospective brides" will be held at 1:30 p. m. today in the ballroom of the Sherman hotel to be presided over by Mrs. Grace Dibrell, acting president of the Associated Mothers of Illinois. They will plan to obtain legislation to protect the identities of babies in maternity wards and will ask for an investigation of all maternity wards in Chicago.

PENNSYLVANIA'S 1930 POPULATION PLACED AT ABOUT 9,630,000

Harrisburg, Pa., July 30.—(AP)—Pennsylvania's 1930 population is approximately 9,630,000, the Associated Press tabulation of census figures today indicated.

With reports from supervisors in only a dozen townships and boroughs in McKean, Clearfield, and Centre counties missing, the compilation showed a state total of 9,620,119. Of the missing districts, ten are in Centre and Clearfield counties, where a decrease has been general, so that the probable total of the twelve will not exceed their aggregate of 15,832 of ten years ago.

Iowa's Population 2,467,900.

Washington, D. C., July 30.—[Special.]—Iowa's population was announced today as 2,467,900, a gain of 2.7 per cent in ten years. Sixty-one of the state's 99 counties and twenty of its twenty-one principal cities gained.

U. S. Marshal Suicide in Rapids of Niagara

Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 30.—(AP)—Edward Obenauer, deputy United States marshal and well known in politics, committed suicide tonight by plunging 200 feet from the lower steel arch bridge to the rapids of the Niagara river.

Kicked on Shins, Lawyer's Wife Says; She Sues Him

Elmer W. Arch, an attorney with offices at 30 North La Salle street, was sued for separate maintenance yesterday in Circuit court by Mrs. Irene Arch, 7707 Adams street, Forest Park. She charges cruelty and asserts he kicked her in the shins in the summer of 1929 while they were on a vacation at Lake Zurich. Mrs. Arch says her husband has an annual income of $35,000 and owns property worth $100,000. The couple were married on July 17, 1923, and separated last month, according to the bill.

GIVE YOUR MOUTH THIS NEW THRILL

If your closest friend said to you "I wish you'd try PEBECO Tooth Paste—it's the only one that 'packs a wallop'", you'd give it a trial, wouldn't you? Know then, that thousands upon thousands think that way about Pebeco, people who tired of candy-like dentifrices and, trying Pebeco, adopted it for life. A fact: Pebeco keeps its friends longer than any other dentifrice! Because while cleaning and whitening, it stimulates the flow of saliva, Nature's own corrective agent against mouth acids and tooth decay. You'll adopt it too—if you try it.

FROM UPPER MICHIGAN TO EUROPE
(A travel vision by our own office visualizer)

IT'S just a step, these accelerated days. Into an airplane. Or a de luxe train. Then a look-in at the New York shops and the Broadway shows. Next a taxi piled with what's new in luggage. "The Cunard Line, driver." And it's over the gangway, up the mountainous sides of the BERENGARIA, the MAURETANIA or the AQUITANIA.

A sitting-room stateroom filled with your friend's flowers. A gala dinner of as many courses or as few as you like. Music, and dancing. Keeping fit on the electric camel in the gymnasium. Bridge in a richly furnished lounge or intimate card room, fragrant with growing plants. New faces. New friendships.

The landing at Cherbourg. Quick change of scene. French porters. Gallic animation. Good! You actually understood a phrase. Then zip and away to Paris.

Where's that list of restaurants? French ones. Russian ones. What's that special fish place? Oh, yes. Prunier's. Look! Those darling French children with skirts an inch long. Is this the Bois? Isn't it gorgeously green? Let's get tickets for the Folies Bergere! Ah! There's the Eiffel Tower. All electric lights! And what color effects! Who told us about those night clubs on the Rue de Clichy?

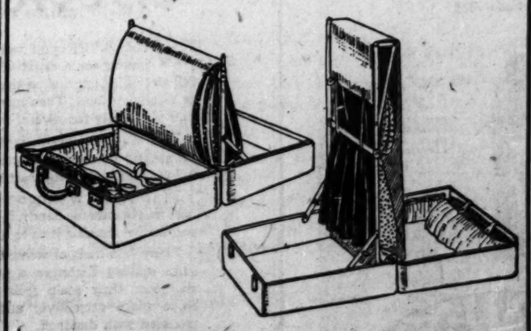
It's the latest trick in trunk engineering . . . carries all you need for an extended trip . . . 12 or more dresses with their shoes, hose and lingerie. It's light, smart and portable. Best of all, it gives your dresses the same protection as a wardrobe trunk. The "Wonderbilt" is truly revolutionary.

You Need a "Wonderbilt" Because:

1. It is less than pullman size —20x16x8½.
2. It is wrinkle proof, yet it will hold more than a dozen dresses, hats, shoes and accessories.
3. The automatic elevated duo dress bars, which break in the center, make possible the packing of the longest dress.
4. Dresses not wanted can be easily removed, by simply throwing back unwanted garments, from the rear to front bar and vice versa.
5. A full length curtain cover protects the dresses and separates hats, shoes and accessories.
6. The "Wonderbilt" price is as appealing as its alluring style.



An expert demonstrator will be at The Fair all this week to show you how to pack your dresses.

FAMOUS BAR OF TWO QUART HAT DAYS VANISHES

New York Landmark Says Farewell.

BY TOM PETTEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—The North River hotel is coming down to make way for a skyscraper, and it is probably just as well, for nobody much stops there now and the famous old bar has suffered enough indignities since prohibition and near beer came to scar its mahogany pride. It is just another of those dismal, dirty old brick buildings that lean against their proud ferro-concrete brothers and await the wrecker's hammer.

It is just a tottering, ancient waterfront landmark to the thousands of commuters that scurry in and out of the ferry maws nearby on their endless rounds between their boxhouse homes and their adding machines and ledgers. They will scarcely heed its passing.

It Was Different Once.

But back at the turn of the century and long before, when men wore stovepipe hats and the rustle of the bustle could be heard in the streets, the North River hotel was an establishment famous the world over for its hourseshoe bar and the good cheer that was dispensed there when travelers poured into the city from ferries and ocean steamships that docked nearby.

Tucked away at the corner of Barclay and West streets, under the shadow of the giant Telephone building, the old fashioned hostelry closed its doors last night, but first it held open house. Today its last guest checked out to take up lodgings in Bellevue hospital. The doctors said old Jerry Sullivan, who had lived at the hotel for half a century, was suffering from infirmities associated with his declining years.

Old Guests Bid Farewell.

A lot of people who had prospered and moved uptown and some who had not prospered returned to the old hotel for "open house" on its last night before it went the way of all mortar. One who dropped in for a last glass of near beer wore several suits of clothes under a great overcoat tied round him with a piece of rope. He did not appear to notice the heat nor anything else for that matter. The landlord whispered that the old derelict was reputed to be "very wealthy."

In the center of the barroom was the ancient old iron pot stove that used to serve as a gathering spot when the gallants of the day made merry. It was the pot stove that held the red hot poker with which the drinkers on winter nights heated their mugs of beer and ale. Over the bar hung a painting of the first owner of the hotel, Fred Baar. Wearing a stovepipe hat and castiron pants Baar looked down on his 1930 guests.

Some Faded Photographs.

On a table under one of those glass domes that used to house wax flowers were the mounted photographs of four actresses of another day. Three of them were clad in tights, but the fourth wore a bustle. Fannie Rice was standing, for the bustle was on Fanny. Josie Parker, Agnes Evans Wright and a Miss Dunbar wore the tights, and Miss Wright was rakishly tipping a chair with her foot.

RAILROAD MACHINIST KILLED.

Aubrey Dalton, 40 years old, a machinist in the Galewood shops of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad, was struck in the abdomen by a piece of machinery yesterday and died while being taken to a hospital.

Mooney to Get New Hearing; Witness Says He Framed Him

San Francisco, Cal., July 30.—(AP)—Gov. C. C. Young today notified Lieut. Gov. H. L. Carnahan, chairman of the state advisory pardon board, to hold himself and other members in readiness for an early hearing on Thomas J. Mooney's application for a pardon.

The governor's action came while the state Supreme court was concluding the second day of its examination of John MacDonald, 58 year old Baltimore waiter, who insists that he swore falsely fourteen years ago when he identified Mooney and Warren K. Billings as the planters of the Preparedness day bomb of 1916, which killed ten persons and injured forty others.

As court recessed, Chief Justice Waste announced Gov. Young would personally examine MacDonald either Saturday or Monday in connection with Mooney's pardon application. The governor said he would be guided in the Mooney case by the Supreme court recommendation regarding Billings. He cannot act in the Billings case without a Supreme court recommendation, because of a prior conviction of Billings.

To Take Stand Again.

MacDonald was expected to be recalled after the testimony of Police Captain Charles Goff, whom MacDonald has accused of "goading" him to identify the prisoners falsely.

MacDonald also testified that Charles Fickert, then district attorney, had influenced him to identify Mooney and Billings.

Macdonald, under examination by Fickert, testified the prosecutor promised him a "big slice" of the $17,500 reward if he testified as directed.

Fickert declared Macdonald met him for the first time the day the grand jury convened.

"It was before that," said Macdonald firmly.

"As a matter of fact, were you ever in my office before your grand jury appearance?" asked Fickert.

"Yes, sir," answered the witness, "eight or ten times. You remember that."

"When did you first hear about the big slice of the $17,500 reward?" Fickert asked.

"In your office," Macdonald replied.

Still Feels Fickert's "Power."

Questioning then turned to the "power" Macdonald said Fickert exercised over him. Judge Preston asked Macdonald if he still felt he was in Fickert's clutches.

"I am," the witness answered. "I am in a daze right now."

MacDonald capped his various conflicting stories as to his knowledge of the case today by saying he was within 100 feet of the bombing, and never saw or heard it.

Attorney Edwin McKenzie of Mooney-Billings counsel brought out that Billings was alone when MacDonald first saw him at the Richmond police station after the bombing.

MacDonald also said, while he had no conversation with Billings at the jail, he knew the prisoner was not the man who had planted the bomb.

Photographs Produced.

McKenzie presented an enlarged picture of the Eilers building the day of the Preparedness day parade, which showed Mooney watching from the roof clad in a light checkered suit.

The attorney pointed out that MacDonald previously had testified he saw the man identified as Mooney leave the scene of the bombing shortly before the explosion, while the picture showed Mooney at 2:01 p. m. more than 6,000 feet from the scene of the bombing. The explosion occurred at 2:06 p. m.

Duncan Matheson, acting captain of police at the time of the bombing, told the court he had "grave doubts" as to the guilt of Mooney and Billings.

EVANSTON WIFE KILLED, DOCTOR HURT IN CRASH

Fannie Stearns Dies in Auto Smashup.

En route to his summer home at Stone lake, near Manitowish, Wis., Dr. William M. Stearns, 74 years old, 1125 Maple avenue, Evanston, last night drove his car into a ditch, near Milwaukee. Mrs. Fannie Stearns, 68 years old, his wife, was instantly killed and Dr. Stearns was critically injured. Dr. Stearns, apparently confused by the lights of an approaching automobile, lost control of the wheel. Dr. Stearns, a well known aurist, has offices in the Marshall Field annex, 25 East Washington street. He is in the county hospital at Wauwatosa, a suburb of Milwaukee.

Two Die in Cook County.

John Jacobs, 71 years old, 7830 South Halsted street, died yesterday at the Auburn Park hospital from injuries received on Sunday when run down by an automobile while crossing Halsted street at 73d street. Thomas Flisk, 7839 South Sangamon street, the driver, was held.

John Haraes, 65 years old, 2933 Milwaukee avenue, an architect, died at the Washington Park hospital from injuries received on July 23 when he was struck at South Park way and 57th street by a machine driven by John Sadienski, 2338 Walton place.

Quiz Attorney After Crash.

Attorney Thomas A. Green, 10633 Avenue F, former assistant corporation counsel and Democratic candidate for judge in the Municipal court, was questioned by police yesterday after his automobile crashed into a milk wagon at 72d street and South Chicago avenue, seriously injuring the driver.

Herman P. Olsen, 38 years old, 5530 Lake Park avenue, driver of the wagon, was taken to the Jackson Park hospital, where it was reported he had received internal injuries and a possible fracture of the spine. Olsen is employed by the Bowman Dairy company.

Judge Shoots Son of Winning Political Rival

Wilburton, Okla., July 30.—(AP)—J. W. Callahan, county judge, was charged with assault with intent to kill today, following the probable fatal shooting of Frank Briggs, 18, son of Claude Briggs, who opposed Callahan yesterday as a candidate for the state senate. Officers took Callahan out of the city. His whereabouts was kept secret. The elder Briggs tonight appeared to have won the Democratic senatorial nomination over Callahan.

KILLED BY FALLING TREE.

San Diego, Cal., July 30.—(AP)—Miss Dorothy Edwards, 19, paused a moment beside an old palm tree at the City Plaza yesterday. Without warning the tree top broke away and fell upon her. She died from the injuries.

army which is supposed to be marching to Changsha from the Hunan and Kiangsi borders.

British naval authorities are planning an expedition to attempt to remove British property not already destroyed. It is reported that the Japanese have dispatched several small navy launches up the river to Changsha, but the result of the expedition is not yet known.

The American naval establishment near Hankow reports insufficient boats and personnel, making it necessary to utilize the services of boats belonging to the British and Japanese.

List of Destroyed Missions.

SHANGHAI, July 30.—(AP)—A list of missions at Changsha, Hunan province capital, reported looted and burned by communists, follows:

Domestic and Foreign Missionary society of the Protestant Episcopal church of the United States, with American headquarters in New York; Hunan Bible institute, which is the China department of the Bible institute of Los Angeles, Cal.; Hunan Faith mission, supported by the Galilee Baptist church at Denver; British-American China Inland mission, American headquarters at Germantown, Pa.; German Liezenbeller mission, headquarters at Liezenbeller, Germany; Norwegian Missionary society, headquarters at Stavanger, Norway; American Northern Presbyterian mission, headquarters in New York; Board of Foreign missions of the Reformed church of the United States, headquarters in Philadelphia; Seventh Day Adventist mission, headquarters in Washington, D. C.; Wesleyan Methodist Missionary society, headquarters in London; Yale Foreign Missionary society, headquarters in New Haven; Y. M. C. A., headquarters in New York.

Dispatches from northern insurgent and Japanese sources tonight said rebels along the Tsinanfu-Tsingtao railway in Shantung province drove back Nationalist forces in hurried retreat.

SEEK TO LIFT U. S. MAIL BAN ON RED ORGAN

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—Whether barring the July 15 issues of Revolutionary Age, a communist organ, from the United States mails constituted suppression of liberty of the press or a measure to thwart a concerted aim to overthrow the government by force and violence was argued today before Federal District Judge John M. Woolsey on application to restrain the postoffice authorities from continuing the bar.

Arthur Garfield Hays, asked by the American Civil Liberties union to appear for Benjamin Gitlow, publisher of the communist fortnightly, sought a temporary injunction pending a hearing restraining the postoffice from maintaining the prohibition. United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle appeared personally to contest the application. Judge Woolsey, after argument lasting an hour and a half, reserved decision, requesting that affidavits and other papers be submitted to him by Monday.

but why the difference?

One wears a constant smile . . . the glow of health is on his cheek . . . his eyes are clear and keen. The other . . . well, he's quickly dismissed as a "crab" . . . just a testy old man. Yet both are 70—both have won success—WHY THE DIFFERENCE?

Simply this . . . the happy one, with his boyish smile and very evident joy in life, has something the other lacks—a gift of nature, easily within the other's reach . . . if he only knew!

ACIDURO—The Superior Acidophilus Milk—will bring the same youthful pep and vigor to "the old Crab." Its billions of aciduric health units will clear his colon of the putrefaction that aids in the causing of constipation—that slows his physical and mental processes—that keeps him feeling poorly, tired out, and old!

Physicians recommend ACIDURO for such men . . . and it frequently works wonders for them. Ask your own doctor about ACIDURO.

Telephone Wabash 9378

ACIDURO contains the required number of aciduric health units for maximum effectiveness—over 500 million per cubic centimeter—a rarely high number—a lesser quantity is not efficient

Your neighborhood druggist has ACIDURO, or can get it for you. Try this tasteful beverage made from pure, whole milk. Look for the distinctive bottle and dated label.

The ACIDURO Superior ACIDOPHILUS MILK

The use of ACIDURO (Acidophilus Milk) is indicated for preserving vigor and for the relief of constipation and intestinal putrefaction, which is believed to cause auto intoxication, interfering with longevity and the normal approach to uncomplicated old age.

Clean the scalp -check DANDRUFF

WHENEVER you wash your hair—and most people do it once a week—douse full strength Listerine on the scalp either before or after the rinse. Then massage the scalp and hair vigorously for several minutes.

You will be simply delighted by the wonderful feeling of cleanness and exhilaration that follows this refreshing treatment.

Moreover, it is unquestionably one of the best treatments for dandruff—for preventing it, and for overcoming it once it has started.

Many hundreds of women have told us that since making Listerine a part of the weekly shampoo, their scalp feels better, their hair looks more attractive, and they are never troubled with dandruff.

Of course, if dandruff does get a start, it will be necessary to repeat the Listerine treatment systematically for several days, using a little olive oil in conjunction with it if the scalp and hair are excessively dry.

Listerine removes and dissolves the dandruff particles and heals and soothes the scalp. Also, if infection is present—and most dermatologists define dandruff as a germ infection—Listerine immediately combats it.

As you know, Listerine kills germs in 15 seconds; even the stubborn Staphylococcus Aureus (pus) and Bacillus Typhosus (typhoid) yield to it in counts ranging to 200,000,000—yet Listerine is safe to use. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

POWERS PROTEST PLAN TO RESTORE EX-KING OF EGYPT

Fear Coup d'Etat Will Cost Foreign Lives.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 30.—Egyptian circles in London today claimed that both the French and Italian governments have protested to Great Britain against the return of Abbas Hilmi, former khedive, to the throne of Egypt, on grounds that it would provoke disorders in which foreign lives and properties might be endangered.

The British government's position appears to be that it is none of its business who reigns in Egypt as long as British and foreign interests are protected, and it is disposed to look benevolently on any change settling the relations between Egypt and Great Britain.

Majority Back Hilmi.

Egyptians here declare, that if Great Britain keeps her hands off, Hilmi will be restored with the backing of 90 per cent of the people of Egypt.

It is also alleged here that Sir Percy Lorraine, British high commissioner for Egypt, has had several meetings with Nahas Pasha, Nationalist leader, and discussed with him the program of the Wafd or Nationalist party in the event that King Fuad is deposed and Abbas Hilmi is recalled.

DEPOSED KHEDIVE TALKS

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

AIX-LES-BAINS, France, July 30.—The possibility of a dramatic coup d'etat in Egypt with the exiled khedive reascending the throne was foreshadowed today when Abbas Hilmi II, for 22 years the ruler of Egypt until the British forced him to abdicate in 1914 told THE TRIBUNE in an exclusive interview today that King Fuad's government is doomed if he persists in fighting the Nationalist movement.

Installed in a luxurious suite at an hotel overlooking the rugged hills and mist filled valleys of Savoy, Abbas Hilmi, who is the nephew of King Fuad and Wafdist candidate for the throne, is holding himself in readiness in case he is called. He is watching developments closely and is kept in constant touch by frequent visits from prominent Wafdist leaders. He declared his willingness to return if the country needed him.

Contrary to what might be expected from the man who fought British rule in Egypt so bitterly throughout his reign, Hilmi declared himself strongly in favor of an Egyptian policy of friendly coöperation with England.

Suggest Sudan Concessions.

The basis of such coöperation he said would be in the proposed treaty recently negotiated with the MacDonald government. In order to insure the ratification of this treaty and resultant peace with England the former ruler declares that Egypt should even make further concessions on the bitterly disputed question of the administration of the Sudan.

SENTENCE BROOKLYN JUDGE TO SIX YEARS IN MAIL FRAUD CASE

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—A sentence of six years in the federal penitentiary, the longest sentence given any of the six men convicted of mail fraud and conspiracy in the Columbia Finance corporation case, was imposed on former Kings County Judge W. Bernard Vause this afternoon by Federal Judge Coxe.

The ex-judge took the sentence calmly. He had already announced, after his conviction last week, that he would appeal.

As a county judge Vause was noted for inflicting severe penalties and expressing the opinion that the law should be less lenient. He urged, among other things, a whipping post for criminals.

He was sentenced to five years' imprisonment on each of the twelve counts of mail fraud for which he was convicted, to be served concurrently, and one year on the thirteenth count of conspiracy.

Former Judge Vause still faces a federal indictment for perjury in his testimony about a $250,000 fee he received from the United American lines for obtaining two North river pier leases, but United States Attorney Charles Tuttle said he will not make a decision in this case for at least a week.

FLOOD CARRIES AWAY 300 HOUSES; MANY DROWNED

KHIVA, Uzbekistan, U. S. S. R., July 30.—(AP)—Many persons were drowned, numerous villages submerged, and 300 houses carried away by a disastrous flood of the Amudara river, the largest stream in Asiatic Russia. In the Kipchak region a number of dams were destroyed, large numbers of cattle were killed and nearly 1,000 acres of rich sown land were inundated.

Indus Flood Grows.

KARACHI, India, July 30.—(AP)—Flood waters from the Indus river steadily advanced on the city of Shikarpur today while thousands of peasants fled in terror and looters added to the confusion by pillaging.

The breaking of the Indus river dams and the overflowing of neighboring streams and canals submerged 100 villages and sent the peasants of the upper Sind racing for higher ground. An area of 150 square miles between the Sind river and Shikarpur is one vast sheet of water. About 30,000 refugees have been evacuated from Sokkur. Quetta has been cut off by serious breaks in the railway.

DIES MOWING LAWN.

Plymouth, Ind., July 30.—[Special.]—Charles W. Phillips, 57, dropped dead while mowing his lawn in Plymouth this morning. His widow and three children survive.

Fire Captain Hurt When Truck and Trolley Collide

Capt. Patrick Sullivan, 41 years old, of engine company No. 36 received a broken right leg yesterday when the fire truck he was riding collided with a surface car at Coulter and Leavitt streets. Passengers in the surface car were shaken up, but none was injured. The fire, at 2125 West 21st street, was extinguished with small loss.

TWO HELD FOR BURNING BABY.

El Paso, Tex., July 30.—(AP)—Josefina Aguirre, 24, and Rosilisa Roja, 23, were arrested in connection with the burning to death early today of Mrs. Roja's 18 month old baby.

DOYLE'S SPIRIT HOVERS AROUND HER, WIDOW SAYS

CROWBOROUGH, England, July 30.—(AP)—Lady Conan Doyle today said that since the death of her husband, famous writer and spiritualist leader, July 7 last, she has received numerous communications from him.

Lady Doyle said her late husband's spirit had been seen by several other persons. She produced a "spirit photograph" of him, taken by the Rev. Charles L. Tweedale, vicar of Weston, in Yorkshire. She said there was no possible doubt regarding the authenticity of the picture.

Resemblance Is Seen.

There are three faces on the photographic plate. At least one of the faces in the picture bears a striking resemblance to the late writer.

"We are happy because we know our dear one is with us," said Lady Doyle. "Were it not for this knowledge of his presence, I frankly should not have been able to survive. His passing would have killed me."

She paused, and her smiling eyes were wet as she added this tribute:

"I adored him. Never in all the wonderful years we were together did I fail to feel a thrill when he was near me. I experienced it the moment he entered the room where I was."

Expects to See Spirit.

Asked if she had seen her husband's spirit, she replied that she had not, perhaps not being psychic enough, or conditions not being right. But she firmly expects the time will arrive when she will see him.

"He, undoubtedly, is within this room now, and if we were psychic enough we should recognize his presence," she said.

She declined to disclose any of her late husband's messages for publication.

"Not now," she said. "They were far too sacred for publication at this time. Later, I probably shall give to the world these communications, which, I feel, will be of value to the public."

Lady Doyle intends to carry on her husband's work to the best of her ability.

"I am not competent to take his place, but I shall do what I can for the cause," she said.

Her son, Denis, aged 21, has also decided to devote his life to spiritualism. Until recently he had planned to be a lawyer.

ASK BRITISH TO LET JAILED INDIA LEADERS MEET

Truce May Depend on Viceroy's Order.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BOMBAY, July 30.—Progress today appeared to have been made in the peace negotiations with the Nationalist leaders of India. However, the question raised in the British parliament by Neville Chamberlain as to whether those guilty of civil disobedience could participate at the round table conference in London in October apparently complicates the matter. A ruling against them would shut out Mahatma Gandhi and the three successive presidents of the All India congress working committee now in jail.

The Nationalists, having boycotted the report of the Simon commission, naturally would absent themselves from the conference unless overtures are made by the British government.

Petition Lord Irwin.

The peace delegates, Sir Tej Sapru and Mr. Jayakar, who visited Mr. Gandhi and the pandits Motilal and Jawaharlal Nehru in prison, have made representations to the viceroy that both the Nehrus be removed from the Naini jail and be taken to the Poona prison for a conference with Mr. Gandhi. The viceroy's decision on this matter probably will indicate what are the chances of peace.

Sir Tej is remaining at Allahabad, while Mr. Jayakar will reach Poona tonight for another conference with Mr. Gandhi. Later both delegates will go to Simla to report to the viceroy.

Plan to Boycott Polls.

BOMBAY, July 30.—(AP)—With plans for stiffening the boycott against British goods and intensifying the civil disobedience campaign believed to be its principal agenda, the working committee of the all-India congress opened its session today.

Only ten of the committee members were present, 21 being in prison on were present, 21 being in prison.

The committee tonight made public the following resolution:

"In view of the necessity for the nation's energy and attention being concentrated on vigorous continuance of the present mass movement the working committee earnestly appeals to all in India to abstain from standing as candidates, or voting, or otherwise participating, directly or indirectly, in the forthcoming elections to the legislatures."

FIRE DESTROYS HISTORIC CHURCH.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 30.—[Special.]—Historic St. Benedict's Catholic church was destroyed by fire here this afternoon. The fire is believed to have been started by careless workmen repainting part of the structure.

LEGAL STANDING OF BOAT CAFE STILL MYSTERY

U. S. Denies Authority Over "Rotarian."

Ouster proceedings started by the Sanitary district against individuals living in houseboats on the north branch of the river yesterday prompted an inquiry as to the legal status of the steamship Rotarian, also known as the "Walter J. Powers Fish and Chop House," which has been tied to a dock on the south side of the river between Clark and La Salle streets for nearly three years.

The matter remained a mystery last night with a possibility of a solution being reached in Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe's office today.

U. S. Has No Control.

The office of the United States resident engineer, who is in charge of the river, was first visited. In the absence of Maj. H. J. Wild, his chief clerk, G. W. Schaeffer, explained.

"We have no jurisdiction over the boat. It is tied to the dock and the city owns the dock. We received a letter some time ago asking us why the boat was allowed to remain there, but we could do nothing. The city harbormaster is in charge of such a matter. The government would be glad to get the boat out of the river."

At the office of Harbormaster Charles Agnew, it was stated that he knew nothing about the matter and that the boat was allowed to stay by "special permit" of Commissioner Wolfe's office. Commissioner Wolfe was interviewed and said he would look into the matter.

Prospered as Dance Hall.

The old boat was first towed into the river to serve as the headquarters of the "Cook County Democracy" which was supporting Mayor Thompson. Then it was changed into a taxi dance hall and prospered for a time until Police Commissioner Russell ordered it closed in August, 1929.

At that time an investigation was also started to determine by whose permission the ship was anchored. Commissioner Wolfe said he recalled vaguely that the boat was tied to the dock presumably by order of the city council. No records of a permit could be found.

On Aug. 27, 1929, it was stated that Commissioner Wolfe had asked the corporation counsel's office for an opinion to determine if the city should receive a fee for the use of the quay. Whether such an opinion was ever delivered in the eleven months intervening could not be learned.

A city official acquainted with the management of the boat said the restaurant had been losing money and might soon be closed.

2,000 Report Tomorrow to Open Sheridan C.M.T.C.

Two thousand young men of the Sixth army corps area will report tomorrow morning at the citizens' military training camp at Fort Sheridan for thirty days of military training. The first day will be devoted to obtaining uniforms and other equipment, and on Friday the regular army routine will commence when reveille sounds at 5 a. m. Brig. Gen. Caspar Conrad Jr. will have charge.

FARMER KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

Feel Fine!

IT'S a grand and glorious feeling to bounce out of bed ready for a good day's work, to do your job well, to feel friends with the world all day, and to have pep enough left over by night to enjoy your play! You can do it!

If you asked your doctor what you ought to do to feel this way, one of the first things he would tell you is: clean the bodily poisons out of your system regularly. That's half the battle. He would not advise you to do this with powerful drugs. No. He would recommend some simple, natural way—such as Nujol.

Crystal clear Nujol is not a medicine. It contains no drugs. It cannot hurt even a little baby. It is simply internal lubrication which your body needs like any other intricate machine.

Get a bottle today. Millions of other people have found Nujol makes all the difference between success and failure. Give yourself a chance to enjoy life!

Now wives who do all their own work have hands lovely as women with maids . . . thanks to Lux

Almost anywhere they may meet . . .

The woman of wealth—with maids at her call—the young wife who is homemaker — cook — dishwasher, too. Notice this amazing TRUE fact—

You can't tell, from their hands, which is which!

Everywhere wives are achieving this triumph . . . doing all the many tasks of a home . . . yet keeping their HANDS so EXQUISITE, so white—you'd think they never touched housework.

Women discovered the secret themselves. Washing fine things in Lux, they noticed how nice their hands looked afterward. Then began using Lux for dishes. For cleaning. Whenever their hands touched soap and water!

Almost AT ONCE their hands showed the difference . . . became lovelier . . . SMOOTH, WHITE, like a GIRL'S!

So wonderful is Lux for the hands that beauty experts—with all their experience—say, "We can't distinguish between the hands of a woman with maids and the hands of the housewife who uses Lux."

Here is the Secret

Why is Lux so fine for the hands? The reason is this. Many soaps contain harmful alkali that dries up the oils of the skin, the oils that nature placed there to keep the skin smooth and white.

Lux never dries these delicate oils. Those sparkling Lux suds in your dishpan are soothing and very bland.

SIXTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY.

In the historical abstract of three periods presented on this page Ten Years Ago Today has been changed to Sixteen Years Ago, thus reverting to the beginning of the world war. Readers who are interested in these flashes from the past will find themselves living again some of the old suspense of those incredible days when a man-made disaster was gathering momentum to crush Europe.

At the time there did not seem to be unescapable reasons for it. It did not have the appearance of inevitability then and hasn't now. It was fascinating and horrifying for that reason. Apparently two or three men were in a position to stop it and with growing stupefaction the outside world began to realize that they were not going to do it.

Such a war had been outlined many times as the innocent recreation of imaginative minds. It was true the armies existed, and with a sufficient reason they might be started in motion just as the professional or amateur strategists had often done, but the world wasn't mad. Such a war would be insanity and, civilization being confessedly sane, it could not produce such a mad thing.

A great many people here and in England particularly knew that human intentions had definitely passed over a divide in conduct. Things which had been possible in other times no longer were possible. Civilized humanity had made a distinct progress. It had entered a new era. It could not retreat. Such a war was an impossibility because of the indestructible achievements of human intelligence and reason. To admit that the great nations could be dragged back into medieval horrors was to deny that civilization had produced anything secure and dependable.

Even in the backward monarchies there had been too much progress. Even absolutism was not beyond the controlling counsels of sanity and humanity. This reasoning did not seem too pretentious. It seemed to be the necessary foundation of reasonable expectations. If these expectations were too optimistic nothing at all could be secure. People were not safe in any of their beliefs or hopes if they could not rely upon their protections against such disasters which must have their source in human will and purpose.

Human pretensions had to take the blow. The incredible became the unescapable. The impossible became the reality. The barrier which separated the present from the past was found to be no barrier at all. The new era was just some more of the old in its worst form. The future did not have new laws. It had the old ones. Human egotism has been trying to re-create its illusions ever since. Some day, of course, it will succeed. Meanwhile it is likely to be guided by them even if not with full confidence that they are controlling realities.

CHINESE NEWS.

Although the people of China are about a quarter of the human race and are now passing through a transition which contains the possibilities of great consequence to the world, not many of us pay much attention to what is happening in that vast and distracted continent. News like that of the looting and burning of Changsha and the hazard of foreign lives through the spread of the communist forces reaches the first page for a day or two, but soon we turn away to matters which are nearer to us and more real. Some excuse may be plead for us in the confusion that prevails and the obscure and complicated forces at work. It is uncommonly difficult to make head or tail of them and we doubt the Chinese understand them much better than we. Both the pessimistic and the optimistic diagnosticians of China's malaise have plausible grounds for their conclusions, and in this cloudy land of theory and conjecture the outlander may be excused for giving the whole conundrum up.

Latest of the changes in the kaleidoscope is the presence of Wang Chin-wei in Peiping. Mr. Wang is a radical of what is called the left wing of the Kuomintang or Nationalist party. He has been in asylum or retreat at Hongkong, but lately he has gone to Peiping to confer with Feng Yu-hsiang, former or so-called Christian general, and Yen Hsi-shan, the "model governor," who are now in control of the northern capital and directing the military and political revolt against the Nanking government, which has been diplomatically recognized by Washington as the government of China. What this conjunction means only events can tell us. The coöperation of Feng and Wang is consistent with their political affiliations. Wang is a Nationalist of the left or radical faction which was defeated in Nationalist party politics by Chiang Kai-shek and the Nanking group. This left wing has been friendly to soviet diplomacy in China and was for a time largely under the influence of its emissaries. Feng spent two years or so in Russia after his loss of Peking about four years ago and is believed to have been obtaining his military supplies and financial support from Moscow. The coöperation of Feng and Wang, therefore, seems logical. Yen, on the other hand, who is said to be the leader or most powerful factor in the northern combination against the Nanking party, has been thought to be more conservative and is not yet known to be inclined toward Russian influence in Chinese affairs or toward soviet doctrines. Peiping has been, in fact, the rallying point of the more conservative Chinese factions. What has become of the lesser leaders of these factions in the present combination would be interesting to know.

The more cynical foreign observers of Chinese politics would say that it is futile to speculate upon the ostensible theories of these Chinese leaders of faction and war lords, because their theories are not sincerely held and their actions are governed solely by ambition for power or desire of profit or both. This view finds a good deal of support in appearances and may be sound. It is also true that the forces operative in China are often quite beyond their control. But the evident recrudescence of violent anti-foreignism with communist trimmings and probably under Russian encouragement is likely to compel our more serious attention to Chinese developments for some time.

THE ALDERMEN EVADE THE ISSUE.

The city council has granted a franchise to the telephone company for the next 23 years. The vote was 37 to 9. The debate on the franchise had to do chiefly with the obligations it imposed on the telephone company in connection with subway construction. The expired franchise required the company to move its wires and conduits at its own expense. This provision should have been renewed unequivocally in the new ordinance. Instead, the council seems to have made the obligations of the telephone company contingent in some degree upon the treatment to be accorded the other utilities. Presumably the telephone company will pay proportionately as much or as little as the electric light company pays.

The council betrayed the public interest in failing to insist upon the renewal of the old clause. We find no mitigation for the aldermen in the painfully worded formula issued as a statement on behalf of Mr. Samuel Insull. "It is Mr. Insull's position," says this statement, "that the public utility companies under his general control should bear all the reasonable and necessary expense of relocating and adjusting their facilities during and after subway construction . . ."

Mr. Insull, as Ald. Clark intimated, is not legally bound by this formula, but even if he were he is giving away exactly nothing. The city has the right to compel the utility companies to make way for the subway at their own expense and move into it when the subway is built. There was no question of that right in the minds of the able lawyers for the city who passed upon the issue in 1923, and we find nothing in the enactment of the legislature of 1929 to modify the opinion of 1923.

The city has not only the legal right to compel the utilities to pay these costs; it has every moral right as well. The utilities will benefit from the change. Their equipment in the streets is more or less obsolete and much of it will have to be replaced in the near future, subway or no subway. The constant growth of population and business in Chicago reinforces this judgment. No corporation should expect to be rewarded for abandoning obsolete and depreciated equipment, and this is doubly true if the old equipment is called upon to meet a constantly growing demand for service.

For twenty years Chicago has been thinking about subways as abstractions. The habit seems to have become fixed in the aldermen's minds. They talk whimsically about subways and payment for them as if these were matters which need not be settled now and need not be settled right. The aldermen are eating lettuce in the moonlight and think they are doing their duty by the people of Chicago.

Today plans for the State street subway are being drawn, and these are not dream plans but real ones. The subway is going to be built. The digging will start within a few months. When the subway is completed it will contain chambers for the various utility companies' pipes, wires and conduits. The advantages in economy and accessibility of using those chambers will be considerable. The question which the aldermen had to decide with respect to the telephone company was whether the company or the taxpayers and car riders should pay for this obvious and considerable benefit to the company.

Instead of insisting once and for all that the company should pay, the aldermen preferred to temporize. Their franchise ordinance in effect merely postpones the issue until a later time, and when that time comes the aldermen will have to decide it not in the relatively simple terms of one company's obligation but amid the moans, complaints and cries of alarm and defiance raised by all the utilities howling at once. The aldermen have only made their task the harder. They have put the car riders and taxpayers on their guard. The aldermen may as well realize now as later that public opinion will not tolerate taxing the car riders for the benefit of the utility companies. If the telephone franchise is to be regarded as the prelude to releasing the utilities from their legal and moral responsibility there will be a lot of new faces in the city council.

DISAPPOINTING MOB SCENES.

[Decatur, Ill., Herald.]

Mob scenes in the movies give a thrill. In real life they are disappointing. They plainly need a director.

On the screen the angry peasants wave clubs and fists, advance on a run, suggesting the power of a whole fleet of caterpillar tractors, swarm up staircases, knock over policemen, and manhandle the objects of their hatred. A mob scene is a great thrill.

But real riots, like those that have taken place in India or which characterized communist demonstrations in New York, leave much to be desired.

A riot scene usually shows the rioters standing, not running, and invariably they are grinning broadly at the police. The police, instead of being trampled upon in attitudes of waiting, are dragging a slip of a girl off to the kelley wagon.

Another thing that tends even more to take the thrill out of a riot is the sight of uninterested spectators on the sidewalk and people going about their usual business. When overalled workmen are cutting a street pavement and truck drivers are carrying packages into stores one is forced to the conclusion that, whatever the row is about, revolution cannot be impending and the government probably will live.

News pictures on the screen sometimes show real riot scenes. The audience probably will admit that realism is not nearly as good as a mob trained and directed in Hollywood.

TRAINING FOR CRIPPLES.

WHEN a city entertains a convention the proper procedure is to beat the tomtoms about all sorts of local pride, but to put a tarpaulin over the garbage dump. Chicago recently entertained the Rotarians. Both the city and the order have been accused of Babbitry—and both are glad to wear the badge. Amid all the pageantry and blare of trumpets which characterized the city's entertainment of its visitors there was listed a visit to an institution of a type not always boasted of. It was a public school for crippled children. The one on exhibit was the Spaulding school. They have others.

In every group of three million people there are always many hundreds of children who have been crippled by tuberculosis due to raw milk from infected cows, by infantile paralysis, by birth palsies, and in a few miscellaneous ways. In the Spaulding school children of these groups are brought together to play and study and to get proper treatment at the same time.

The psychologic and social effect of taking cripples away from the non-crippled and having them play together is worth while. The school day and the school work are adjusted on their basis. And all kinds of equipment for treating and training are provided.

There is a large cabinet provided with a bank of six ultraviolet lamps arranged three on each side and spaced from the ends. The child, stripped and wearing goggles, steps on to a moving sidewalk which carries him from one end of the light chamber to the other. In this way the duration of exposure is regulated.

There is a tank with good equipment to be used in muscle training, particularly after infantile paralysis. A larger tank with some underwater platforms is for muscle training of other groups. The large, flat roof is used as in a playground. Another part serves as space for sun baths. The manual training facilities are ample and varied.

DANGER OF PARROT FEVER.

J. F. L. writes: I am very much interested in parrots and I am to be presented with one shortly. The danger of contracting psittacosis is causing me some alarm. I am of the opinion that a parrot that has been in a private home for some time should be comparatively immune to the disease. I would appreciate advice as to whether or not I should receive the parrot and what indications of the disease would be apparent on the bird. What precautions could a layman take toward the prevention of the disease?

REPLY.

The danger is from newly imported birds and birds recently in contact with sick birds. There should be no danger from the bird you describe.

The only precaution that I know of is to keep away from birds that appear to be sick, or that have been in recent contact with other birds.

RINGWORM OF THE FEET.

F. J. R. writes: Please tell me the cause of ringworms. Both feet are affected. They itch and cause me to scratch.

REPLY.

Ringworm of the feet is due to a mold which grows in the skin, between the toes, and around the nails. In some cases this mold is supposed to grow in the substance of the nail. Toe scald, or ringworm of the toes, is contagious. It is spread by gymnasium floors, swimming pool floors, and the soil of swimming beaches. There is no proof that the infection is spread by the water in pools or swimming holes.

YOU ARE LUCKY.

F. A. B. writes: Copious use of distilled water relieved me of kidney stones several times without an operation and no pain. My doctor would hardly believe it until I produced the stones.

REPLY.

You are lucky.

CLAIM TO CANADIAN ESTATE.

Chicago, July 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My grandfather had a tract of land in Canada amounting to 200 acres. Upon his leaving Canada and coming to the United States some one in Canada took it upon himself to deed it away. Since that time gold seems to have been discovered on the property. Is there any chance of my proving my claim as an heir? I have in abstract form details of the property showing all transfers, etc., that affected the title. A. M. S.

Much would depend on how much time has elapsed and upon the facts as to adverse possession. If the property is of substantial value, you should have the facts investigated by an attorney.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

CHANGE IN CERTIFICATE LAW.

Chicago, July 26.—[Friend of the People.]—Are persons who entered the United States before 1906 required to obtain certificates of arrival for naturalization purposes? Various publications on naturalization seem to differ on this point. N. O.

Under the act of March 2, 1929, any person requiring a declaration of intention (first paper) must have a certificate of arrival regardless of the date of his arrival in the United States before he may file a petition for naturalization. The law in reference to certificates of arrival was changed, effective July 1, 1929. FRED J. SCHLOTFELDT, District Director.

TOLLING BELLS.

Chicago, July 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—We live near a church. The bells start tolling at 6 a. m. week days and Sunday at 5 a. m. I am not prejudiced against anybody, but the noise of the bells certainly is a big nuisance. Is a citizen entitled to a sleep in the early morning or not? Is there any law or regulation concerning this matter? M. R.

There is no express time limit in our statutes or ordinances, but noises amounting to legal nuisances can be enjoined or if the facts amount to disorderly conduct can be stopped by the police. In determining whether a noise amounts to a nuisance the previous character of the neighborhood must be considered.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

THE LAST MAN REPORTS.

We are the last man in these United States to learn to drive an automobile. Not that we've learned to drive one yet; we've only got far enough along to holler back, "Haven't you got a steering wheel on that hunk o' tin?" when another motorist yells, "Look where you goin'! Do you want to be a farmer all yer life?"

Automobiles started a long time ago and now every family has two cars and maybe three. As the last man who ever learned to drive a car we find that a glory has departed. It used to be that people would say to us, "WHAT! you mean it! You DON'T drive a car? You actually mean to stand there and say that YOU DO NOT DRIVE AN AUTOMOBILE?" There was a distinction, a uniqueness in living in a world of auto owners and drivers and being the only one who neither owned nor drove a car. That's gone now. We're just like everybody else and people have stopped thinking we are so queer that maybe it would be best for us to go to somebody's booby hatch for a nice long rest. Now we can lift up our head and talk about gear shifts and how a cop gave us a ticket (the big bum; we weren't doing over eighty miles an hour), and moan so they can hear us as far north as Evanston on a clear day if anybody mentions the high cost of gasoline. Yes, we feel like an American citizen at last (no, no, no, not that, not a hundred per center, but an American citizen anyhow).

One thing we haven't learned yet, and it seems that it's got to be acquired before you're rated a good driver. You have to learn to give a dirty look at the man who bumps you when you're waiting for the green light. Teacher said it was much better to give the man who bumps you a dirty look; he may have a nasty temper. Or the bumpee may be a lady and tell you you're a hunk of cheese and haven't got sense enough to drive a baby buggy. The dirty look is the only way you have of answering her. We're practicing dirty looks now in front of a mirror. We tried it out yesterday on another car that gave us a good bump and the man said, "You stopped too short, and, anythow, it's nothing to grin about." We're going to keep on practicing that dirty look. It doesn't seem to register.

THE TRUTH.

Always you had good manners,
And it wouldn't have been polite
To say, "Well, I won't be seeing you
After I leave tonight."

Maybe you thought I'd make a scene,
And plead that you ought to stay.
Oh, no, I'd have wished you love and luck,
And laughed as you rode away.

I'd have said in a very sweet, cool voice,
With a stonier touch of flint:
"I've wanted to hear that for a year,
And now you have taken the hint!

"And you were afraid that I should care?
Don't worry . . . I'll never miss
Your smile or your voice or anything . . ."
And you would have believed all this.

HELEN WELSHIMER.

THREE CHEERS for the R-100, the sturdy British dirigible that is nearing Canada on its great voyage across the Atlantic. BUT—neither Karl von Wiegand nor Lady Drummond Hay is among the list of passengers; so the trip doesn't count.

CAMPERS have been warned by forest rangers out in California to keep their eyes open when they turn on the radio at night because rattlesnakes are lured by the music and wiggle in close to the loud speaker. But one can hardly believe that the rattlesnakes come in to listen to the music; they crawl up to the loud speaker in order to hiss every time it cuts loose with "I'm Dancing with Tears in My Eyes."

"SOFT PEDAL, you and Cal Coolidge," writes old Cot Top, "on that stuff about telling your boss that hard mental work calls for an extension of a couple of weeks to your vacation. The boss is only too liable nowadays to extend your vacation two weeks, or two months, or two years, without your suggesting it. And also without pay. I asked my boss if I could have five or six days' more vacation as I needed the rest. 'Sure,' he says, 'take five or six years, but not on pay, understand.' So, lay off, you and Cal; this vacation thing nowadays is a buzzsaw and you mustn't monkey with it." Well, Cal started it, and we thought it was a rather good idea. Gosh! We didn't know the darned thing was loaded. We'll never say another word.

COMES A CRY of misery from the Paris dressmakers, who say the American gels have declared they want only the short skirt. And the shorter it is the more they want it.

NOW THAT the Conservatives have won the election in Canada and the Liberals are out, will the new government be nice and permit likker to be exported to the United States, or have we got to go up there and get it? But, no! A thousand times no! We will not be coerced! We demand the same treatment that Canada shows to other countries. We will not stir hand or foot in the direction of Canada. (Hank, see what the fare is to Canada and what time does the next train go.)

LAGNIAPPE.

AND RIGHT NOW, when we have to search all the pockets we've got to comb up seven cents for the street car company, the postmaster general of these United States comes right out flat and talks of jumping first class postage from two cents to two and a half cents. Anyhow, the birds who send us "please remit immediately" letters will have to dig up another half cent. There is no thorn without said rose.

THE GOVERNMENT BUREAUS have been warned to economize until it hurts, and at the same time we are told to get out and buy something—anything—no matter if it's only a handkerchief or a pair of spx. What to do? What to do? R. H. L.

A COMPARISON

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 31, 1914.

LONDON.—It is believed that a few hours will tell whether the great powers of the triple alliance and triple entente are to rush together in a general clash of arms. While no official reply has been made by Russia to Germany's demand for the reason of Russian mobilization, it is not doubted the czar's minister of foreign affairs will inform the German ambassador that Russia has no intention of countermanding the orders for the movement of troops. This will be tantamount to a direct snub to the kaiser's government and every one believes it will be followed by the mobilization of the great German army.

LONDON.—A battle is in progress to the south of Belgrade, a Milan dispatch says, but this report is disputed by Servian information that the Austrians have been unable to cross the Danube into Servia. Another report is that an artillery engagement is in progress 20 miles east of Belgrade.

VIENNA.—This dispatch was received from Austrian army headquarters on the Servian border: "Machine gun fire was opened from Belgrade and in reply Austrian monitors bombarded the city. At 1 o'clock in the morning the powder magazine in Belgrade blew up, and artillery destroyed the custom house. Simultaneously fires were discovered in different parts of the city."

PARIS.—Activity in military and naval circles continues. The effective strength on the eastern and northeastern frontier actually consists of six army corps, which, with reserves, provide a fighting army of 280,000 men capable of being mobilized in 24 hours.

LONDON.—The British navy is prepared for war at a moment's notice.

CHICAGO — What the European war situation has thus far cost the holders of American securities is exhibited in a table showing a shrinkage of 696 million dollars in the market value of 135 stocks.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 31, 1900.

ROME.—The people of Rome were horror stricken when news of the assassination of King Humbert at Monza reached the city. After the first shock the populace became frenzied with indignation, and are loud in their demands for vengeance on the anarchists, of whom it develops the assassin, Bressi, was one. When the people of Monza were demanding his life after he had shot the king, Bressi said to the carabineers who arrested him: "Tell them I came from America for the purpose of killing King Humbert. I have just arrived from America and know no one." The prince of Naples, the new king, who is yachting in the Levant, has not been found to be told of the tragedy.

PARIS.—Advices to the French police show that the assassination of King Humbert of Italy was part of a regularly organized plot to kill the four great crowned heads of Europe—the czar of Russia, Emperor William of Germany, King Humbert of Italy, and the prince of Wales.

PATERSON, N. J.—The assassination of King Humbert was planned in New York, and Angelo Bressi, the murderer, was selected by lot to carry the plan of the anarchists into execution. Bressi came to the United States four years ago and belonged to a little group of anarchists who met at 335 Market street, Paterson.

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 31, 1865.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A man who has traveled extensively in the interior and western counties of South Carolina since the close of the rebellion says that the condition of the Negroes in that section is worse than when they were in slavery. Their late masters not only compel them to labor without compensation but treat them with great cruelty. The whipping post is as much used as ever, and the freedmen cannot leave their quarters without a pass signed by their taskmasters. The suffering among the aged and helpless Negroes is described as very great.

NEW YORK.—The Times Vicksburg correspondent has visited the interior of Mississippi and finds the spirit of the people against the north as bitter as ever.

LOADED DICE.

Chicago, July 23.—That famous sportsman Sir Thomas Lipton's yacht Shamrock V. is now on its way across the ocean to try its merits against the chosen defender of the America's cup, which was won away back in 1851 by the yacht America, and in spite of numerous attempts to regain it by British sportsmen has never since left these shores.

Few of the present generation are aware of the sportsmanlike action of the British which made it possible for the cup to be won by the America, and it would not be amiss to recall the circumstances to mind at this time. The America sailed across to England in 1851 to take part in the Cowes regatta of that year. There was no event on the program for which she was eligible to compete, and the Royal Yacht Squadron committee very sportingly provided a cup for competition under conditions that allowed her to enter and she won. During the race, however, she cut off a corner by sailing inside one of the buoys, for which, had protest been lodged, she must have been disqualified, but British sportsmanship forbade, and the cup was handed over to the owner.

The conditions under which these races have ever since been held preclude the possibility of any challenger ever winning. The stipulations are that the challenging yacht must proceed to the United States under her own sail. Consequently she must obviously be stoutly enough built to withstand the billows of the Atlantic. This is fair enough, as this was what the America did when she won the cup. The unfairness, however, lies in the course chosen for the race. This runs to the Sandy Hook light and back, and is situated in a sheltered bay notorious for its calms and light variable winds. Only the very shallowest of skimming dishes stand any chance of finishing this course. Another unfair condition is that challenges should be lodged ten months in advance of the race, with full specifications as to the challenger's dimensions and rig, thus allowing time for a specially designed yacht to be built that would be more speedy.

It would be a fairer test of seamanship and skill in boat building if the race could be, say, to Bermuda and back, and such a race would be more thrilling to the world than the Sandy Hook course. A clause in the conditions governing the contest allows the board of control to make such modifications as it thinks fit; therefore such a change of course as suggested could be easily arranged.

This race is open to the world, but only the Britisher has demonstrated his bulldog tenacity in trying against loaded dice. FAIR PLAY.

INCONSISTENT STREET NAMES.

Chicago, July 23.—Recently there appeared in this column an appeal to change the names of streets having the same names. In addition to there being two Austins and two Lincolns, there are also two Lafayettes, two Wrights, two Ridgelands, two Garfields, and undoubtedly other duplications.

The first block west of Halsted is called at different places: Green, Ashburn, Lime, Newberry, Dayton, Florence, and Reta. The first block north of Division; Scott, Beethoven, Vedder, Sloan, and Crystal. This situation is confusing to postmen, policemen, and firemen; the latter especially when some relocated fire company unfamiliar with the distant district endeavors to find a location in the maelstrom of poorly named and numbered streets.

FLEETWOOD, THE FIRE FAN.

DID YOU READ DR. EVANS' REMARKS!

Chicago, July 16.—Will some psychologist explain this craze for sun tan that is certainly being worked to extreme today? Hatless, sleeveless men, some mildly tanned, others looking like baked apples, many like Africans. Same with women.

The joke of it all is this: Colored folks powder and paint till they look ridiculous; anything to look white. And the white folks stand around in the sun and try every way to get to look like colored folks. CHARLES WHITE.

A SATISFIED CUSTOMER.

Chicago, July 15.—It usually requires from a week to ten days to install a telephone in a new address. For business reasons I wanted my phone in as soon after I moved in as possible. I communicated with the superintendent of service direct and explained the situation to him, conveying to him the fact that it really was a matter of dollars and cents to me. I moved in Wednesday. Thursday, the next day, my phone was in and working. DAVID MARES.

NAKED.

Chicago, July 25.—In today's description of the disasters in Italy, THE TRIBUNE writes of the semi-nude figures of the victims. Why the double Latinism? Evidently the English "half naked" conveys to American journalism a suggestion of the obscene. To tell you the nude truth, nude is just as naked as naked. EDWIN J. KUH, M. D.

AN IDEA.

Chicago, July 27.—Postmaster General Walter Brown makes a plea for an increased letter postage rate to cut down the annual deficit. Why not charge 1 cents for all souvenir postcards, with an increased rate for every one bearing "Wish you were here" or "The scenery here is lovely"? ADDRESSER.

The Nine Hundred Block

BY KATHARINE HAVILAND TAYLOR

SYNOPSIS.

To the nine hundred block, with its deteriorated dwellings, moved gentle, lovely Theresa Ames and her mother, Mrs. Colt, under the watchful eye of Mrs. Baum, neighborhood gossip. Theresa makes friends with Katie Warner, who lives upstairs, and B. Jones, a reporter; also Johnny Deane, who left a home of wealth to make good for the girl to whom he regrets, since meeting Theresa, he is engaged. He has found employment painting automobiles. Theresa does typing at home to support herself and her mother, who has known better days. Mrs. Colt wants Theresa to marry Billy Treadway, a rich bachelor friend of her own girlhood.

Theresa's father, Arnold Ames, married again after Theresa's mother divorced him to marry Barrington Colt, who recently died. The father now has a belated desire to help his daughter, but his wife threatens to leave him if he does. He arranges with Harold Gale, a friend, to secretly give Theresa work.

Johnny Deane had determined not to tell Theresa of his love for her until he had broken his engagement, but does not keep his vow. Theresa loves him, but her mother doesn't approve of so poor a suitor as Johnny supposedly is.

Johnny sends his laundry to a neighbor, and Mrs. Baum, noting the Paris and London labels, spreads the report that Johnny is a prince in hiding.

Two days before Christmas Theresa receives a purse, containing a thousand dollar bond, from her father. Johnny sends his father a Christmas gift, inclosing a patch of paint smeared overalls.

Theresa is upset by Mrs. Baum's gossip. She sees Johnny, and he tells her some incidents of his past.

Johnny receives a letter from the girl to whom he is engaged, threatening to sell his letters to the papers if he doesn't fix it up with his father to marry her. He writes to her, breaking the engagement.

INSTALLMENT XXII.

SPREADING GLOOM.

Then Johnny went to bed, but not to sleep.

An hour after he had settled—to toss miserably—he heard a woman's crying, and had he known of a girl who stood swaying by the bureau to which she clung, of the girl whose misery was beyond reach of easy tears, he would—in his Paris marked pajamas—have broken in the door of the Colt-Ames apartment to carry off the girl in the manner of the old tales which prate of princesses in prison towers and princes who slay dragons.

As it was, hearing the crying and being an acutely sensitive plate, that night, to misery, Johnny muttered, "O, hell! Didn't that have to happen?" And then, apologetically and from after-thought, "God help her!"

He gasped suddenly; what—if the letters came out—and Theresa saw them and wouldn't believe him—or understand?

Gloom spread; gloom spread down the street and into that section where some of the "old familes" still lived. Frank Hillis, Theresa's uncle and Elsie Ames Colt's brother, was remembering—again—how his father had said, "I want you to look after Elsie and her child——"

Frank could not pass the door of the room where his father had died, and wherein his father had said this—shortly before death—without hearing his father's rasping, hard breathing and the words.

And they were getting along well, Frank decided, nervously. The girl, he had heard, had enough work and she was to marry Billy Treadway, which, from his viewpoint and from the viewpoint of many others, would be a "good marriage." Yet—his father's words were haunting him and they drew closer all the time. A shutter swung somewhere. And there was not much air stirring. He jumped sharply, growing pale. Then in his father's room he seemed to hear the old, slow steps which he had learned well during his father's last years.

Gloom had spread to the Chanceford pike. Billy, having called that evening upon Elsie Colt, had not found Theresa. And he had a firm and a disquieting belief, did Billy, that she was with John Deane, who was arrestingly good looking in a hard, lean male way, and young. Billy felt his years.

Elsie had told him that their dream would come true soon, she knew, but she had seemed nervous. She had said, "Life is difficult," and gloom was added to Billy Treadway's gloom by his shame over having kept silent about young Deane's connection with old Deane. He knew how Elsie would react to that, did Billy; but he had come to the point of wanting Theresa upon any terms, through any evasion and whether she wanted to be his or not. And while he could not change this, at moments the decline in his honor troubled him. He wasn't sleeping well, and that made his sinus more troublesome. And the winter had been "miserable." Usually February found him somewhere in the south, warming up and actually growing a little careless about draughts. But this year he was going to "stick it out in York." He was afraid to leave, afraid of what might happen if he did leave. He had begun to vow that he would get her, to be certain that he must have her. His felt of her in a great and over mastering degree as he felt of some old piece that would make the utmost of envy in the hearts of other collectors. His fullest pride was made by his wrenching something from its natural setting to press it into his crammed and stifled abode. The wish to possess, to have, was his strongest emotion. He had not considered the "hows" in "I will make her happy." He had thought often, "She shall have everything my wife should have."

Yet Agnes wouldn't like it, even though Theresa would never, in any way, rule. Billy had told Theresa that he would "continue to manage the house no matter what changes occured." . . . Always well to have these affairs understood! Agnes didn't like women around. She invariably settled when Cousin Luty came as she did each April for her "spring visit." And no one equaled Agnes with a soufflé! And, too—those willow ware platters. Where could he put them? But—her hair! Her soft hair, the sweet oval of her face, her softness, youth, and her arms around his neck! "O—" He breathed deep, closing his eyes. Then he rose—long and lanky in his stone age nightshirt—to close the window. It was growing even colder and was simply didn't dare risk a draught. Already he'd had a twinge between his eyes.

Mrs. Baum lay awake thinking, "I hadda tell her——"

Elsie Colt continued to scream accusations at her daughter, to whine appeals to her daughter and between sobs which shook her dramatically. Her face was swollen and puffed with her tears; her tremulous lips worked. Theresa, whiter and whiter, and quite mute, clung more tightly to the bureau edge, trembled.

"Promise mother that you won't! O, my God, Theresa! All my dreams for you! It would kill me . . . I'll kill myself if you—Theresa, promise mother!" On. On.

Tragic stars!

The next evening Johnny had a telegram from Collette, speedy workers of all crafts lean to these. She wired:

"DID I EVER SAY I LOVED YOU STOP WHAT WOMAN WOULD STOP ITS ALL OFF AND OVER BUT THE SHOUTING STOP WATCH THE FULPER PAPERS COLLETTE CLYDE"

He was not engaged any more! He shook, realizing it. Collette hadn't given him his chance to buy the letters but—he didn't brood about that long. The daylight had brought with its coming his sanity. No two who cared as did he and Theresa could be parted by a past fact, no matter how sordid, he reasoned. He was certain of this and that Theresa would forgive him, knowing how he cared for her. He felt his shamed face pressing against her shoulder, her small, tender hands on his hair. He felt himself forgiven, shriven, renewed, and made whole.

And—intoxicating, recurring fact!—he was not engaged any more to any one but Theresa! The two engagements had made him as comfortable as would be a Brigham Young with a monogamistic heart and mind. How he had hated—loathed—the situation, he knew now with everything fixed! Everything happy! The relief! Whoopee!

"Having fun," she announced.

"No, Katie, . . . but something—about as intoxicating, in fact—" he breathed hard—"more so. Gosh, I'm happy, Katie. I've been in the damndest mess! Katie—go in my room and take a portrait from the bottom drawer of the bureau and take the portrait out of the frame and burn it. You can have the frame—but never let me see it. That darned frame makes me feel like a channel crossing."

"Aw right," said Katie. Then she edged close to Johnny. "Miss Colt's gone," she confided, "out to supper. I think she made the kid promise last night—that she wouldn't come up here, or tell you she was alone. I heard them coverwise, passin'. Say—that old girl's about as soothin' as nettle rash and poison ivy well mixed on a hot June night. You wanta be awful good to that little kid, Johnny. She ain't had nothin' but one long stretch of hard work and hard words in kid gloves, and sometimes her eyes is red and sometimes her shoulders ache and sometimes her smile makes you ache, a seein' it."

"I know," said Johnny, instantly sobered. And Katie, seeing his face, was satisfied. He looked, as Katie thought, "like he was in church and better all het up over the sermon, real religious and unnatural." He was puzzled, intent.

Katie heard him "fussin' changin' his tie," then shaking he went down. When Theresa let him in he saw that she had been crying and he went a little mad. He knelt before her, who had dropped to the chair where habit made her sit, the one with the rip in the upholstery, and kissing her hands he promised to slay every dragon that would make her tears.

She smiled unsteadily at him. It seemed, with him near, almost as if she could. Yet—the echo of her mother's warning against him was close and loud. "After all, mother asks, what do we know of this young Mr. Deane? Or what he has been—of what he has done?"

Good morning!

"The Dawn Patrol" is a flying picture that is like "Men Without Women" in that there are no women in the cast; reminiscent of "Journey's End" with its gallant, hard bitten, hard drinking superior officer; like "All Quiet on the Western Front" in its revelations of and propaganda against war's slaughter of youth—and not nearly so good as these pictures of which it reminds you.

The film, adapted from a story by John Monk Saunders, is patently box office fodder. The framework and mechanics of the thing always are apparent through the drapings. The dialogue is built up, calculated, never inspired. The quality of spontaneity is not in "The Dawn Patrol," and so it fails to get under the skin. It is nowhere near as appealing as "The Sky Hawk," "Flight," and "Wings."

The camera work is superb. There are thrilling shots of warfare in the skies. A splendid cast performs honestly and capably. Mr. Barthelmess as Dick Courtney, squadron commander, is excellent, but not better than Neil Hamilton as the superior officer mentioned before. He is, perhaps, bested by young Douglas Fairbanks as a gay and daring ace who has the smile wiped from his face and heart by events the picture shall show you. Gardner James contributes a memorable bit as a horror shaken flyer who nevertheless "goes west" like a man when his time comes.

No doubt about it, "The Dawn Patrol" has its moments, but on the whole this pictorial record of a British flying squadron's activities on the western front is rather wearisome.

See you soon.

U. of Illinois Urges Parents of New Students to See It

Urbana, Ill., July 30.—[Special.]—The summer prom will be held on Saturday, Aug. 2, at College hall. This is an annual affair. As the freshman class each year is about 30 per cent Chicago high school graduates, their parents are being encouraged this year to take a vacation trip to the university to see where their sons and daughters will be located. This "homecoming" is set for Aug. 1, 2, and 3. The Illinois Central is cooperating with reduced fares for the round trip.

Hopes to Reopen School Bureau of Dental Hygiene

President Myers of the school board said last night that the work of the bureau of dental hygiene, which examined the teeth of 200,000 elementary school students in 1929, will be continued if the board can find the necessary funds. The bureau was closed on Tuesday by Health Commissioner Kegel due to the lack of appropriations. The board of education failed to reimburse the city $55,000 as its share of the expenses for 1929.

Explorer Hears Echo of Stanley, Livingston African Expeditions

PARIS, July 30.—(AP)—Col. Charles Wellington Furlong, American explorer, believes he has found the last remaining evidences of the famous African Congo expeditions of Livingstone and Stanley.

The explorer, en route home to Boston after spending a year in East and Central Africa, has a considerable bag of antelopes, lions and leopards and data concerning the pygmies and other native tribes.

Col. Furlong reported meeting an elderly native who claimed to be the sole surviving native member of Livingstone's entourage on his last journey in 1873. The African said he was one of the party which carried Livingstone's mummified body on spearheads from the interior to the east coast after the Scotchman died of dysentery. He described this trip and the burial of Livingstone's heart under a tree in the Belgian Congo.

Col. Furlong is convinced he has brought out of the Congo the last vestiges of Stanley, the man who went to hunt Livingstone. From the son of Chief Matubi, who assisted Stanley, the American obtained a splintered spearhead, and a bracelet which Stanley had given his father, and a letter which Lady Stanley wrote the chieftain mentioning that bracelet and another which the chief had presented her.

Davis Travels Among Islands, Studies Natives

Daughters Go with the Philippines' Governor.

BY FORD WILKINS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MANILA, July 30.—Dwight F. Davis is becoming known as the most widely traveled governor general the Philippines ever had. In the first year of his administration, which ended on July 8, he had visited 42 out of the 49 provinces of the Philippines, and he expects to reach most of the remaining seven before fall comes.

The late Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood traveled a good deal in the Philippines when he was governor. It is safe to say, however, Davis has exceeded his record.

The famous little white yacht Apo is Gov. Davis' favorite mode of travel. On the Apo he has visited islands and barrios and towns where even the local provincial officials never have penetrated. He has been in localities where people never have had a chance to vote, where census counts never have been taken, where people never have seen a motor car, an airplane, or a vessel larger than a fishing smack.

There are more than 7,000 islands in the Philippine archipelago, and some of the little ones are totally unspoiled by civilization.

On his most recent trip to the southern islands the governor visited two or three provinces new to him. He took along Miss Alice Davis, who has been every place her father has been; Miss Cynthia, a second daughter, who arrived fairly recently; members of the governor's staff, and one or two Philippine officials with whom he wanted to talk over plans for the forthcoming year in the legislature.

On this trip they visited the island of Palawan, the long barrier reef which stretches north and south on the western border of the archipelago. They visited the famous natural cave on the west coast of this island, where men have traveled in boats for six days and six nights without ever reaching a stopping place. The governor's party took a motorboat and penetrated the cave as far as they could go in three or four hours, then came out.

They also visited Culion leper colony, located on a small island off the Palawan coast. Here are 5,000 lepers, isolated from the rest of the world, in the largest colony of its kind anywhere. They have their own municipal government, their own mayor, their own shops and movie shows, all run by lepers in the process of getting cured. Visitors are asked to take precautions about disinfection on arrival and on departure, but there is absolutely no danger of visitors contracting the dread disease.

Gov. Davis' natural inquisitiveness and love of travel in strange places is being put to good use. These jaunts into the provinces are not entirely for pleasure. The governor travels with a purpose, and recently has done so with a newly developed plan of action that seems to be working very well indeed.

On each trip he takes along two or three technical experts, members of his staff or members of the governor's cabinet, which is composed of Filipino department secretaries. In each place visited, these assistants make their own investigations, each in his own line. A health man will look into health and sanitary conditions. A legal expert will investigate the courts and the bench. Another perhaps will look into constabulary administration, or school conditions.

As they see and note faults and discrepancies, they write letters to the provincial officials after they get back from the trip, listing recommendations. In two or three weeks, another special investigator is sent around to the places covered on the previous trip, with a copy of the letter that has been sent to the province, town or barrio, to see if the faults have been remedied. If they have not, another letter follows, terse and to the point, bearing the crest of Malacañan, which brings immediate action. The governor general's method is to suggest things. If suggestions are not carried out, people soon find out that Davis is quite capable of giving orders that mean something.

Another feature of the plan is the element of surprise. The governor never announces where he is going when he starts out. Provincial officials never know when he is going to drop in on them. Consequently, when it is known that he is in a general vicinity, towns all around begin a frantic cleaning up.

MARTINELLI SINGS SAMSON ROLE TO APPLAUSE AT RAVINIA

BY EDWARD MOORE.

It is a great comfort to the operagoer, whether casual or regular, to see and hear "Samson and Delilah" given as it was last night with two such artists as Giovanni Martinelli and Julia Claussen in the title rôles. They gave more than a satisfactory performance. It was a satisfying one.

Mr. Martinelli has both the physical and vocal stature to make the rôle of the Biblical hero credible when seen on the stage, and though he has done much fine singing already this summer his voice never rang out more gorgeously than in this work. Likewise it was almost the first time that Mme. Claussen has had a chance to show what she can really do. The unkind fates of casting have heretofore kept her in a continuous succession of mothers and fortune tellers and eccentric characterizations generally. Not that she does not do them well. She seldom fails in any part. But she has the voice and the manner to do a heroic part with the stately poise of her Delilah, wherefore the Ravinia season last night opened up new possibilities.

In fact, with a few exceptions the performance was generally excellent. One looks for little dramatic excitement in this leisurely work. Its opulence is in its music, but there is plenty there. Mario Basiola gave first rate vocal expression to the part of the high priest. Leon Rothier was a source of great pleasure as the old Hebrew, as was Louis D'Angelo in another brief part, that of Abimelech. The chorus covered itself with new glory, and Louis Hasselman conducted with fine spirit.

David Shillinglaw, Former Legion Leader, Weds Marie Schmidt

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Schmidt announce the marriage of their daughter Marie to Mr. David L. Shillinglaw, yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the family residence, 5733 Blackstone avenue. Dr. Harrison Ray Anderson, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church and chaplain of Advertising Men's post of the American Legion, officiated. Miss Schmidt is a graduate of the University of Chicago.

Mr. Shillinglaw was commander of Advertising Men's post, commander Cook county council, Illinois department commander last year and is at present a member of the national executive committee of the American Legion. He is a graduate of the University of Iowa, both liberal arts and law. He spent two and a half years overseas during the war. He was in the engineers and was associated with Brig. Gen. Dawes at various times. After the armistice he was made a member of the sales board of the American army. He is in the investment banking business and vice president of Forgan, Gray & Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Shillinglaw will spend their honeymoon at the Institute of Politics at Williamstown, Mass., and in the White mountains.

PARIS STYLE DECREE BANISHES LEGS AS AUTUMNAL SCENERY

Paris, which today continued displaying its winter dress ideas to foreign buyers at the rate of 1,000 models a day, permits legs to show with sport and unpretentious street costumes. But the rest of the time it's ankles and nothing higher.

Dressmakers are frankly bored when anxious buyers and style writers ask them for definite figures about skirt lengths.

"Sports and street dresses remain short and practical," one dressmaker explained.

The same dressmaker rode to her present fame on the sports wave of the post-war period. Her specialty is simple clothes for active women. Today like all the others she showed a collection in which sports clothes were subordinated to ankle length afternoon costumes and evening dresses which just skimmed the floor, or actually trailed. Dressing up is going to be the favorite winter sport of women who comply with the wishes of exclusive dressmakers.

'Man of Peking' Quits Million Year Obscurity

Takes Place with Java and Piltdown Confreres.

PEIPING, China, July 30.—(AP)—Discovery of a second Sinanthropos skull was announced by Dr. Davidson Black of the Rockefeller Foundation at a meeting of the Chinese Geological Survey today.

The new specimen, pieced together from uncrushed fragments, was stated to have yielded valuable information concerning certain parts not represented in the first skull found last December.

Dr. Black said he believed the second skull was that of a young adult male whereas the previous find probably was that of a girl.

Reports last December of the discovery of a new "Peking man" skull by a Chinese geologist working in the quarries near Peiping aroused much interest in scientific circles. This first skull at the time it was found was described as the most complete discovery of its kind in history. The entire brain case was intact, which is not the case in the Piltdown man found in England, and other discoveries.

Dr. Black, formerly of Toronto, in describing the discovery of the first skull, recounted the excavations since 1921 when the first tooth was found of Sinanthropos Pekinensis by Dr. J. G. Anderson, British scientist.

Dr. Black also called attention to the vault of the skull form and the massive brow ridges. This skull was estimated to be more than 1,000,000 years old and to have shown a comparatively large brain capacity.

Osborn Interprets Skull.

Garrison, N. Y., July 30.—(AP)—The news was welcomed today by Dr. Henry Fairfield Osborn, president of the American Museum of Natural History, as an outstanding discovery in the history of primitive man.

It was explained that these Chinese skulls rank with two others as the oldest relics of the human race. One of the others is the famous pithecanthropos erectus, the Java man, the first one of the trio discovered. Pithecanthropos raised a storm of dispute, but now is regarded by many scientists as valid, and as probably around half a million years old. The other discovery, made a few years ago in England, is named eoanthropus, called the Piltdown man, and reckoned at upwards of a million years antiquity.

"This means," Dr. Osborn said of the discovery in China, "that the Chinese skulls firmly establish the type of a distinct species of man, but anatomists are not yet convinced that they belong to a distinct genus.

"Many anatomists think that sinanthropos belongs to the same division as Neanderthal man, namely paleanthropos. These newly found, uncrushed fragments doubtless will add new evidence of the disputed point, which we shall hear of when the fractured parts can be fitted together and the reconstruction be studied.

"The two finds in China make this an outstanding discovery in the history of primitive man.

"The subject is being extremely well handled by Dr. Black. At the coming meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science at Bristol, England, he doubtless will be in position to make authoritative statements.

"Meanwhile the cast of the original sinanthropos skull has been received by the American Museum of Natural History in New York City and placed in its hall of the age of man."

With boosters working hard this week, there's hope ahead for THE TRIBUNE free ice fund.

Toward that fund's "good luck" week there came $329.22 yesterday in 36 individual gifts. The largest was a check for $125 from a donor modestly signing his or her name as "H. C." Three gifts followed benefits given by children.

Tomorrow afternoon Warner Brothers' theater will give all their receipts from the afternoon performances from 1 p. m. to 6:30 p. m. to THE TRIBUNE free ice fund. This is a part of the observance of Warner Brothers' 25th anniversary.

At Sherwood Forest hotel, Green Lake, Wis., a group of children, mostly Chicagoans, went to work even though they were on vacation and put on a circus for the ice fund last Sunday. They earned $22.72. Chicago children taking part were Edith Harris, Emily Harris, Mary Ann Erman, Lois Wenk, Mitzi Alter, Janet Fleishman, Joseph Lederer Jr., Buddy Jacobson, Jimmy Alter, and Bobby Rubel. They were directed by Miss Phoebe Williams, Lincoln, Neb.

Dorothy Anderson and Ruth Hipp, Wilmette, earned $5 for the fund by selling lemonade. Wetomachick group of the Riverside Camp Fire Girls made $5.50 for the ice fund with a food sale.

Jeffery, 71st and Jeffery avenue—"Fox Movietone Follies."

These gifts were received since last acknowledgment:

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

3424

Note—Clotilde patterns are made in New York exclusively for THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE. They are perfect in fit, up to date in style, and the easiest of all patterns to use.

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

This youthful design with its molded silhouette is bound to be becoming, and the swathed effect of the waistline created by the shirred sides shows directoire influence. The circular skirt is made with godets inserted that give fluttery fullness to the hem, and the flared sleeve caps are chic. Chiffon, georgette and crepe Elizabeth are especially suitable.

The pattern, 3424, comes in sizes 14, 16, 18 and 20 years and 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 4⅝ yards of 39 inch material with ⅝ yard of 3 inch wide ribbon.

Sentimentals Should be Wedded Only to Other Sentimentals

BY DORIS BLAKE.

If the sentimental men of the world would marry sentimental women and the unsentimentals would only pair off with their kind, a better time would be had by all.

But they don't. Sentimental men marry girls who are too practical or too cold blooded, or too indifferent, and sentimental women marry men who act like employers with no "personal feelings" for their help. So women weep and men work and wonder why they weren't lucky enough to get a more loving mate.

Take Mrs. Frances F., married three years and only 21 now. She has a baby, too. She loves her husband and has no reason to suspect he does not love her. There is no other woman. The man is always puttering around home to make things nice. He is a good earner and generous enough with his money, but awfully stingy on the thing that matters much to his beloved. He never thinks of kissing her any more. He never says anything to make her happy. And if she mentions anything about love, he tells her not to be childish, she's married now.

It's an old theme and one that's been harped upon for many a year now. But the unsentimentals do not seem to profit by advice. If anything, they shut up tighter than the clams they were and expect woman to thrive on the starvation diet. All of which might have served in an era in which a married woman was a fixture in the home, regardless of whether she was treated like a sweetheart or a piece of furniture. But the girls of recent date have not been notorious for their staying power once they get a notion that the world outside has something aside from dull, monotonous duty to perform. They ups and leaves, or they get themselves involved in affairs that would never have troubled them did they get a bit of the loving they crave at home.

I always wonder what sort of suitors such men made! Were they so tongue and arm tied during the days when the girl could have withdrawn? They must have slipped the girl some sweet nothings to prevail upon her to take them on for life.

If you've got the kind of girl that wants loving furtheluvofmike why not give her her daily quota of hugs and kisses and cheering words. It's the cheapest thing she can ask for and the profit on the investment, Sonnies, is immense.

FARM and GARDEN BY PAUL POTTER

Sadly enough, both farms and gardens have suffered from heat and dry spells early this year. The gardener is more fortunate, however, because he can supply artificial moisture even if that has been one of the more tiring responsibilities of maintaining an attractive homesite during recent weeks.

But as Aug. 1, approaches, we find this year a need for earlier planning of fall work about the yard. In fact, if more fall seeding, weeding and planting were done, the annual spring flourish in lawn and garden would be much less urgent on the time of whoever in the family can be persuaded to take part.

Beetles and other pests seem less active during intense hot weather, but are making their inroads just the same. Cautious yet thorough spraying and cultivation, as the need may be, should be one of the approaching needs. Weeds that persist in any weather should be pulled or hoed out before they go to seed and the fall is the best time, both for lawn and garden weed riddance, so that grass and foliage may gain in the everlasting race for a place under the sun.

Hedge trimming is another call of the hour. Flower shows and tours by local clubs or neighborhoods to share experiences and gain more active interest in improved surroundings of the home are quite popular in August and September. Such events offer inspiration to many who can start this fall to have more abundant plant life next spring.

Lawns should be seeded in the fall. The grass gets a head start of weeds and will be strong enough to have a good root system for winter if seeded in August. Where the existing lawn is light, or contains bare spots, a thorough raking, addition of plant food and some grass seed just now will make a solid lawn when the fall rains set in.

Caution is given the purchaser of lawn seed to be sure to get what he pays for. Insist that no timothy is in the mixture, which should contain at least fifty per cent or more pure Kentucky blue grass seed. Shady spots may be sown to more hardy grasses, such as meadow or Chewing's fescue.

If in doubt, buy your grass seed unmixed and do the mixing yourself. Reliable mixtures are on the local markets, but they cost more than the cut rates at which many seedsmen now offer chaffy, cheaper mixtures.

Doug and Mary Quit as Independent Movie Makers

Los Angeles, Cal., July 30.—[Special.]—Mary Pickford today began disbanding her personal movie staff. According to statements at the United Artists studios, her future films will be produced under executive direction of Joseph Schenck.

She has not decided whether to complete her unfinished talkie known both as "Secrets" or "Forever Yours."

The Fairbanks, Doug and Mary, have decided to withdraw from financing talkies. They formerly underwrote the expenses of the Pickford-Fairbanks unit together as well as directing its picture production.

MEXICO CITY, July 30.—(AP)—Secretary of Communications Almazan today recommended to President Ortiz Rubio that government assistance be given to Mexican actors in Hollywood's motion picture colony to preserve Mexico's "hegemony" in Spanish talkies.

Several Girls Set Dates for Fall Weddings

BY THALIA

While the prospective brides and grooms of the autumn are making their wedding plans, several of the spring newlyweds are returning from their honeymoons.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey B. Blair have been back a week or so from a motor trip in the east and have taken a house on the west shore of Lake Geneva. They plan to stay there until late in the season, perhaps not coming into town until after Thanksgiving. Then they will probably take an apartment at the Lake Shore Drive hotel, where the former Mrs. Paulette Picard Whiting lived before her marriage.

Dr. and Mrs. Grant Harrison Laing, whose wedding took place on April 23, already have sailed from Italy, just missing the late seismic disturbance and should be arriving any day now. They are planning to live in Chicago, as Dr. Laing is a member of the St. Luke's hospital staff. Mrs. Laing was Mrs. Latimer Goodrich.

The fall brides and grooms will include:

Miss Mary Elizabeth Couch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira J. Couch, and Alfred Norvel Mitchell of London, who are to be married on Sept. 9 at St. Luke's Episcopal church in Evanston, with a reception following at the Couch residence in Glenview.

Miss Jean MacLeish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce MacLeish of Hubbard Woods, and John Dern II., son of Gov. and Mrs. George H. Dern of Utah, are to be married on Sept. 20.

Miss Jane Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra J. Warner, and Edison Dick, the Albert B. Dicks' son, have set Sept. 23 for their wedding day.

Miss Marianne Stevenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stevenson, and Bruce Thorne, son of Mrs. George A. Thorne. They are to be wed at the Fourth Presbyterian church on Oct. 2.

Fall brides who have not yet announced dates for their weddings include:

Miss Ellen Stuart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stuart, who is engaged to George A. Poole Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Poole.

The Kohlsaat girls, Cynthia and Suzanne, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Kohlsaat, who are engaged, respectively, to Edward Harkness and Franklin Agnew.

Miss Dorothy Wegener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Wegener, who is to marry Bennet Harvey, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert H. Harvey.

The Misses Kohlsaat have had as their house guest for the last week Mr. Agnew's sister, Miss Peggy Agnew of Creston, Ia. The parties for the visitor were marred by the sudden illness of Miss Cynthia, who was operated upon last Saturday for appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Marquette Healy of Chicago and Lake Geneva announced yesterday the marriage of their daughter, Patricia Healy Frost, to Robert Stillman of Philadelphia. The wedding took place on July 25 in Philadelphia, where Mr. Stillman and his bride are to reside.

Additional notes on the opening of the Little Harbor club at Harbor Springs, Mich., over last week-end:

One of the more enchanting features of the clubhouse is the lovely swimming pool. It is lined with turquoise blue tile, and along the edges are pots of pink hollyhocks and white daisies. Gay beach tables and sun umbrellas enliven the scene, and still further color is provided by a number of little boats with colored sails riding at anchor in the harbor. Chicagoans up for the festivities included Larry Calahan, Miss Emily Otis, Robert Curtis, and Dr. J. Wendell Clark.

The Burt A. Massees, who are cruising in Georgian bay on the yacht Margo, and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Neil C. Ward, stopped off to attend the opening party as guests of James Offield. Mr. Offield and his son have just opened their cottage nearby after a three weeks' cruise on the Cormorant. Mrs. Offield and her daughter, Miss Betty Offield, who has been studying in Paris for the last year and who is to make her début this winter, land this week on the Ile de France and will probably go to Harbor Point for the remainder of the summer.

The club has proved to be a popular rendezvous since its opening. Mrs. Robert C. Wheeler, chairman of the house committee, gave a buffet supper on Sunday evening and a dinner party on Tuesday night. Her mother, Mrs. M. D. Thatcher, gave a tea party on Tuesday. Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Pierce and Mrs. William Waller Jr. entertained guests on Sunday evening also.

At the Chicago club at Charlevoix things are lively also. Mr. and Mrs. Oscar W. Johnson gave a party for a group of young people on Saturday night aboard their yacht, the Witch, taking them to Harbor Springs for the dancing there. On the way back they hit a shoal, but no serious damage was done and the group landed safely. Mrs. Robert Stuart has as her guest at the Chicago club her sister, Mrs. Alexander Laird of Toronto, Canada. Mrs. Edmund Carrington and her daughter, Miss Jane Carrington, have returned from a visit with Mrs. A. Harris Whiting. Mrs. M. G. Linn and her daughter, Eleanor, of Des Moines, Ia., are guests at the Howard Linn cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer, who have been in Europe since late June, landed in New York city on Monday on the Ile de France. They probably will go to Bar Harbor, Me., where the younger members of the family are already occupying their summer residence, Hare Forest.

WILL RESIDE IN CLEVELAND

[Underwood & Underwood Photo.]

Miss Nancy Langworthy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred T. Langworthy of Evanston, was married last Saturday afternoon to Adon N. Smith II., son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip T. Smith of Hamilton, N. Y. After Sept. 1 Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside in Cleveland.

Papal Official Baptizes the Daughter of Marconi

Sally Selects 100 Guests for Big Circus

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

The numerous forecasts that reach my ears of Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey circus are making me very eager to have circus day arrive. I know you are just as anxious as I am. The parade, alone, which begins the performance is worth the trip to Grant park. It will be a magnificent procession of gaily decorated floats and chariots, superb horses, huge elephants, handsomely costumed riders, a succession of splendor and beauty.

The variety of entertainment to be found under the big top ensures a perfect time for its audience. If you are the fun loving type who enjoys a bit of rollicking comedy the clowns will keep you in hysterics with their antics. The more serious minded will be delighted with the marvelous and daring feats of the aerialists who perform high above the heads of the spectators. Should you be looking for a thrill, I don't know where you'd find one to equal that of the human projectile act. Yes, there will be something to please every frame of mind.

I hope that every circus lover has written and mailed his or her letter for you know I shall select my guests this morning. The hundred boys and girls who have written the most convincing letters will find their names in SUNDAY'S TRIBUNE and can make preparations for a glorious afternoon when we assemble at Grant park a week from today.

Today's the day for our Ravinia party. Are you ready, boys and girls, for a delightful time? The invitations which were mailed to you during the week give instructions for meeting so you know what the plans are. Please be punctual because we cannot hold the trains and I don't want one of you to miss the good time we will have.

Zoo Is Source of Perennial Joy to Most Youngsters

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

You can have a well baby this summer if you know how to take care of it. Mrs. Bevans will send you the necessary information on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A cool Sunday morning in summer. Father's finished his leisurely breakfast, glanced over the paper, and is ready for an outing with the children—or perhaps his only child.

"The zoo."

"The zoo again—aren't you tired of the zoo?" he asks in surprise, partly because he's tired of it himself.

Children are like that. Especially when they're young, it is the known thing, the familiar thing, that appeals to them. Provided there's a real rich interest in it, the fact that they know something deepens their regard for it.

You know, for instance, if they love a story or a poem, how they never seem to tire of it. They beg for it and listen to it again and again with wide eyes. Later, when they're older, they may exhaust the possibilities of each experience more quickly and crave greater variety. But when the world is new to them they do not.

So their interest in animals continues for years. For many children the zoo is the only avenue of acquaintanceship with wild and domestic animals. And their visits to it should be as frequent as they desire.

Each time, you'll observe, they'll notice something different about the animals. They can't see them in detail all at once, in one visit. The quiet beautiful creatures like the deer, the ridiculous, slimy, open maw of the hippo, the soft muzzle and spectacular markings of the zebra, the grace and latent fierceness of the lions, the absorbing sad ways of the monkeys, the stately loose lipped camels, the intelligent joyous sea lions, all grow on them with every visit. When you add to all this the fact that something special is apt to happen any minute—like the lioness having cubs, or the baby camel begging for popcorn, or the sea lions barking for their food and catching it with the skill of a big leaguer—it's no wonder that the zoo draws them again and again.

Eyes Need to Gaze Far Away on Blue Skies, Green Hills

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

If we city dwellers believed everything the statistical fiends print about us, we'd sell our city birthright for a mess of Florida waterfront pottage and call it a good exchange if we got drowned in the southern real estate.

In one day I read, first, that a pound of dust a year falls on a New York City face; second, that more than fifty per cent of city dwellers have vision defects, due chiefly to our limited range for long distance gazing, and third, that the daily affronts on our ear drums from drilling machines and taxi tootings and brake grindings will eventually put us all away in a nice quiet place for disordered nervous systems, sometimes called mausoleums.

Reports like that are hard on the nerves, if we are at all given to gloom. However, the sun do shine and so long as it do, there's hope.

But the eyesight report haunts a bit, because not only are fifty per cent already affected, but if we don't do something about it, the other fifty may be at some future date, so we gather from the record.

Eyes need a vacation. They need blue skies and far away hills or mountain peak to give them a rest. Time was when we could go to a window in the front parlor or the back and get an eyeful of the green or blue stuff needed. But now your nature hungry eye has to feast upon a window dotted blank wall or a gruesome panorama of clothes hung fire escapes.

Let us be alarmed about the eye report. Enough, anyway, to give the eyes a bit of consideration. There is no rest for the eye like that which it gets from a long distance view. But if we can't manage that, at least we can look up from our work every hour or so and conjure up a vision of a green countryside, just to untense the eye muscles.

Swiss Embroidered Suit Favored by Parisiennes

J. KOUES. PARIS.

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—Paris misses no longer "Miss their Swiss," sartorially speaking, anyway! Swiss embroidery is the most popular summer material with the Paris couturiers. Chanel uses it, combined with tulle and strasse, to make some of her most successful evening frocks. Martial et Armand like to trim taffeta and crêpe costumes with it. Agnes fashions it into ravishing hats.

Lelong's Swiss embroidered tailleurs are simply delightful for summer wear either in the morning or in the early afternoon. He makes them in all the pastel shades and gives them plain muslin blouses and Swiss embroidered bags to match.

The Lelong costume sketched above is of nattier blue muslin embroidered all over with eyelets in a grouped flower pattern. Two box plaits give fullness to the skirt in front; the back is left plain, which makes for less and easier pressing. Incrusted bands of the Swiss embroidery descending in the front give the effect of a hip yoke. You may, if you like, relieve the simplicity of the short jacket by wearing a muslin flower on your left lapel.

The chemisier blouse is of plain nattier blue muslin with plastrons of horizontal pin tucks. Collar and flat jabot are of the plain muslin, as is the tailored belt. Buttons and belt buckle are of blue crystal.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Needy Case.

"I am writing you to see if you cannot find some way of helping a woman I know. She is under 30, is taking care of a husband who is going blind, and two children. Her invalid father and mother are dependent upon her and she is helping a brother through school. She has had a bad rupture and has asked me to try to get her an abdominal truss. Do you think you could secure one for her? Her hip measure is 36. G. B."

The overburdened woman G. B. writes about lives in Virginia and she has been helping her for some time. Perhaps you, too, can offer some assistance in the form of the truss she so badly needs. She would be sure to find it a comfort.

Have you ever wondered about the strange fruits at the market which few people buy and which few seem to know about? A most important one on the market almost the year around is a large fruit ranging from 1½ to 2½ pounds. It varies in shape from round to pear and oval and in color from green to purple and brown. This is the avocado, once known as the alligator pear.

As a rule this fruit is disliked. Too often it is used ignorantly. Many times the fruit is served green and the result is an unsatisfactory flavor and texture. The fruit should be ripe and at this stage yields to finger pressure. When ripe, the flesh is of a greenish yellow color and has a pleasing rich, nutty flavor.

Avocados are gradually advancing in favor and they deserve still greater popularity because they are exceptionally nutritious. According to government analysis they contain 72.8 per cent water, 2.2 per cent protein, 4.4 per cent carbohydrates, 17.3 per cent fat, 1.4 per cent crude fiber, 1.9 per cent ash and they are rich in vitamins B and C. While avocado is preeminently a salad plant, its heavy fat composition suggests that it should never be served with a salad dressing heavy in oil. With lemon or lime juice, or French dressing it is delicious.

Avocado is also satisfactory used in the preparation of ice creams and sherbets as well as in sandwich mixtures and soups. In tropical countries where the fruit is produced and where people have experimented with its preparation it is often cooked. Cooking, however, does not improve the flavor or texture but rather injures it.

Avocados are now on the market and have been since April, but are not in abundance. They come in most abundantly from November to March and are at their best in December.

This valuable fruit is waiting for an introduction to the American table. When it is more generally used the price will be more reasonable because there will be no waste of fruit that waits to be consumed. When you are looking for something unusual, try the avocado.

Avocado Salad

1 small avocado.
2 lemons or limes.
Lettuce.

Chill the avocado thoroughly. Wash, but do not peel. Just before serving [the fruit discolors on standing] cut each pear into quarters. Take out the large seed. Slice each quarter into 3 slices and lay on a bed of lettuce. Garnish with two quarters of lemon or lime.

Yield: 4 servings. One serving: Total, 100 calories; protein, 3 calories; fat, 8 calories; carbohydrates, 9 calories.

Steno's Error.

While employed as a stenographer in a busy law office I was called in to take a letter which the client would take with him. A few minutes after I had brought in the letter, I heard a galae of laughter and went in to see what the joke was about. Imagine my surprise when my employer, in the presence of his client, read the following: "My client has been for the last nine months and still is under the doctor's car and in his opinion it will be some time before she will be able to do without medical attention." The joke surely was on yours truly, as in my hurry I forgot to put an "e" after the word "car." S. R.

Broadway Singer and Wife Adopt Baby as John Steele Jr.

Stamford, Conn., July 30.—[Special.]—John Steele, Broadway lyric tenor, has adopted a new theory about marriage. He exhibited it today by adopting an infant boy.

As if reminiscent of the smash-up last year of his marriage with the former Mabel Stapleton, he remarked:

"Many marriages go on the rocks because there is no little one to bless them."

And as if thinking also of her divorce from Harry Delmar, Steele's present wife, the former Janette Hackett, nodded assent.

The Steeles, at their summer home in Stamford said they arranged to adopt the baby, whom they named John Steele Jr., from a New York hospital, immediately after its birth a month ago.

"We don't know who his real parents are, but we understand they were victims of one of those life tragedies in which they found they could not support him," said the tenor. "And so we took him and will give him everything we have."

Indigestion

Immediate Relief!

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn—now—why this method is supreme.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Superior 0100, Adtaker!

He might have been a prince with a principality or a count with countless bills to pay, but just the same the Tribune Censor said, "No!" Read what he had to say:

We won't be heartless. Here is the translated version:

YOUNG INTELLIGENT BUSINESS man, high school education, 26 years old, athletic and tall, Christian, wishes to marry young, refined girl. She must be well situated and 18 to 22 years old. Send $1 for photograph. Herr Blank, Bulgaria, Europe.

Offers to wed, like the one above, are received frequently from all parts of the world. With the coming of Spring the number received increases considerably. Almost all indicate the European impression that this is the land of plenty. However, long experience compels the Tribune to reject all such advertising, consequently, no matrimonial offers ever find their way into print.

ROTARIAN FROM TEXARKANA MADE HAPPY

Early this month, Rotarian H. F. Offenhauser, of Texarkana, Arkansas, accompanied by Mrs. Offenhauser, came to Chicago to attend the International Rotary Convention.

Mrs. Offenhauser lost her purse. Sympathetic suggestions poured in, but no one came in with the purse. Finally, a friend suggested placing a Want Ad in the Tribune.

Now read Mr. Offenhauser's letter, received a few days ago by the Tribune:

"You will remember about two weeks ago my wife and I were in your office and placed an advertisement for a lost purse. It certainly pays to advertise, as I heard from the purse almost immediately, it having been found by one of the officials of the Creamery Packages Manufacturing Company, West Washington Boulevard. I immediately wrote him and he kindly returned the purse with contents intact."

MICE AND MEN ARE JUST ALIKE TO CANCER GERM

Middle Age Is the Danger Period, Says Expert.

New York, July 30.—(AP)—A curious time element in cancer is described by Sir George Lenthal Cheatle, British cancer authority. He is chief surgeon of Kings College hospital in London and is here en route to the British Medical association meeting in Winnipeg next month.

There is one time zone when previously harmless stages of growths are likely to become cancers rather suddenly. This zone is in the same relative period of life for both men and animals.

"It suggests," Sir Lenthal said, "that either some fresh but as yet unknown factor or agent may enter the body just at the critical time and cause cancer, or that the different parts of the whole cycle form a continuous process, and one part passes naturally from one stage to the final catastrophe of cancer.

He Gives An Illustration.

"A very good illustration is the breast trouble named Schimmelbusch's disease. This starts as a cystic condition of a special type and causes an enlargement or enlargements in the breast and gives rise to a state that is certainly not cancer. The cells lining true cysts may alter in type and form a tumor which is benign, that is, one which is not cancer. It may remain harmless and benign always, but it may become cancer. There is distinct evidence that at least 20 per cent of all cases of cancer begin in this way.

"The first stage is most prevalent from the late twenties to the thirties, the second stage takes form in the late thirties and early forties. The change into cancer occurs in the late forties and early fifty years of life.

Men and Mice Alike.

"It is a curious thing that the changes which become skin cancer in tar painted mice, and those which become skin cancer in men who work in tar, follow a schedule quite similar to these breast cancers in Schimmelbusch's disease. The changes come with such regularity—the mice at six months, the humans in the late forties and early fifties.

"It may be that something fresh gets into the benign stage to turn it into cancer. Some persons seem immune to this change into cancer in the same way that some mice are immune.

"The fresh factor does not seem to be accidental. For if it were it would not be likely to occur with such uniformity of time."

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: After the Storm

Local Leaders Promise Their Support.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Danville, Ill., July 30.—[Special.]—Sectional rivalry in the 1931 general assembly for priority in the widening of important highways was forecast today by Representative Karl R. Ohair of Paris. He spoke before a luncheon here given by the Chicago Motor club to explain its program for the state to widen 860 miles of pavement and to build 63 grade separations in 1932 and 1933, after the completion of the bond isue system.

"We, the legislative delegation from this district," said Representative Ohair, "can best serve our constituents by determining upon a vigorous battle to place the widening of Route 1 at the head of the construction program. We will need the backing of the people in this fight because legislators from all parts of the state will be seeking the prompt widening of their main routes.

The motor club program calls for the widening of Route 1, the Dixie highway, from Chicago to five miles south of Danville, a distance of 138 miles. It is one of eleven highways radiating from Chicago that are listed for forty foot pavements.

Others who spoke were State Senator Martin B. Bailey, Representative Hugh Luckey and Mayor Henry F. Hulce.

Plan Psychopathic Clinic for Evanston Crime Cases

A psychopathic hospital to study criminal cases is being planned for Evanston, it was announced yesterday by Dr. David L. Hedburg of the staff of St. Francis hospital. It will be directed by Dr. Hedburg and Police Magistrate Harry H. Porter. It will be modeled after the Chicago institution operated in conjunction with the Municipal court and headed by Dr. Meyer Solomon.

Henry A. Poritz Funeral Service to Be Tomorrow

Funeral services for Henry A. Poritz, 70 years old, 701 Emerson street, Evanston, will be held tomorrow afternoon in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church of Evanston. Mr. Poritz was a resident of Chicago since 1865 and a member of the Board of Trade for 40 years. He is survived by his widow, Lotta Wheeler Poritz. Interment will be at Oakwoods cemetery.

DIES IN TONSIL OPERATION.

St. Louis, Mo., July 30.—(AP)—Miss Mary May, 18, whose parents reside at Monroe City, Ill., died at St. Mary's infirmary yesterday while under an anesthetic for the removal of her tonsils.

Niel Lykke, Real Estate Dealer, Dies Suddenly

Niel Lykke, South Chicago real estate dealer and president of the Building and Loan League of Illinois and the Crown Building and Loan association, died suddenly of a heart attack early this morning in Grand Rapids, Mich., where he was attending a ball in connection with the 38th annual convention of the United States Building and Loan association. Mr. Lykke was 63 years old. He was formerly active in Republican politics in the old 8th ward. He is survived by his widow and a daughter, Miss Amy Lykke. The family home is at 7130 Coles avenue. Mr. Lykke maintained an office at 3022 East 92d street. His body will be brought to Chicago for burial.

LINDBERGH TO SPEAK OVER NATIONAL RADIO HOOKUP ON AUG. 8

New York, July 30.—[Special.]—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh will speak over the National Broadcasting company's network of radio stations Friday, Aug. 8, on international "Aviation" and is expected to advocate calling by the league of nations of an international aviation conference to discuss the crossing of international boundaries and other important problems.

The colonel's address will be his first over the radio since Oct. 5, 1929, when he spoke from the headquarters of the Guggenheim Foundation.

He will speak for fifteen minutes beginning at 11 p. m., New York daylight saving time.

NAVAL VESSELS TO GET TALKIES BY NEXT WINTER

Washington, D. C., July 30.—(AP)—Sailors of the navy will get their "talkies" afloat as well as on shore by the time the next winter cruise begins.

Difficult problems encountered on ships have caused the long delay in adopting the modern form of motion picture entertainment for the navy. New equipment had to be devised and the work has been speeded up so that the navy expects to let contracts in August. About $500,000 will be spent for the equipment.

Before the "talkies" became popular the 600 silent film pictures produced annually were ample for the navy to make its selection. Now the silent production has fallen so that only 60 will be available this year. The sound picture equipment will go on 200 ships.

Margaret Howland Funeral Rites Will Be Held Today

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Utley Howland, wife of David R. Howland, president of the Miller and Hart Packing company, will be held this afternoon at the family home, 10357 South Leavitt street. Mrs. Howland was the daughter of H. B. Utley, vice president of the International Harvester company. She died Monday at the Michael Reese hospital. She is survived by her husband and three children: Betty, Henry, and a day old baby son. Interment will be in Mount Hope cemetery.

DR. JOHN ELLIS, EYE SPECIALIST, DIES SUDDENLY

Dr. John B. Ellis, eye specialist, dropped dead yesterday in the lobby of Marshall Field annex where he had offices. His death was attributed to heart disease. He was 55 years old.

DR. JOHN ELLIS. [Wallinger Photo.]

Dr. Ellis was a clinical professor of ophthalmology at Rush Medical college, where he was graduated in 1899. He had served as attending ophthalmologist for St. Joseph's and the Presbyterian hospitals, Illinois State School for Girls, Illinois State School for Boys, and the Home for Destitute Crippled Children.

He was a member of the Institute of Medicine of Chicago and the Chicago Ophthalmological society. He was a member of the Chicago Athletic association, the Edgewater Beach Golf club, and served on the board of governors of Sunset Valley Country club.

Dr. Ellis is survived by his widow and two children. The home is at 1038 Balmoral avenue.

Mrs. Bella Cohen, Mother of Labor Director, Dead

Funeral services for Mrs. Bella Cohen, mother of Barney Cohen, state director of labor, will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. at the chapel at 3125 Roosevelt road. She died yesterday at the age of 90. Mrs. Cohen had been a resident of Chicago for 60 years. She is survived by four other children, Mrs. Rose Kantro, Mrs. Flora Grashin, Mrs. Fannie Israelson, and Abe Cohen. Interment will be at Waldheim cemetery.

Hold Funeral Today for Sergt. William Sullivan

Funeral services for William Sullivan, 54 years old, a police sergeant assigned to the Hyde Park station, will be held this afternoon at 4141 Cottage Grove avenue. Death occurred Tuesday at his home, 766 East 69th place, from a brain hemorrhage. He is survived by his wife, Annabell, and three sons, George, Roy, and Charles. Interment will be in Cedar Park cemetery.

Nothing else Like it!
snap! Kellogg's RICE KRISPIES pop!
No OTHER cereal so crisp. Rice Krispies actually crackle out loud in milk or cream. Children are wild about them.
And such flavor! The taste of toasted rice. A different treat for breakfast. Wonderful for the kiddies' lunch. So wholesome and easy to digest. Rice Krispies are handy to use in recipes. Take the place of nutmeats. At grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

WHY EVERYWOMAN HAS FAITH
IN GOOD HOUSEKEEPING

THE MOTHER

More than two million babies are born each year in America. What America will be tomorrow depends largely upon their environment and care.

Science and Industry stretch out eager hands. Business knows that a home into which a baby comes is a home that plans for the future . . . a home that seeks modern ideas and comforts.

GOOD HOUSEKEEPING, rich in all-around interest, is also a modern institution of parenthood and childhood.

It serves the mother with authority from the beginning of the baby's life until the graduation of the grown child into a world in which its early training will enable it to conquer.

Industry recognizes GOOD HOUSEKEEPING as a magazine distinctively devoted to and deservedly trusted by the progressive family.

Just as its editorial service embraces all stages from infancy through maturity, so do the guaranteed products that are advertised in its pages.

You will find in the August GOOD HOUSEKEEPING a wealth of editorial and merchandise ideas which will mean for the mother fashion, beauty, comfort, health—and which will bring to her family the finest enjoyments this modern world offers.

MRS. FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

TUFFY GRIFFITH STOPS HEENEY IN TENTH

HOSE INFIELD ERRS 7 TIMES IN FIRST GAME

Pat Caraway Isn't Himself in 2d.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

For the time being, at least, the White Sox have abandoned the dizzy pace at which they traveled for a couple of weeks. They were forced to slow down yesterday by the usually meek Browns, who, after winning the first half of a doubleheader, came back rougher than before to gather in the nightcap battle. The scores, in the order of their manufacture, were 3 to 2 in ten innings and 6 to 1 in regulation time.

The second jolt was of such a lopsided nature that little can be offered in the Sox defense except that Pat Caraway wasn't himself, but in the opener they produced two items of more than passing interest. One was the accumulation of seven infield errors, the last of which paved the way to the Brownies' winning run in the tenth.

Walsh Beaten by Own Mates.

The other was a dashing relief expedition conducted by young Ed Walsh, who supplanted Red Faber after one inning and then threw eight dazzling scoreless sessions before being swept into defeat by the misdeeds of his own mates.

In neither affair were the Sox caught in the act of displaying a robust attack. In the first show they came up early with two mild protests against the southpawing of Walter Lefty Stewart, but in the six closing chapters they let the left hander proceed almost unmolested. Having observed this futile effort by his men, Boss Bush juggled his lineup a bit for the afterpiece, but this had no effect on George Blaeholder, who was in no danger after Caraway had been bumped for three runs in the second inning.

Lyons and Braxton will attempt to make amends in another twin bill with the Browns today. Killefer expects to employ Gray and Coffman.

FIRST GAME

Some of the weird fielding to which the Sox were addicted in the first game occurred in the opening inning. It enabled the Browns to step off with a two run lead against Faber. After two were out Goslin doubled to right. He romped to third on Ryan's bad throw of Kress' hopper. Cissell then booted Hale's grounder, Goslin scoring. Melillo followed with a single, driving Kress home.

The Sox retrieved one of the two runs in their half of the first round. Mulleavy slashed a two-bagger into Goslin's territory and Fatty Fothergill singled him home. Jolley also singled, putting Fothergill on third, but the next two hitters could offer no assistance.

Wind Helps Sox Tie Score.

A little help from Lady Luck was required to give the Sox a tying run in the fourth. Jolley opened the inning with a hit and Barnes forced him. After Cissell had flied out Ryan poked a single to center. Tate then hoisted a tall fly over the infield. Hale set himself for the catch, but the wind pulled the ball out of his reach and it fell for a bargain two-bagger, Barnes scoring. This just about completed the Sox attack for the first game. In the six subsequent innings they frisked Stewart for only two hits.

The brilliancy with which Walsh had functioned for eight innings began to fade in the tenth, when he passed Goslin with one out. Kress lined a single over third and when Ryan kicked the return throw Goslin hiked to third and Kress to second. Hale was purposely passed, and the next happening was a sacrifice fly off Melillo's bat, Goslin going home with the winning run.

SECOND GAME

The thumping of Caraway in the nightcap began when Kress opened the second inning with a double to the scoreboard in left. Schulte hit a two-bagger to right and Kress strolled home. Melillo lifted a fly close to the line in short right and it fell for a double, scoring Schulte. O'Rourke's infield out put Melillo on third and he dashed home on Manion's fly to Polley.

The same three gentlemen who caused Caraway trouble in the second inning collaborated in the fifth, two scoring. The first jolt was a triple to left by Kress after two were out. He scored on a single by Schulte. It was Schulte's third blow of the game. Schulte stole second and went home on Melillo's two base smash to left.

After being more or less helpless against Blaeholder for six chapters the Sox finally solved him for a couple of hits that produced a run in the seventh. Clancy doubled on a drive that Goslin couldn't quite reach. A two-bagger by Tate scored him. The remainder of the show was uneventful except for a homer smashed against the second tier railing by Ted Gullic while Henry was pitching in the eighth.

NORRIS WILLIAMS BEATEN BY VINES IN NET TOURNEY

Seabright, N. J., July 30.—[Special.] — Continuing his brilliant march through the major grass court fixtures of the east, Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena, Cal., added another victory to his string today when he defeated Richard Norris Williams II. at the Seabright Lawn Tennis and Cricket club.

The dazzling nalf volleys and shimmering ground strokes that carried the former national champion to the finals last year met their checkmate in the almost equally daring shot making of the California junior, who took the first nine games of the match. The score was 6-0, 4-6, 6-2.

Cubs' Boss Is Sure They Can Catch Robins

The Cubs spent yesterday resting and trying to keep from learning about the scores of the Brooklyn-Philadelphia games. And the boys will rest again today, while Brooklyn goes against the poor Phils, for another harvest, probably.

As a result of the Robins' two victories and the Cubs' leisure, the former's edge over the champions this morning is 2½ games. Another Robin victory today will mean that the Cubs will open with Pittsburgh at Wrigley field tomorrow three games in second place.

Despite the advance of the leaders during the Cub rest, Manager Joe McCarthy welcomed the layoff.

"The heat we encountered on our long road trip got the boys down a bit, and the rest should fix them up for a big winning streak," Joe said. "Each club has 154 games to play, and the fact that the Robins are winning while we are resting is nothing to get excited about. If we were losing while they were winning these two days, then maybe there would be some cause for blues singing."

Mr. McCarthy did not announce his plans for Pittsburgh, but it is a certainty that Bud Teachout and Joe's other left hander, Mal Moss, will see duty. The Pirates didn't like what Bud and Mal served in Pittsburgh July 3 and 4. Malone, Root, Osborn, and Bush all will be available for work at the Pirate opener or on the dates immediately following.

Devotees of Miniature Golf Fight Sunday Ban

Longmont, Colo., July 30.—(AP)—Until miniature golf became the rage no united opposition to the Longmont 1882 blue laws was voiced. Today a special election was called for Aug. 12 to vote on repeal of the ordinances. Petitions seeking the election were signed by 1,400 persons. Theatricals and sport contests, miniature golf being classed as the latter, are banned on Sunday by the 1882 code.

Armour Wins Canadian Open from Diegel

ANCASTER, Ont., July 30.—(AP)—Tommy Armour today won the open golf championship of Canada by defeating Leo Diegel 138 strokes to 141 in a 36 hole play-off for the title.

TOMMY ARMOUR.

In the championship proper at 72 holes last week the two pros tied with scores of 277, Armour turning in a sensational 64 on his last round to 67 for Diegel.

The scoring today was higher, Armour making two rounds in 69 each, a stroke under par for each 18, while Diegel, after keeping pace in the morning, slumped to 72 in the afternoon.

Rough Rums Diegel.

Diegel faltered at the 11th hole of the afternoon round, the 29th hole of the day, when he took seven, three over par, while Armour holed out in four. Leo hooked his drive into bushes, took two strokes to go ten yards coming out, was short with his approach and finally on the green in five. He then took two putts. Armour, in the meantime, drove straight and true, sent his second on the green, and holed out in two putts for his par.

There never was more than a stroke between the contestants until Diegel uncorked his fatal hook on the 29th. Diegel scored two birdies and went one over par on one hole going out in the morning and played every hole coming home in par for a score of 39. Armour had one birdie on the first nine, and one hole over par, but he picked up a birdie coming home to leave matters all even at luncheon.

Armour Superior Throughout.

The first nine in the afternoon were played in 33 strokes, two under par, and the 28th, too, failed to give an advantage when a pair of fours were scored. And then came the turn in the tide, resulting in the eventual swamping of the long-hitting Diegel.

Armour who won the title in 1927 and has twice been runnerup, outplayed Diegel, on the whole. Long putts threatened to drop throughout the morning round and approach putts from 20 to 25 feet stopped inches from the cup. Diegel, the champion in 1924, 1925, 1928 and 1929, on the other hand, was wild from the tee and through the green and had to make some great recoveries to keep pace with the black haired Scot.

PEDLEY STARS AS HITCHCOCK TEAM WINS POLO TEST

Locust Valley, N. Y., July 30.—(AP)—The Whites, led by Capt. Tommy Hitchcock Jr., defeated the Reds in the fourth of a series of matches today to select a team to defend the Chester cup in the international matches with the British in September. The score was 16 to 11. Eric Pedley, Californian, playing at No. 1, scored seven of the White's 16 goals.

A few of Pedley's total were easy chances, the natural outgrowth of hard riding and accurate feeding of Hitchcock, No. 3, and Winston Guest Jr., No. 4, on the White team.

U. S. Marble Champion Loses to Canal Zone Boy

BALBOA, Canal Zone, July 3.—Vincent Sullivan, claimant to the marbles championship of the United States, who recently defeated boys of Cartagena, Colombia, lost to Robert Oller, Canal Zone champion, at Balboa stadium today. Sullivan, apparently suffering from stage fright or the effects of the hot weather, was outclassed by Oller who won three straight games.

AMYVALE WINS BY NOSE AFTER STRETCH DRIVE

Display Falters After Courageous Run.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Old Display, the iron horse of the American turf, yesterday at Arlington Park started the comeback which his owner Walter J. Salmon hopes will carry him past the high money winning record now held by Zev.

He was away slightly late as usual. He moved up with his famous determination nearing the lower bend. At the head of the stretch he was running second. Canaan was in front by a length and a half but the crowd began to yell "Here comes Display," because in his collegiate days when Display headed into the stretch only a length and a half back of the leader he always came on to win.

Display Falters in Stretch.

Display's drive carried him to gain a length on Canaan midway in the stretch. Then, for the first time in his long and glorious racing career, he began to falter. He dropped back.

But just when Canaan appeared to be a certain winner there flashed upon the outside a streak of green and red. Amyvale, from Tom Taggart's French Lick Springs stable, was running like the Century Limited, and Amyvale came so fast that he overhauled Canaan in the last strides and got the decision by a nose. Display held on to be third. Suitor was fourth and Boom was last in the five horse race.

It was Amyvale's third straight victory and each time he has been meeting better horses. He has been ridden by J. Marcum, Arlington's leading jockey, in every race.

Marcum took Amyvale out in front just as he did in his other two triumphs. At the last turn he dropped back and gave Amyville a breathing spell. Then, after every other horse had found racing room and a good safe racing position, Marcum proceeded to go to the outside and outrun every other horse in the race.

Discouraging to Veteran.

Poor old Display, probably felt a bit discouraged with life when such horses as Amyvale and Canaan beat him. But he pulled up in good condition and probably the next time he meets them they won't know which way he is going.

The Post and Paddock stakes plot became more of a mystery after the 2 year old race was won by Sun Meadow—son of Sun Briar-Red Clover. Sun Meadow made a show of his field and beat Chuckling from the Greentree stable by seven lengths, with Portcodine, the favorite, third.

Sun Meadow looked like a champion as he smothered those behind him with his fine burst of early speed. He looked better than ever as he raced into the stretch and increased his lead to a point where the race was a runaway. He ran the six furlongs in 1:11 4-5, which was the fastest time of the day, and in the mutuels paid $9.72.

Sun Meadow is owned by Mrs. Katherine Elkins Hitt of Washington and it was announced soon after his triumph that he will go against the stars Siskin, B'ar Hunter, Boys Howdy, Better Derr, Don Leon, Back Log, Risque, and others in the $30,000 juvenile event which is to bring down the curtain on the Arlington season Saturday.

Mickey Walker Stops Oster in Third Round

Redlegs Prefer the Sun; Lose at Night, 17-5

Indianapolis, Ind., July 30.—[Special.] — The Cincinnati Reds, first major league baseball club to play a night game, tried the arc lights against the Indianapolis American association team tonight and decided they prefer the sun.

Campbell and Ash, Cincinnati pitchers, were pounded by Indianapolis, and the Reds piled up errors to give the Indians a 17 to 5 victory. Indianapolis has won a majority of its night games, but has failed miserably on the road.

After the game Dan Howley, Cincinnati manager, said arc lights never will be a success in the major leagues. However, he regards them as a box office life saver for the minors. Howley said the lights were especially deceptive on hard hit balls close to the ground.

Bob Meusel, Cincinnati outfielder, said fly balls looked like aspirin tablets. Similarly, other Reds opposed the artificial lights.

Sidney Wiel, president of the Cincinnati club, told Indianapolis officials he liked the pioneering tonight and the 500 Cincinnati fans present also seemed to appreciate the novelty. Officials of other big league clubs saw the game, among them Bob Lewis of the Chicago Cubs.

COLBORN DOWNS SEEDED STAR IN ATLANTIC TENNIS

Ocean City, N. J., July 30.—(AP)—Harold Colborn of Philadelphia created an upset today in the annual Atlantic coast tennis championships at the Ocean City Tennis club by defeating Harry Plymire of California in the third round, 4-6, 8-6, 7-5. Plymire was seeded sixth in the tournament, while Colborn was not in the selected list.

Bertram Hammel, former captain of the Swarthmore college tennis team, and seeded No. 2, advanced to the fourth round by a 6-2, 6-1 victory over John McDiarmid, University of Texas. H. Y. Culley, California; Earl Taylor and Jake Hess, University of Texas, and Henry Claybaugh, Baltimore, also reached the fourth round.

OLD ROCK FAILS TO ANSWER BELL IN FINAL ROUND

Chicagoan Leaves Ring Untouched.

Good Anesthetic

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 30. — Young Stribling knocked out Phil Scott with an injured left hand, it was revealed tonight. An hour before the Georgian entered the ring an anesthetic was administered and then Stribling went out and annihilated Scott with the ailing mitt, just as he did to Otto Von Porat in Chicago about a month ago.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 30.—Tuffy Griffith of Chicago, or more properly of Sioux City, Ia., knocked out old Thomas Heeney of New Zealand in round nine or ten, according to your personal legalistic preference, at the Queensboro stadium this evening after a merry brawl.

They entered the ring almost together. First through the ropes at the stadium, a bush league, wooden enclosure strangely set in the urban shadows of the elevated railroad and a high building but walled in by a Kitty league plank fence, was Tuffy Griffith, weight 187, age about 23, maybe 23, a youth with shapeless features and a wide adenoid gape to his mouth.

Roll of Slack Tissue.

Maybe Heeney was 40 years old. The records are lax about the vital statistics of pugilism, but this dogged campaigner had a roll of slack tissue undulating above the margin of his purple trunks and his ring shoes, with the toes busting through and laced up with grocer's string, were the practical working apparel of an old journeyman who has no romantic notions as to his future. Forty seems a considerate guess at his years.

In the ninth round of fighting, more or less nip and tuck and vice versa, the young fellow with the mouth agape laid in a couple free hand swings on the face. One caught the old man on his left eye and brought it up in a darkish lump, the conventional, comic artist's conception of the blinker. The eye swelled shut, to be brief.

Then a right hand cracked him on the nose and some more rights and lefts went banging against the old party's face. He lurched a stride or two, his head sagged behind his arms and he was just about to settle to the rough weave of the rug when the bell rang and some instinct whirled him toward his corner.

Up on the step to meet him, leaning on his cane, aged, infirm, crippled and defeated, with the moth-eaten bristles of his frayed mustache twitching in excitement, was his manager, Charlie Harvey. There was a lot of age and ruin in that corner.

Tom Plays Out His Hand.

Old Charlie stomped on the ring floor with the butt of his limping stick. Old Thomas waggled his graying poll drunkenly. Arthur Donovan, the referee, leaned over Heeney, searching him for signs of hope and strength. They did what they could to restore him, but when the bell rang for round ten, Donovan made a sign to the young fellow sitting in the opposite angle of the ring.

"Griffith wins," he signified. "Technical knockout."

Heeney was fighting only to play out his hand. He never was much of a prize fighter. He was something on the order of those thick built sluggish minor league catchers who come up to the major leagues for short spells of work in the periods when the smart, agile types are hard to find, but vanish again when the talent improves. Licked by Tunney in a fight that was more an execution than a contest, he went home to Australia to reflect and count his earnings and then came back to the U. S. A. to sell off the ruins of his reputation as a burnt out haberdasher does in a fire sale.

Bout Draws 10,000.

Griffith had been knocked out, too, by a common ham named Jack Gagnon, some months back and he was trying hard to reestablish himself a young and coming heavyweight.

They were to have fought on Tuesday night, but a roll of thunder and a splash of rain deterred the trade, and so they took the ring 24 hours late under a cool and starless sky to get it over with. The public turned out to the number of about 10,000, arrayed on the weathered planks of a wooden arena within plain sight of Manhattan's mountainous spires.

The motormen of the elevated trains which describe a curve around the rim of the landsite, dragged their trains slowly past the stadium, which is a magnificent name for the place, peering out of their darkened cabs at the fighters in the ring, and the passengers manned the portholes, snipping distant glimpses and wondering whether they were seeing the

YANKEES TAKE DOUBLE HEADER FROM RED SOX

Lou Gehrig Clouts 32d Home Run.

RUTH AND KLEIN GAIN; OTHERS IN BIG SIX FALTER

The big six members had a busy day yesterday as four of them engaged in double headers, but the general trend of the batting averages was downward, with Chuck Klein and Babe Ruth furnishing the exceptions. Klein hit three out of seven in his two games to add a point to his average and make it .408. Ruth hit four times in nine attempts and gained two points, going to .358.

Frank O'Doul, Klein's leading rival, dropped a point to .403 with three hits in nine tries. Bill Terry and Al Simmons failed to connect safely and dropped four and five points respectively. Lou Gehrig held fourth place between them, dropping three points to .387 as he made three hits, one of them his thirty-second home run of the year, in ten tries. The standing:

Robins Gain on Cubs; Beat Phils Twice

Philadelphia, Pa., July 30.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Robins took advantage of the idleness of the Chicago Cubs today to increase their lead in the National league race to 2½ games by twice defeating the Phillies in a double header. The scores were 9 to 5 and 9 to 4.

In each game the Robins took the lead early and coasted along to victory. Watson Clark, Robin southpaw ace, finished the first game for Ray Moss when he showed signs of weakening near the end, and then pitched the entire second contest. The Robins piled up a total of 31 blows in the two games, including homers by Hendrick and Wright in the second. The Phillies made nine hits in each game. The double setback ran the Philadelphia string of defeats to 11 straight.

Eddie Anderson Hurt as Car Overturns in Ditch

Cedar Rapids, Ia., July 30.—(AP)—Cowboy Eddie Anderson, Chicago light weight; his manager, Joe Glaser of Chicago, and several of their party were injured slightly late yesterday when their automobile plunged into a ditch and turned over near here. The party was returning from Des Moines, where Anderson and Roy Williams had appeared on a boxing program Monday night. Anderson's back was bruised.

Shamrock V. Safe After Losing Convoy

HORTA, Island of Fayal, Azores, July 30. — (AP) — Shamrock V., upon which Sir Thomas Lipton pins his hopes of capturing the America's cup in September, was safe in Horta harbor tonight after having been out of contact with her convoy for five days.

The Shamrock was in company with the steam yacht Erin five days ago, when mist and rain swallowed her from view. The trim craft carries no wireless and all attempts to regain touch with her were fruitless.

However there was no anxiety aboard the convoying vessel, since the Shamrock has proved a seaworthy boat as well as a racer of quality, and her officers and crew represent the best seamen Great Britain can produce.

The Erin steamed on to Horta, arriving this morning. This afternoon the cup challenger sailed into port.

Col. Duncan Neill, on board the Erin, tonight said the trip to Fayal had been anything but exciting. The winds had been southwest throughout.

WOMEN GOLFERS CLASH TODAY IN SEMI-FINALS

Mrs. Melvin Jones Will Meet Mrs. Mida.

Mrs. Melvin Jones of Lincolnshire and Mrs. Lee Mida of Butterfield will meet today in the semi-finals of the women's Chicago district golf tournament at the Illinois Golf club. Mrs. Jones is the defending champion while Mrs. Mida holds the women's western open title.

The other two who came through their third round matches yesterday were Ariel Vilas of Glen View and Eva May Johnson of Skokie.

Mrs. Jones won her way into the semi-finals with an 8 and 7 victory over Jane Weiller of Vernon Ridge, while Mrs. Mida was beating Mrs. E. T. Nicholas Jr., of Beverly, 4 and 2.

Miss Johnson Stages Rally.

Miss Vilas eliminated Ruth Wilsey of Bunker Hill, 4 and 2, and Miss Johnson was forced to rally to defeat Mildred Hackl of Midlothian, 1 up, after being three down at the end of nine holes.

Mrs. Nicholas lost the first two holes of yesterday's encounter with Mrs. Mida by three putting and hitting into a trap. On the fourth she overshot the green and was three down.

Approaches Too Long.

Mrs. Mida dropped the sixth and eighth with too long approaches and stood one up at the turn. On the tenth Mrs. Nicholas hooked her second shot into the trees and went two down. Mrs. Mida drove the green on the 213 yard eleventh and climbed to three up with a birdie.

Mrs. Nicholas then dropped a 20 foot putt to win the twelfth, but Mrs. Mida got it right back with a putt of equal length on the thirteenth. The match ended on the sixteenth when Mrs. Nicholas overshot the green and went four down.

FIRST FLIGHT.

Mary Joslyn, La Grange, beat Mrs. C. M. Case, 1 up on the 20th. Mrs. Stanley Jacks, Oak Park, beat Mrs. O. F. Burnett, Medinah, 1 up. Mrs. O. C. Horn, Glen Eagles, beat Mrs. W. W. Haerther, Exmoor, 5 and 3.

Mrs. L. M. Zech, Tam o' Shanter, beat Mrs. J. Legrand, Mission Hills, 6 and 4.

Tribune Golf Players Wage Close Battles

Another group of golfers went through hard fought matches yesterday in THE TRIBUNE'S public links tournament. Duffers and experts had an equal chance, for no one was paired against a player who was too good for him.

If you haven't entered this unique tournament there is still time to get a lot of fun out of it before the summer ends. Just play a trial round today on any course you wish and send your card to THE TRIBUNE golf editor. Then your name and that of your opponent will appear in the paper and you can play your part of the match any time you find convenient, while your adversary is doing the same.

E. S. Martin, 1320 Scott avenue, Chicago Heights, beat A. F. Enke, 6915 Michigan avenue, 1 stroke.

G. H. Mathews, 1614 South 15th avenue, Maywood, beat Mathew Jiracek, 2242 South Oak Park avenue, Berwyn, 2 strokes.

T. MacCorkindale beat F. B. Findlay, 1025 North Dearborn street, 3 strokes.

J. J. Vail Jr., beat J. O. Dozois, 2921 West 95th street, by default.

Henry Karasinski, 4714 West Superior street, beat Michael Yansick, 4729 South Damen avenue, 2 strokes.

Mark Withey, South Willow Springs road, La Grange, vs. Harry Weeks.

H. M. Sonneborn, 1228 Michigan avenue, La Porte, Ind., vs. Roy H. Bender.

LeRoy Cobb, Aurora, vs. Ted Lambros, 7720 Sheridan road.

C. C. Swanson, 3716 Clinton avenue, Berwyn, vs. H. J. Hajek, 2615 South Central Park avenue.

P. L. Fosbury, 228 Forest avenue, Glen Ellyn, vs. G. F. Hadam, 432 West 61st street.

A. F. Carter, 6908 Cornell avenue, vs. F. G. Anderson, 18 East Erie street.

ART SWEET AND GUS NOVOTNY TIE IN JABBER WALK

Art Sweet of Ridgemoor and Gus Novotny of Edgewood Valley each shot 146 to tie for low gross in the eighth annual Jabber Walk yesterday at the Ridgemoor Country club. Sweet won the toss for first prize.

After Art's 20 foot putt for 145 had rimmed the cup and trickled out, Gus came to the 36th hole needing a deuce to tie at 146. His 150 yard tee shot bounced beside the pin and rolled ten feet away. Then he holed the putt.

Sweet was out with nine consecutive fours in the morning. He came home in 37 for a 73 and followed up with another 73 in the afternoon. Novotny shot a 72 in the morning and at one point made five consecutive birdies. In the afternoon he took a 74.

E. R. Hammes, Chicago, with 77, won low gross honors at the Kimanis golf tournament yesterday at St. Andrews. Art Hibbard, also of Chicago, captured low net with 83—11—72. The fourth annual meet attracted more than 300 entries.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

"IN AND OUTERS."

THE WAKE has received sporadic complaints of in and out running at Arlington Park. Well, of course, there have been some form reversals—there always will be at any race track—but none that looked flagrant in the sense when flagrant is used with a sinister meaning.

On one occasion we nursed a little burst of indignation all our own, although we had not wagered on the race, when a nag won easily which had been beaten 30 lengths its last time out. We were on the point of taking our typewriter on our lap, so to speak, and calling it to the attention of the stewards, capable though they are. Then we stopped to reflect that the stable to which this nag belonged had a long record of integrity, ran for the purses, and never placed more than a sentimental bet on its starters.

Then, becoming more kindly in our search for excuses, we thought of our golf game. When we are GOOD we sometimes shoot 108 or 110; at other times, as high as 125. Now a difference of 15 strokes would be equivalent correspondingly to about an eighth of a mile in a mile and one-eighth race. No horse ever is that inconsistent. So we just decided that horses were like human beings and that Presiding Steward Chris Fitzgerald, who has a reputation for severity, and his associates could attend to their jobs better than we could attend to their jobs.

There always will be uncertainties in racing. Racing luck, jockeyship, moods or whims of the horses cause varying results. There probably always will be cases of dishonest racing, as in any business, but the tendency, in our opinion, is the other way. Increased rewards in purses and competent officials alone are impelling motives toward honesty.

"Before" the Lively Ball.

[From Pierce County, Wisconsin, Herald, July 29, 1880, via H. F. D.]

The match game of ball last Saturday played on the slave mill grounds between the "Descipies" of this place and the "Burr Oaks" of this township resulted in a wholesale slaughter of the former. They were "whitewashed," "goose-egged," "round old," and everything else the first three innings. After that the boys went at it and made some good runs, but it was impossible to overcome the big score of the Burr Oaks. J. Lusk of Eahaile acted as umpire. He intended to do the fair thing by both clubs, we think, but as he was not very well posted on the game an appeal to rules forced him to reverse several of his decisions. The score was 67 to 38 in favor of the Burr Oaks.

How Swift the Summer Goes.

How swift the summer goes,
The clover and wild rose;
The clover now is hay,
Not long the rose will stay;
The birds with second broods
Won't tarry long in woods,
And when fall asters bend
Then summer songs will end;
Only the winds that blew,
The earth that grows things new,
Some good we may have done
Or blessings we have won. J. L.

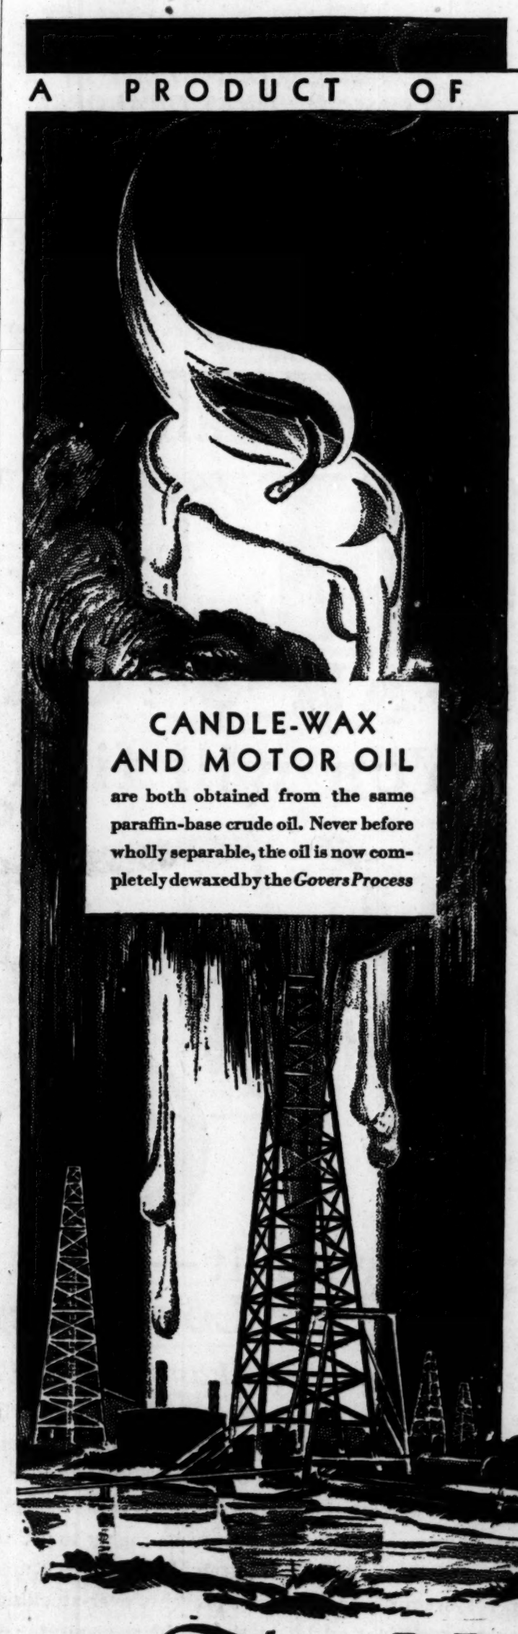
A PRODUCT OF INDIAN REFINING COMPANY



CANDLE-WAX AND MOTOR OIL are both obtained from the same paraffin-base crude oil. Never before wholly separable, the oil is now completely dewaxed by the Govers Process

THE GREATEST IMPROVEMENT IN SUMMER OIL SINCE THE INVENTION OF THE MOTOR CAR

For years refiners sought a way to remove the wax from paraffin-base oils because wax turns water-thin with heat and has no lubricating value; because wax congeals with cold.

That is why The New Waxfree Havoline, refined by the revolutionary new Govers Process, is acclaimed by impartial lubrication engineers as the greatest refinement ever made in motor oil.

Entirely free from wax . . . it is the first 100%-distilled unblended paraffin-base oil ever refined for hot weather use.

It possesses greater heat resistance—remains oily longer—than any other summer oil of the same body at high motor temperatures.

It does not "wear out" after a few hundred miles because it contains no quick-burning volatile elements. It gives every bearing surface 100% lubrication, at all speeds, under all conditions.

You can use The New Waxfree Havoline twice as long as you can safely use any ordinary oil. Many critical motorists tell us of driving 1500, even 2000 sweet-running miles without draining.

Waxfree means carefree in summer driving. At 35c per quart this great new oil is the most economical per mile. Dealers everywhere have the proper grade for your car. Drain and refill—today!

If you want a medium-priced oil, Blended Havoline is without equal

GRIFFITH STOPS OLD TOM HEENEY IN TENTH ROUND

New Zealander Fails to Answer Bell.

In the first round Tuffy whaled old Tom's chin with both mitts and Heeney bent and almost settled down. Then Tom spread his big, meaty feet, with the toes straining almost out of his shoes in the effort, and punched him back so hard that Tuffy went over backward against the ropes. He would have sat down hard if the ropes hadn't been there, but they sprung him back. They spent the next half minute banging one another on the chin.

Little Blood Spilled.

Heeney won the second round, but from that point on the young fellow outpunched him and in the end he just naturally mauled him apart. There wasn't much bloodshed.

Old Tom's eye and his nose went wrong on him under two quick consecutive slams in the last half-minute of the ninth. He had taken a pounding in his middle. He was sore and elderly and there wasn't much money in the house. He stumbled blindly, almost through the ropes after the bell ending the ninth, and Donovan, looking him over, decided quite wisely that further beating in round ten would only be reiteration of proof. Griffith left the ring without a wound.

MARINE BEATS CURATE TO WIN SARATOGA STAKE

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., July 30.—[Special.]—Marine, 4 year old son of Man o' War, was the surprise winner of the Saratoga handicap before 15,000 who saw the beginning of the month's meeting here today.

At the end of the mile and a quarter Marine rushed the Mount Royal stable colors to a head victory over Joseph E. Widener's Curate, which had been made the 8 to 5 favorite. The Belair stud's Frisius was third.

Marine carried 107 pounds, as against 106½ for Curate, ran the mile and a quarter in 2:04 1-5, and earned $7,400, the largest purse of the day. Frank Baker was Marine's rider, and the horse paid 5 to 1.

Nine came out for the handicap and there was some delay at the start while Black Majesty and Comstockery behaved badly. Black Majesty was off best, despite his bad tactics, and the next to find his stride was Petee Wrack, strong second choice at 18 to 5.

64 TO PLAY IN NATIONAL OPEN TENNIS TOURNEY

Sixty-four will compete in the second annual national open lawn tennis championship tournament, which opens at Washington park on Saturday. The finals are scheduled for Aug. 10. Richard Hudlin, who won the St. Louis singles title and is a former captain of the University of Chicago tennis squad, and Wilbur Clarke, last year's western champion, are among the seeded contestants.

Grayson Finds Visible Track at Arlington

CARY T. GRAYSON.

Admiral Cary T. Grayson, honorary steward at Arlington, was asked yesterday.

Admiral Grayson came to Arlington direct from Europe, where he had visited most of the famous tracks.

"Well, at Arlington you can see the races," Admiral Grayson said. "At some of the courses I visited in Europe I wondered if they had been built with the idea of permitting the spectators to get a view of the track.

"I was at Chantilly when the French Derby was run. We could jump up and down, and when we were in the air we got a glimpse of the ears of the horses that were running in the Derby. I didn't see much of the Derby and I don't believe many spectators got a better view of it than I did."

Admiral Grayson's great brood mare, Starflight, a full sister of Edward R. Bradley's North Star III., has made a record of some sort during the last two years in producing two sons which were sold for a total of $87,000 at the yearling sales at Saratoga.

Her son, Broadway Limited, whose daddy was Man o' War, brought $65,000 at Saratoga two years ago, and her son, Insco, whose daddy was Sir Gallahad III., went to Griffin Watkins of Illinois at last August's sales for $22,000. Old timers say no other brood mare ever has sent two such high priced youngsters to the sales.

MILLS TO PLAY KELLOGS.

656 SWIMMERS ENTER WEST SIDE MEET SATURDAY

A field of 656 swimmers, the largest that ever represented the west parks in an inter-park meet, will clash for the championship of the west side on Saturday at Douglas park.

The field is divided into five sections. There are 127 junior boys under 15 years, 149 intermediate boys under 18 years, 99 senior men, 18 years and over, 123 junior girls under 15 years, and 158 senior women, 18 years and over.

Besides the usual races and diving events there will be a watermelon scramble for each of the three boys' divisions. Greased watermelons will be thrown into the center of the pool. The boy, from each division finally grabbing the prize by getting it out on the bank will receive not only the watermelon, but a gold medal, as well. The girls will have a novelty balloon race in the water, blowing the balloons across the pool.

BANNER BRIGHT BEATS LATONIA ODDS ON CHOICE

Latonia, Ky., July 30.—(AP)—The Audley farm silks again showed in front at Latonia when Banner Bright, a two time winner at the Kentucky meeting, defeated a field of 3 year old fillies over a mile and 70 yards in the Mills Point purse today.

Johnson Camden's entry of Ellice and Honey Locust was made the odds-on favorite, and for the early part of the journey it appeared as if the pair would fulfill the hopes of their backers. In the last sixteenth, however, Banner Bright came from far back wit ha terrific rush to win by a full length. Elizabeth Kennedy also moved up to take second with Ellice third. The winner stepped the distance in 1:43 4-5 and paid $11.90 in the mutuels.

Fishermen Find Plenty of Bass in Missouri Ozarks

BY BOB BECKER.

Although streams are low, good catches of small mouth bass, rock bass, and wall-eyed pike are being made in the Missouri Ozarks country. This vacationland west of Cairo, Ill., and easily accessible from Chicagoland, has some of the most rugged and beautiful scenery in the Mississippi valley.

Fishermen who expect to visit the Ozarks in the vicinity of Birch Tree, Mo.; Gucks Fork, and the Current river section should plan on a float trip down one of the streams. This float trip stunt is the accepted method of fishing those beautiful mountain rivers.

It's fun to drift down stream, even if you don't fish. By using either a fly or bait casting rod one can have a great deal of sport with bass and wall-eyes, which are commonly called jack-salmon in the mountain country.

In making one of these float trips the idea is to have your boat hauled upstream as far as you wish and then with a guide to handle the craft you let the current do the work while you operate the fishing weapons. There are one day floats and week and two week floats. On Guck's Fork near the little town of Birch Tree, it is possible to put in the streams in the morning and leisurely come down 18 miles over good fishing water in one day. Small mouth weighing up to 4 pounds are being taken from this section now, even though weather conditions have been anything but favorable for good fishing.

Fishermen who contemplate an outing in the Ozarks should take their camping equipment with them, because the real fun of fishing the streams in the mountains is to stay for several days. The scenery is delightful, with high hills, and lots of timber and the large number of springs make it easy for the tent dwellers to live out of doors.

Facts for men who have favorite brands

After your favorite cigar leaves the factory, fresh, fragrant, clean, what happens to it? How is it cared for in a general jobber's warehouse? How long does it remain there? What does the average retailer know about caring for cigar stock? Even if he knew how, what equipment has he for preserving cigars in perfect condition? Every cigar we sell receives scientific protection against deterioration. Every shipment, fresh from its maker to a United depot, is examined by an expert. Imperfect stock is rejected immediately. Perfect cigars are kept perfect by a modern humidifier system. A system of stock control prevents over-stocking. BIG RAIL ORDERS MAY TIDE OVER STEEL INDUSTRY

Auto Purchasing Is Expected Soon.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Although the mid-week trade reviews do not join the officials of the United States Steel corporation in predicting speedy improvement, they do suggest that buying by the railroads and increased purchasing by the automobile plants a little later will tide over the steel industry until the general demand improves.

"Rail business stands out as the only new element in the situation," the Iron Age says. "The Van Sweringen lines have contracted for 58,000 tons of rails and there are indications that other railroads will place their annual requirements earlier than usual. The New York Central is expected to inquire for 200,000 tons, the Pennsylvania for 180,000 tons and the Reading for 35,000 tons.

"The only immediate effect of hastening rail buying would be to improve business sentiment, since the railroads are behind in their present specifications against present contracts. However, slight improvement in rail releases is reported from the south and from Chicago. The trade still voices its belief that improvement is near but, with concrete evidence of increasing activity lacking, makes no prophecy as to the extent of recovery.

Activity at Low Ebb.

"The extension of vacations among consuming plants and the announcement of fresh suspensions by companies that have operated through this month indicate that the stimulus from industrial resumptions may not be felt until the middle or end of August. Activity is at its lowest ebb among manufacturers of goods for the ultimate consumer. Ingot output for the country remains unchanged at 56 per cent for the fourth week."

A more optimistic view, however, is taken by Steel in its weekly review.

"Occasional unrelated high lights of demand vary the monotony of the slow market in steel and lend encouragement to expectations that with the end of July is passing the worst of the present lull," it says. "With the more important automobile manufacturers resuming next Monday, steel specifications to support a production rate comparable to late June are probable. Ship steel needs again loom importantly in the east. Plate mills at Chicago, already shipping heavily to pipe mills, have booked fair business in tanks for the southwest. Structural steel awards are good for the season."

So far this year, building construction has run about 17 per cent below the same period last year, according to data compiled by the F. W. Dodge corporation. New construction up to July 25 totaled $2,935,090,000, compared with $3,545,704,000 in the corresponding period in 1929, in the 37 states east of the Rocky mountains. Building this month has made an even less favorable comparison, with a total of $297,076,700 up to July 25, or an average of $14,146,500 per business day, compared with $25,093,700 per business day in July, last year. Contracts awarded for the week ended July 25 totaled $81,767,100.

Cites Government Influences.

"The uncertainty of business conditions during recent months has been magnified through the influence of government," the Central Trust Company of Illinois said in its mid-year review. "Important factors operating against the recovery of business have included tariff legislation and the navy limitation discussions. With both of these disturbing factors now in the background, there is more reason to expect a continuous, if somewhat unsteady, climb back to a position above the normal line.

"The year 1930 is unfortunate in being compelled to follow a year of outstanding business volume. The first half of 1930 is very slightly below 1928, which half year gave us considerably more than a normal volume of financial and commercial operations, and slightly below the average of the first half of the last five years, but well above the average of the half year periods from 1924 to 1928 inclusive."

Insull Soon Operating an Indiana Line

SAMUEL INSULL JR.

Insull operation of the old Union Traction company electric railways in central and southern Indiana — acquired recently by the Midland United company, an Insull enterprise — begins tomorrow. The lines will be known as the Indiana railroad. This system will be operated in coordination with the Indianapolis and Louisville line, operated by the Interstate Public Service company, the lines of the Indiana Service company radiating from Fort Wayne and the lines of the Northern Indiana Power company around Kokomo.

Central supervisory management of the various lines will permit of improved schedules and service. Through a connection at South Bend with the Chicago, South Shore and South Bend railroad, the Indiana railroad will provide Insull transportation between Chicago and Indianapolis.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Indiana railroad yesterday the following officers were elected: Samuel Insull, chairman of the company; Samuel Insull Jr., chairman of the executive committee; Robert M. Feustel, president; William A Sauer, vice president, and Henry Bucher, vice president and general manager.

DIVIDEND CUT ON REYNOLDS METALS MADE

New York, July 30.—(AP)—Directors of the Reynolds Metals company today declared a quarterly dividend of 50 cents, payable Sept. 1 to stock of record Aug. 15, placing the stock on a $2 annual basis, compared with $2.40 previously paid.

Directors of Agricultural Bond and Credit corporation voted a special participating dividend of 4 cents a share on the participating preferred stock, $10 par.

Subscriptions to A. T. & T. Stock Total Over 150,000

New York, July 30.—(AP)—Subscriptions to the 2,350,000 shares of American Telephone and Telegraph company stock, rights to subscribe to which expire Aug. 1, totaled more than 150,000 at the close of business July 29, with receipts approximately $90,000,000. Of those received 78 per cent were fully paid and 22 per cent in installments, compared with 83 per cent fully paid and 17 per cent in installments for the 1928 offering.

STEEL MERGER FOES LAY FOUNDATION FOR ATTACK ON AUDIT

Youngstown, O., July 30.—(AP)—The foundation for charges that a "grievous error" was made in auditor's reports on which the terms of the Bethlehem-Youngstown Steel merger were based was laid today by opponents of the merger.

Wm. N. McDonald, controller of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company, acknowledged under cross-examination in the suit to enjoin the merger that an item of $6,915,000 should have been added to Sheet and Tube's repair and maintenance charges to make them comparable with Bethlehem's similar charges. This item was carried by Sheet and Tube under operating costs in its annual statement.

McDonald testified that six steel companies exchange figures annually on manufacturing costs, the figures being compiled by F. A. Schick, Bethlehem controller. He did not name the companies. He admitted that in 1927 he wrote Schick that an adjustment was necessary in Sheet and Tube's maintenance and repair figure to make it comparable with Bethlehem's.

No similar adjustment of Sheet and Tube charges is shown in the report of Price, Waterhouse & Co., auditors, who compiled the figures on which the merger terms were based. This report is part of the evidence in the merger suit.

Santa Fe Displays Cooled Air System in Dining Car

A dining car in which a temperature of 75 degrees is maintained through a cooled air system was exhibited yesterday at the Dearborn street station by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé railway. This is believed to be the first car of its kind to be introduced on a western transcontinental railroad, and with several others of its type will be put in service on the Chief between Chicago and Los Angeles. Through demonstration the air in the car was lowered about ten degrees in seven minutes. If this innovation meets with popular approval it will be adopted for sleeping and club cars on the road's limited trains.

WHEAT PRICES SAG LOWER AS BURDEN GROWS

Futures Crash to Pre-War Levels.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Wheat, the well known staff of life, climbed a long period of weakening values yesterday with a fresh decline to levels not reached since just prior to the world war in July, 1914.

All breadstuff futures sold at new seasonal lows as foreign demand failed to put in an appearance, and harvest reports from the northwest and Canada indicated that millions of bushels will soon be added to the burden of large grain stocks already on hand. Closing prices were 2¾@2⅞c under Tuesday's finish.

July touched 83⅜c, with the close at 83½@83¾c, while September was 85⅝@85½c to 85⅝c, and December 90¾ to 90⅞@91c, showing net losses of 2⅜@2¾c for the day.

Winnipeg was a heavy seller of wheat futures here, and led the decline, finishing 4½@4⅝c lower, with the October there at the last only 4½c over Chicago September, against 6⅜c on Tuesday, and 8c recently. As the result of the narrowing difference there was immense closing of spreads between the two markets. Buying against bids was a factor in checking the decline, which reached the lowest level since 1913, seventeen years ago, but the undertone was distinctly weak at the last.

Export Demand Absent.

Foreign demand for North American cash wheat during the past week has been exceedingly small, and competition between Manitobas and hard winters was reported abroad by Broomhall. Sales in all positions for the day were 700,000 bu, mainly Manitobas.

The break in futures during the day was in the face of a department of agriculture estimate suggesting that the world's available supply of wheat for the 1930-'31 season was approximately the same as the previous year, exclusive of Russia, the crop being around 100,000,000 bu more than in 1929-'30, but this was offset by a decrease of an equal amount in the carryover. Broomhall, however, placed the yield of 23 countries, including Russia, at 4,080,000,000 bu, or 192,000,000 bu in excess of last season. Russia accounting for 40,000,000 bu of the gain. The latter estimate had some effect in Liverpool, which closed 1¾@2⅝d lower.

As a result of the low price level the department of agriculture predicts increasing consumption this season, with the probability that the carryover at the end of the present season will show a further reduction.

Corn Resists Pressure.

The corn market shows considerable resistance to selling pressure but with both July and September corn at a premium over July wheat, and the latter at a new low for 16 years there was considerable profit taking and also selling by longs who were going out of their lines and prices dropped 1⅞@2c from Tuesday's finish and

Discusses Outward and Inward Flow of Capital

BY SCRUTATOR.

One indication of how plentiful capital is in the United States may be taken from the fact that in the first half of the present year foreign securities publicly offered here reached a total of more than 800 million dollars, of which it is estimated 660 millions actually represented a taking out of American capital. The rest was figured as representing refunding to Americans.

The flotations were greater than foreigners made in the entire year 1929 and at a ratio higher than that of the record year for foreign financing, 1927. Largest of the loans was that of more than ninety-eight millions to the German government and second was the thirty millions that will be used by the Brazilian state of Sao Paulo to get rid of its accumulated stocks of coffee.

As usual, a larger amount of the new capital went to Latin-America than to any other grand division. Countries under that heading took a net of nearly 140 millions after refunding operations, as against Europe's 126 millions and Canada's eighty-four. Investments of residents of the United States in the countries to the south were estimated at more than five and a half billions last year.

Uncle Sam's Equipment.

From this outward flow of capital from American financial markets, which was at the average rate of more than a billion a year for the last five years, it might be assumed that Uncle Sam has the equipment at least to be the Uncle Shylock that unfriendly Europeans sometimes represent him. In fact, the business of investment among the outlanders is not wholly one sided. Dr. Julius Klein of the department of commerce has stated that if we have fifteen billions or so invested abroad, foreigners have half that much invested here.

If there is American penetration into the industrial affairs of Europeans, there is a similar movement of European capitalists into American business. Dr. Klein stated that twenty of twenty-three corporations manufacturing rayon in America are branches of overseas interests. A foreign owned oil company is a stern competitor of the Standard group and German controlled factories have a big share in the chemical trade.

It is no secret that before the war the United States was the world's greatest debtor nation. Yet it owed foreigners only about two-thirds what it owes them now. In 1928 and 1929 nearly 900 millions net was poured into the United States from abroad.

No Bars to Capital.

There is something anomalous in the differences that appear to hold in the public mind concerning foreign trade and foreign investment. All over the tariffs are being established to the detriment of trade, while no obstacles are being placed against exportations of capital. There is no talk to the effect that capital will have to depend on the domestic markets for its supply of securities.

New lands can and will pay high prices for development capital. Yet they profit more than the lenders. Who can evaluate the worth of the European money that made possible the early American railroads or of the hundred millions that Brazil is taking from world finance to handle the distressed coffee? The pretty part, from the investing nation's standpoint, is that when the borrower builds himself up he is a better customer and sometimes become a lender himself.

Post-war Europe would have been a sadder place than it was except for its ability to borrow from a growp up United States that had been aided with foreign capital in its adolescence.

NEW HIGH SPEED TICKERS BEING INSTALLED HERE

Investors in the future will be able to keep in closer touch with the New York stock exchange as a result of new high speed tickers which the Western Union Telegraph company is now installing in Chicago brokerage offices. The new tickers will have a capacity of 500 characters a minute—about double the capacity of the present machines—and they will enable brokers here to get New York quotations at the same instant they receive them in their Gotham offices. Thus instead of being from twenty to forty minutes behind the market Chicagoans will be able to keep even with it. The expenditure for the installation of the tickers, additional wiring, etc., will amount to $4,500,000.

New York, July 30.—The stock market was a pushover to bear raiders today, and went tumbling backward at the first attack. A second shove later in the afternoon found virtually every issue greased for the slide and gaining momentum on the down side. Trading was more active than it has been in several days, and at the close 2 to 8 point losses predominated throughout the list.

The break was not unexpected. A weak market, the end of the month financial preparations, and a general desire to wait and see what is going to happen contributed to the decline. Once started downward there was little fight in the list, and as the bears kept prodding here and there issues everywhere folded up like camp chairs and followed the line of least resistance.

Steel Gives Ground.

The so-called market leaders were as weak or weaker than the market as a whole. United States Steel opened bravely enough on early optimism over the quarterly report, but soon gave ground at the first punch. At the close Steel was off 3⅛ points. American Telephone and Telegraph was depressed by the near approach of the payment date for new stock and finished the day off 5 points. United States Industrial Alcohol had slumped 8¼ points by the final gong. General Motors shed 2⅜ points, American Can

YOUR SHARE IN 90 BILLIONS A YEAR

ACCORDING to official estimates, the national income of the United States amounts to almost ninety billions a year. America is creating wealth faster than it has ever been created before, and the onward sweep of American growth is the greatest material force that ever appeared upon the earth. How can you make this great onward sweep of progress work for you?

If a method could be devised by which you could invest YOUR money so that the nation's growth would automatically make your dollars grow with it—you would have one of the surest ways to build a fortune.

Do you know that a plan has been worked out, designed to approach as nearly as possible such automatic participation in the nation's growth? The plan is known as Standard American Trust Shares—a fixed trust of the capital accumulation type. It consists of a careful, scientific selection of the common stocks of twenty-five dominant corporations.

If you are interested in this unique plan of investment, fill out the coupon below—mail it today—and complete information will be sent to you.

The purchaser of Standard American Trust Shares buys an interest in the following common stocks:

First fiscal report.. The Public Utility Holding Corporation of America

The first fiscal report of The Public Utility Holding Corporation of America, covering the eight and one-half months since its organization in September, 1929, is now available and will be sent upon request.

The report shows that the Corporation has no funded debt, no bank loans and no preferred stocks; with its subsidiary, South American Railways Company, it has assets of over $81,000,000.

Cash income for the eight and one-half months' period covered by the report was equivalent to 87½¢ per share on the average number of shares outstanding (3,359,604) during that period. If dividends received in stock were included as income, the per share earnings as above would be $1.05 per share. This is at the annual rate of approximately $1.24 per share and $1.48 per share respectively.

The report gives brief information about recent acquisitions of large holdings in various foreign utility situations.

Write or telephone for a copy of the report for the fiscal period ended May 31, 1930.

DEPRESSION IN RADIO LINE HITS GRIGSBY-GRUNOW

Earnings Sag Sharply in Fiscal Year.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Effects of the keen competition in the radio field and the general business depression are reflected in the results reported by the Grigsby-Grunow company for its fiscal year which ended May 31, last. The report of B. J. Grigsby, chairman of the board, which was issued last night, shows net earnings for the twelve month period of $1,745,648, which compares with $5,015,000 in the preceding fiscal year.

The earnings for the 1930 fiscal year are equivalent to 87 cents a share on the 1,997,897 shares of common stock outstanding, which compares with $2.92 on the 1,748,160 shares outstanding in the 1929 period.

Cites Majestic Investment.

The report shows that a net surplus charge of $1,593,192 was made at the close of the year, which partially covered rebates to distributors and manufacturing and development costs.

The rebates and development costs, which totaled $5,177,734, were partially offset, the report says, by the acquisition of 125,000 shares of Majestic Household Utilities corporation stock, which is valued on the books at $3,125,000. At the current market price of $36 a share the Majestic investment is worth $4,500,000.

The balance sheet shows surplus at the close of the year of $2,360,022, as against $4,517,634 at the end of the previous year. Current assets amounted to $9,250,000 and current liabilities $3,501,645, as compared with $11,573,177 and $2,775,001 respectively at the close of the preceding year. The current assets on May 31 included cash of $936,850 and notes and accounts receivable of $3,606,470.

Inventories were slashed from $7,000,855 at the end of the 1929 period to $4,591,079 at the close of the last year. Inventories on May 31 consisted largely of raw materials and work in process, according to the report. In addition to the Majestic stock the balance sheet shows other investments of $839,315, as compared with $87,500 in the previous year.

Values Properties.

Plant and properties are listed at $9,233,415, against $3,611,088 in 1929, and "good will" is carried at $1. Common stock liability at the close of the year was $17,783,672, as compared with $8,793,140 at the close of the previous year.

The balance sheet of the Majestic Household Utilities corporation, Grigsby-Grunow affiliate, which was issued with the report, shows cash in banks of $7,495,768, compared with liabilities of $538,567. The company, which was formed last April to manufacture refrigerators, will begin production the first week in August, it was stated.

Shares of both the Grigsby and Majestic companies were soft on the Chicago exchange yesterday in sympathy with the general trend of the market. Majestic was off a point to 35 and Grigsby was down a fraction to 14⅛.

Market Declines.

The market as a whole was lower along with stock prices in New York and commodity prices on the Chicago Board of Trade. Losses among the lower priced stocks were largely fractional. Reverses of a point or so were sustained by Insull Utility, Merchants and Manufacturers, U. S. Radio, and Electric Household.

The thin market in some of the higher priced utility shares resulted in steeper losses. Public Service no par tumbled 15 points and Commonwealth Edison finished off 6 points. North American Light eased 2 points.

SALESMEN

THE National Air Race Corporation will require a number of salesmen during August. The work is of a dignified character and remuneration is sufficient to interest men of high calibre.

Call at 2 p. m. Thursday or Friday, Room 222, Hotel Sherman. Ask for Mr. Dederich.

LEASE CHATEAU PLAYHOUSE FOR TWENTY YEARS

Essaness Theaters Take Over Cinema.

BY AL CHASE.

One of the north side's best known playhouses, the Chateau theater, at 3810 Broadway, between Sheridan road and Grace street, was leased yesterday from Albert Fuchs, who erected it years ago, by the Lake Amusement Co., Inc., for a twenty year term. The lessee is controlled by the Essaness Theaters corporation, operators of sixteen cinemas throughout Chicago. Mark Levy & Brother were the only brokers in yesterday's transaction.

The twenty year lease calls for a percentage of the gross receipts with a mimimum guaranteed rental varying during the several year periods and a percentage rental based on the gross box office receipts. The rental estimated for the term is approximately $480,000 or an average of $24,000 per annum.

House to Be Rebuilt.

Contracts entailing a reported expenditure of more than $100,000 are now being let, it is stated, and it is expected to have a formal opening next fall. Artists, technicians and sound engineers will transform the Chateau into a pretentious talkie house. The entire auditorium is to be rebuilt from lobby to screen, with new decorations and seats, improved lighting and other alterations. An enormous vertical sign will be placed in front of the theater.

The Essaness Theaters corporation operate the following playhouses: Biograph, Center, Devon, Keystone, Little, Madison Square, Oak Park, Pershing, Broadway, Crawford, Embassy, Lakeside, Logan, Michigan, Pantheon and West End. Carlton E. Fox and Julius E. Beach were attorneys for Mr Fuchs. Hall, Spitz & Rooks represented the lessees.

Hospital Unit Started.

Work has been started on a $110,000 one story laundry and heating plant at 2349-63 Lincoln avenue for the Children's Memorial hospital, designed by Puckey & Jenkins. The building will be of fireproof construction. The site 66x123. The hospital group occupies a four acre tract fronting on Fullerton avenue, Orchard street and Lincoln avenue.

Contract awards for new construction of all types in Chicago during the week ended July 25 aggregated $2,373,200, bringing the July total to date to $8,408,700, according to the F. W. Dodge corporation. Thus far in July contracts were at the rate of $400,400 per business day compared with a daily rate of $891,300 for July, 1929.

Messinger's Merchant Lunch Rooms have renewed their lease at 1232 Milwaukee avenue for a ten year term at a reported $12,000 annually.

NET OF $668,329 IS REVEALED BY CHILDS COMPANY

Childs company and subsidiaries report for the first six months of this year net income of $668,329 after all charges, equal after preferred dividends to $1.36 a share on 362,357 no par shares of common stock, against $420,343 or 67 cents a share on 362,191 shares in the first half of 1929.

June quarter net income was $291,096, equal to 56 cents a share on 362,357 common shares, against $377,232, or 80 cents a share on 362,334 shares in the preceding quarter and $260,326 or 47 cents a share on 362,191 shares in the June quarter last year.

Real Silk Hosiery mills reports for the six months ended June 30, profit of $600,619 after depreciation and other charges but before federal tax. This figure exceeds the earnings for any corresponding period since 1925 with the exception of the six months ending June 30, 1929, when earnings were $1,641,000 after all charges except federal tax.

Case on Fraternal Order Insurance Rates Changed

Geneva, Ill., July 30.—(AP)—At the request of complainants the suit seeking a writ restraining officials of the Modern Woodmen of America, a fraternal order, from raising insurance rates was transferred today to the court of City Judge Frank Shopen at Elgin. The case originally was scheduled in the court of Circuit Judge Newhall of this city.

WHEAT PRICES SAG LOWER AS BURDEN GROWS

Futures Sell Down to "Pre-War" Levels.

Bullish Crop Report.

No rain of consequence was received over night and the forecast was for generally fair. The government weekly weather and crop report was construed as decidedly bullish, showing heavy damage in many sections, and also called attention to the fact that the drought had not been broken, even though temperatures were considerably lower than last week.

March oats sold at a new low on the crop, and other deliveries within a fraction of the inside figures due to scattered liquidation which uncovered stop loss orders. The close was at the bottom, with net losses of 1⅛@2¼c, with July, 32⅞c; September, 35c, and December, 38⅜@38⅝c, while March finished at 40⅝c. Hedging sales by houses with northwestern connections had some effect.

Rye broke sharply in sympathy, with stop loss orders helping along the decline. July was 50¼c and September 52⅝c at the last.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Arrivals of wheat at terminal markets are now materially less than a year ago, as the first rush of the new grain came unusually early this season. Interior Kansas and Oklahoma markets are receiving much less grain than a week ago, and it is generally expected that a further reduction in arrivals will be seen shortly. Prices have declined to a point where producers generally are reluctant to sell unless absolutely forced to do so. Baltimore wired that garlicky cash wheat there sold at 23c per bu discount under cash corn.

As a result of the disparity between wheat and corn prices increased feeding of wheat to livestock is reported from a wide area. At the time Liverpool October closed yesterday it showed around 16c over Chicago September, the greatest difference in years.

Cash Wheat Firm.

Cash wheat in the Chicago sample market was decidedly firm, with the basis steady to ¼c higher. No. 1 red or hard winter sold at 1@1⅛c under and No. 2 grades at 1½@2c under the September, while No. 1 northern was 1@2c under and No. 2 northern 2@3c under the future.

Country offerings of corn were limited, and only 23,000 bu were reported as having been booked to arrive, and a like amount was delivered on July contracts. The spot basis advanced ¼@½c with No. 2 mixed ¾@1c over; yellow, 1@2c over, and white, 3¼@3½c over September, with No. 3 mixed ¼@½c over; yellow, ½@1c over, and white, 2¾@3c over September. Shipping sales aggregated 115,000 bu.

GETS RAILROAD CONTRACT.

The Vang Construction company of Cumberland, Md., has been awarded a contract by the Pittsburgh and West Virginia railway to build the final link in the Cochran's mill to Connellsville line, near Scottdale, Pa., to a junction with the Western Maryland in Connellsville.

RECEIVERSHIP BILLS ARE FILED AGAINST 3 EASTERN UTILITIES

Wilmington, Del., July 30.—(AP)—Receivership bills were filed today by the Eastern States Public corporation against the Atlantic Public Utilities, Inc., the Atlantic Public Service Associates, Inc., and the North American Water Works and Electric corporation.

The complainant alleged the three defendant corporations are insolvent and unable to meet their debts. The defendant corporations consented to the appointment of receivers.

The Atlantic Public Utilities, Inc., controls more than ninety public utilities in twelve states; the Atlantic Public Service Associates, Inc., operates 23 subsidiaries in eight states, and the North American Water Works and Electric corporation operates three utilities in nine states.

The three corporations control in all more than 120 subsidiaries with a value of $60,000,000. They supply water, gas, and electricity to several hundred communities.

The complainant corporation owns 152,000 shares of class B stock in the Atlantic Public Utilities, Inc., and is a creditor of the other two defendant corporations.

William L. Moody III. of Houston, Tex., filed a receivership bill in federal court today against the Superior Oil corporation, which has oil and gas properties in Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas.

Moody did not allege insolvency, stating assets exceed liabilities, but he charged gross mismanagement, negligence, and extravagant expenditures on the part of the company in drilling wells. He alleged unless the company pays bills and notes amounting to 4 million dollars he will be held responsible for the debts. He also alleged creditors and stockholders of the corporation were becoming restless and threatening suits and that if suits were filed irreparable loss would result to the company.

Chancellor J. O. Wolcott today refused to appoint a receiver for the Allerton corporation, a holding company operating Allerton houses in New York, Cleveland, and other cities. The court held the evidence submitted by several stockholders was insufficient to sustain allegations of insolvency and mismanagement.

June Gross of Illinois P. & L. Totals $2,931,675

Illinois Power and Light corporation and subsidiaries show June gross of $2,931,675, compared with $2,986,302 in June, 1929, and net after expenses, taxes, prior charges of subsidiaries, etc., but before depreciation and interest, was $1,307,437, contrasted with $1,327,419. For the twelve months ended June 30 gross was $37,553,774, compared with $36,552,930 in the last preceding year, and net income, after interest, depreciation, taxes, prior charges of subsidiaries, etc., was $7,605,057, against $6,423,055.

FLOUR BUYERS TIMID

Low prices for wheat have not induced flour buyers to take hold, as many had previously contracted ahead. Southwestern millers report sales at about capacity, according to the Northwestern Miller. In the northwest buyers of spring wheat flour have not taken hold. Prices are the lowest of the season.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, July 30.—(AP)—Cottonseed oil was fairly active and, after being barely steady most of the day, closed easy, in sympathy with cotton, stocks, and grains, ignoring the firmness in lard. Old contracts closed unchanged to 15 points lower and new 5 points lower to 5 net higher. Sales were 3,200 brls, including 2,300 of old and 900 of new contracts. NEW YORK, July 30.—(AP)—RUBBER—Futures closed steady; September, 10.70c; December, 11.00c; March, 11.40c. New contracts: September, 10.75c; December, 11.12c; March, 11.55c. Spot smoked ribbed, 10⅝c.

CANADIAN PULP AND PAPER.

MONTREAL, Que., July 30.—For the first six months of the current year the exports of pulp and paper were valued at $91,508,567, as compared with a total of $97,199,980 in the first half of 1929, according to the Canadian Pulp and Paper association. Wood pulp exports for the six months were valued at $21,323,710 and exports of paper at $70,184,857, as compared with $21,470,505 and $75,729,475 respectively for the first half of 1929.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Wheat prices reached the lowest in 16 years. At the extreme low yesterday July wheat was off 60c, September 46⅛c and December 33c from the season's high. Despite the low prices traders were as bearish at the close as they were bullish recently, with all futures well above 90c. The fact that cash premiums were stronger, due to lighter country offerings, was no help to futures. The situation in all was so bearish that conservative traders expressed a belief that short sales were dangerous at around these levels. One of the leading bears advised short covering because huge profits had been made and said that sometimes reactions come when least expected.

There has been no trading in May eat so far this season but Fred lmann says that it will sell at a rying charge over December. "On basis of yesterday's prices it uld be about $1.00 a bushel," he s, "which does not suggest a level cheap enough to cause investnt buying, taking all factors into koning."

COMPARATIVE PRICES.

HOGS—Bulk of sales yesterday	$ 7.90@ 9.65
One month ago	8.40@ 9.35
One year ago	10.00@11.90
Top yesterday, $9.85; average, $8.75.
CATTLE—Bulk of sales yesterday	8.50@10.25
One month ago	9.50@11.50
One year ago	13.25@15.00
SHEEP—Western range lambs, yesterday	$ 6.25@ 9.00
One month ago	9.25@11.00
One year ago	12.75@13.50

Top yesterday, $9.00; average, $8.30.
Receipts at Chicago today: 6,000 cattle, 20,000 hogs, and 9,000 sheep.

Another decrease in hog receipts yesterday resulted in an erratic market when demand fell short of early expectations. Best grades cleared at the early advance of 10@25c, while others closed slow and barely steady. Packing grades were largely in line with the general selling the previous day.

The extreme top advanced to $9.85, within 15c of the highest point of the month, while the general average showed only 5c advance at $8.75. Range of prices was close to the widest point of the month. Outsiders bought only 2,000. About 3,000 were estimated left at the close.

October Hogs Bring $9.

Trading in October contracts opened on the hog futures market yesterday and first sales of light and mediums were made at $9. September mediums at $9.40 were highest of the day, while December light stood lowest at $8.25. Feeding lambs for August and September delivery were bid $6.25@6.50, black face medium wool mountain lambs averaging 57@65 lbs, at the outside figure.

Continued small supplies allowed salesmen to force cattle quotations up 25@50c more yesterday. Prime 1,430 lb steers reached the $11 line, the highest in two weeks. Cattle averaging 1,369@1,371 lbs sold at $10.85 and $10.50 obtained 928 lb yearlings. Bulk of cattle sold at $8.50@10.25, against $7.85@9.65 Monday.

Butcher stock shared in the recovery, baby beef heifers averaging 687 lbs selling at $9.75. Calves were mostly steady. Stockers and feeders remained quiet.

Cattle receipts at 20 markets during the first three days of the week show a decrease of 20 per cent compared with a week ago and are smallest in a number of years.

Lambs Sell Steady.

Little change was noted in the lamb market yesterday, the supply going at steady prices under severe "sorts." Ewe and wether native lambs brought $8.75, with one lot "hand picked" by city butchers at $9. Buck lambs were rejected from load lots and sold at $7.50@7.75, while most culls brought $5.00@5.50.

"Tops" from 8,000 range lambs from Montana, Oregon, Idaho, and Washington sold at $8.60@9.00. The oversupply of feeding lambs met outlet at $5.00@6.65. Aged sheep were scarce, but slumped mostly 25c. Yearlings sold steady.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 6,000 cattle, 20,000 hogs, and 9,000 sheep, against 6,249 cattle, 19,328 hogs and 10,599 sheep on the previous Thursday, and 5,121 cattle, 14,415 hogs, and 16,758 sheep a year ago.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, July 30.—(AP)—Under continued liberal offerings raw sugar lost another 1-32c today with prices declining to 3.17c for spots, duty paid. The decline in spots led to further liquidation in raw futures, with prices declining to new low records for all time, with the September position selling at 1.11c. Approximate sales, 58,400 tons. Prices follow:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. close.
September	1.13	1.13	1.11	1.12	1.14
December	1.22	1.22	1.20	1.21	1.23
January	1.25	1.25	1.23	1.23	1.26
March	1.32	1.32	1.29	1.31	1.33
May	1.39	1.40	1.37	1.38	1.40
July	1.47	1.48	1.44	1.46	1.48

Refined sugar prices were listed at 4.70c for fine granulated by all refiners.

News and Gossip of Stock Marts

G. M. C. Bullish Talk.

A great deal of bullish talk has been heard in the financial district concerning General Motors. The yield of about 6.3 per cent is being stressed as unusual for such a well managed and important concern. So is the fact that it started the second half of 1930 in a stronger cash position than it was a year previous. Its earnings for the first six months made a better comparison with those of a year ago than did those of United States Steel, Westinghouse, and many other more important industrial concerns, even though it had an unusually high mark to shoot at.

Associated Apparel.

Associated Apparel seems to be doing much better than most companies in its line. Earnings for the first half of the year were equal to $3.05 a share on the common stock. Those who follow its affairs closely believe that net for the full final year will run between $6.50 and $7 a share for the stock. This would compare with $5.90 a share earned last year. The full year's dividends have already been declared, and if results are as good as are anticipated the $4 rate should be safe for next year also.

Remains in Position.

Though Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line has lost some of the popularity it held several months ago the stock remains in position to respond easily to any new buying. Latest advices indicate that the corporation has purchased a half interest in 30,000 acres of natural gas lands in what is known as the Huguton field in southwestern Kansas. This acquisition includes two producing wells.

Long Pull Buying.

CHICAGO'S REAL ESTATE OPPORTUNITIES ARE FOUND

TODAY

CHICAGO'S GREATEST REAL ESTATE MARKET

One hundred years ago there was no Chicago. A trading post on Lake Michigan was the germ of the coming city. The post grew. Its expansion gathered momentum. Hundreds, then thousands flocked to the new city, where foresighted men saw vast money-making opportunities in Chicago property.

Today, opportunity still exists. Chicago's momentum continues to draw 67,000 new inhabitants per year, to attract new ventures, to raise bolder monuments to the city's industry. Real estate, offered daily in Tribune Want Ads, steadily becomes a more desirable field of investment. See some of the opportunities today in the Tribune Want Ad section. Here you will find the most attractive values.
